Take-Off Brings Near-Crash

Paris Flyer Forces Plane by Uncanny Skill Into Rising for Dash

Other Aspirants for Honor on Journey Wish Him Luck at Start

FATES SMILE ON HIM

It might not have been the safest kind of flying, perhaps it was only a daring gesture, but it was magnificent. It was youth refusing to admit obstacles, breaking down barriers, and it brought him luck. For even as Lindbergh prepared his plane, the fog that had choked his path to Newfoundland rolled back, and all the way from New York to Europe stretched a clear path of fair weather, with gentle favoring winds. Even the sun came out as he started, and it seemed that the fates who deal with brave men's lives were smiling at the youth who had defied them.

When Lindberg made his decision to start just before midnight on Thursday, it seemed the height of folly. Heavy fog settled over Roosevelt Field under inky black skies which dripped slow drops of rain. It was dismal and threatening. But the young pilot who has guided his temerity with a keen and thoughtful mind, saw in the late weather reports the possibility that the skies might clear to the north. All he wanted was one look at Newfoundland before he left the land for his long, weary flight across the sea which had already claimed Nungesser and Coli.

TRIES TO GET SLEEP

The huge hangar in which his plane was housed was closed to everyone except the mechanics who went over the plane with zealous care, and partly filled the huge gasoline tank. Lindbergh, after a parting word with them, went to the Garden City Hotel at midnight, for a brief moment of sleep. He lay down with orders that he be called at 2:15 in the morning, but before 2 o'clock he was downstairs.

While he had been resting, later weather reports indicated that the fog was lifting all along the coast, although it was depressingly wet at the field. The clouds had opened and poured down a short deluge which left puddles in which shone the glare of many lights. Through a small opening in the hangar door the silvery nose of Lindberg's plane gleamed through the glistening rain drops.

Hundreds of people had gathered at midnight, but the rain drove many of them away. There were still about 500 standing patiently, disdaining soaking feet and drenched clothing in the hope that they might see one of the great dramas of the air. They were rewarded by an early scene which they will not soon forget.

Soon after Lindbergh arrived at the field the rain stopped for a time, and he ordered the plane taken out. In front of the hangar policemen had cleared a wide space, with lines stretching far out into the darkness. Behind these lines faces shown pale in the light of flares. The people stood silently, waiting.

RAIN STILL KEEPS UP

A truck was backed up in front of the building and the plane was turned around and its tail lifted to the truck and fastened with ropes. It was done with great care, so that nothing might be injured or strained on the long ride across the fields to the runway.

Only two or three cars were permitted to follow it and none of the spectators was allowed to pass through the lines and join the strange procession through the night. It was then about 5 o'clock, and at intervals the rain came down again. It seemed impossible that Lindbergh could get off. There was not a sign of clearing.

A few moments later the plane was resting at the head of the runway. It was pointed in the opposite direction to that in which Commander Byrd will take off, and in which Ponck took off last year in the Sikorsky plane, which crashed and burned two men to death. It was on the edge of a slope which dropped down about twenty feet to the lower level of Curtiss Field. Down that the Sikorsky rolled, crashing its landing gear and turning over to become a pyre of flame. Lindbergh did not look at it, but in the center of a still blackened area stood a bent propeller, a tragic monument to those who last used the runway on a trans-Atlantic flight.

COME TO GREET HIM

The plane was turned about facing down the runway to the east, toward Paris. There was only a slight cross-wind and Lindbergh did not think it would bother him. He had not followed the plane across the field, but had waited and come later in a large closed car. He was in his golf stockings, riding breeches and tight woolen sweater over a shirt which he has worn since he arrived here.

As Lindbergh stood there men came up to him and greeted him. One of the first to arrive was Commander Richard E. Byrd, whose huge Fokker is being prepared for the same flight. He clasped Lindbergh's hand and slapped him on the back.

"Good luck to you, old man," said the aviator who had flown over the North Pole. "I'll see you in Paris."

Bert Acosta, Byrd's pilot, and Lieut. C. O. Noville, who also will go on the America, also wished Lindbergh good luck. Byrd asked Lindbergh if he objected to Byrd's taking off in a trial flight on the runway while the young pilot's plane was being prepared. So the large three-motored plane went aloft and circled over the field for some time, landing just before Lindbergh got ready to start.

Clarence Chamberlin, pilot of the Bellanca monoplane, which was waiting with tanks filled and equipment aboard, also came over and greeted Lindbergh.

At last the plane was ready and the motor was turned over. Lindbergh had donned his fur-lined flying suit. He seemed the most unperturbed man on the field.

Lindbergh climbed into the pilot's seat and warmed the motor.

"Are you only taking five sandwiches?" asked someone who had been told of Lindbergh's meager rations, although he carried seven days' emergency army fare.

"Yes," smiled Lindbergh, "that's enough. If I get to Paris I won't need any more, and if I don't get to Paris I won't need any more, either."

He had two canteens full of water hanging beside him, having refused a vacuum bottle of coffee and that and the sandwiches were his only provisions.

Lindbergh settled back in his seat and beckoned to Edward J. Mulligan, field engineer for the Wright Company which made his motor, the same 200-horsepower motor used by Byrd and the Bellanca. Incidentally, his load today, 5200 pounds, was the heaviest ever lifted by a 200-horsepower engine.

ENGINE SOUNDS GOOD

"How is it?" asked the young pilot of Mulligan.

"She sounds good to me," replied the mechanic.

"Well, then I might as well go," said the cool-eyed youngster.

He turned to the opposite window and smiled at some one he recognized. Then turned to the other side and waved his hand at a friend.

"So long," he said, as if he were starting off on an automobile trip.

The blocks were pulled from beneath the wheels, the motor roared, and the heavy plane lumbered ahead.

It moved with disheartening slowness. The field was wet and the wheels sank in deeply. A harder stretch was reached and the plane suddenly moved ahead and began to speed. And then a soft spot was struck and the speed dropped again.

Still the motor roared and he lurched onward, hitting more rough spots, and still the plane did not get up flying speed. He had passed the point of safety, the point where he could stop his motor and try over. Now he must either lift the plane or pile up in a gulley at the end of the runway which he was approaching more and more rapidly.

DEATH CLOSE BY

The plane left the ground, sailed a little further and came down. It did not have flying speed yet, and the end of the runway was just ahead of him. Commander Byrd, standing in front of his huge machine, Bert Acosta in the cockpit, others near the end of the runway, looked on in fearful fascination.

The boy had to make it or die.

It did not seem possible that he could do so, and then at the last moment the plane began to go up. Those on the field felt as if Lindbergh with all his giant courage were lifting it from the ground, making it take the air. Defeat and death stared him in the face and he gazed at it unafraid, intent only on the task he had set himself.

The wheels of the plane cleared by a bare ten feet a tractor which lay directly in his path. A gully was ahead into which he might have plunged but which he left safely below. Over the telephone lines he passed with a scant twenty feet to spare.

And then, very gradually, but surely, the wide silver wings lifted, toward the skyline at the tree tops over it, and a space of pale sky showed between them and the green line beneath.

A soft glow came above the clouds, the first of the sun breaking through. Far off above the trees the silver wing dipped and was gone.

CAPITAL WATCHES REPORTS WITH INTEREST

WASHINGTON, May 20. (AP)—On every hand official Washington today expressed admiration for the daring attempt of Charles A. Lindbergh to fly across the Atlantic alone and the hope that he will succeed in his adventure.

At the White House it was said that President Coolidge was watching with interest the flight and had best wishes for Lindbergh's success.

At the Navy Department, where every one was pulling for the lanky Missourian, even though he got the jump on Commander Byrd, "The Navy's Own;" at the Postoffice Department where it was recalled with pride that Lindbergh had a great record as an air-mail pilot; at the headquarters of the Shipping Board which had instructed its ships on the North Atlantic traffic lane to be on the look-out for the flyer, and among government aviators, interest was intense.

Praise for Lindbergh, apparently was due chiefly to his pluck in attempting, alone, the "great circle" course across the sea without any great lay-out of navigation instruments.

An official statement issued at the Navy Department declared that he is "making new history in aerial navigation as well as in other fields."

The statement, prepared by Lieut. Logan C. Ramsey and E. H. Kincaid, navy hydrographers, said that barring accidents and providing his navigation continued to be as excellent, Lindbergh should arrive at his destination at about 8:30 p.m., Paris time, tomorrow, or about 3:30 p.m., American eastern standard time, making the flight from New York in between thirty-two and thirty-three hours.

Pinedo Lands in Trepassey, Newfoundland

TREPASSEY (N. F.) May 20. (AP)—The Italian aviator, Commander Francesco De Pinedo, completing the itinerary of his four-continent flight which has carried him through Europe, Africa and the Americas, landed here at 6:03 p.m. Atlantic daylight time, after a flight from Shippegan Island, N. B.

While traversing the south coast of Newfoundland he kept a close lookout for traces of the plane White Bird, in which Capts. Charles Nungesser and Francois Coli, French aces, attempted to make a nonstop flight from Paris to New York. He saw no sign of the missing plane, however.

distance from there across the mouth of the Channel to the coast of France, which again is some distance from Paris. So there are several emergency landing places there if they should be needed.

CHANCE OF DISASTER

"The only great gap where the only place to come down would be in the water and with only an outside chance of landing near a ship, is the water hop of 1900 miles between Newfoundland and Ireland. But as the things which go wrong in a plane generally develop, if they appear at all, in the first twelve hours of flight, the chances are that if I reach the coast of Newfoundland I will be able to keep on to Ireland."

Lindbergh would not be able to use a sextant, even if he knew how to, as his cockpit is entirely enclosed in the fuselage and he would not be able to get sights unless the sun happened to be on one side of him. He cannot look forward at all, or backward, and there is no way he can stick his head out of the top of the fuselage. But he is entirely confident that his dead-reckoning will carry him through.

VETERAN TELEGRAPHER DIES

CLIFTON (Ariz.) May 20. (AP)—George Williams, 83 years of age, pioneer prospector of Arizona and New Mexico, and said to have been one of the first press telegraphers in the country, died in the Clifton Hospital last night from exposure and old age. He was found the 3rd inst., alone and unconscious in his cabin six miles up the San Francisco River from here, and taken to the hospital.

refused to answer certain questions propounded by a committee of the Senate," the oil magnate said. "The sentence of the court was foreordained. As a citizen I should have liked it better if it had been shown to be more openly of the Senate and less of the court, but it was a clever mixture.

"It should be known that I appeared six times before the Senate committee and fully answered all questions and produced all private books and papers asked of me?" he continued. "It was only when the matter had been referred to the court by an act of Congress that I refused to answer.

"I am sentenced as an experiment to justify political expediency. In my sentence are involved not merely my personal rights but the rights of every decent, high-minded, liberty-loving citizen who cherishes principles above self-interest.

"In my opinion, the sentence was political rather than judicial. It must be reviewed finally under the independent judicial principles."

SANTA BARBARAN IN GRAPEVINE CRASH

BAKERSFIELD, May 20.—James Dinwiddie of Santa Barbara is confined at Emergency Hospital, seriously injured and in a semiconscious condition, as the result of a terrific head-on collision this morning between his car and a heavy truck. The accident occurred about 5:30 a.m., one mile north of Grapevine Station on the Los Angeles highway south of Bakersfield. Dinwiddie was en route south in a roadster and P. D. McGuire, driver of the truck, was headed toward Bakersfield. His truck was loaded with melons, according to the hospital report.

Dinwiddie was hurled from his machine by the force of the impact and was knocked unconscious. At Emergency Hospital it was reported he is suffering from a deep scalp wound, his nose and one lip were badly cut, and his body was painfully bruised.

NEW MURDER JURY SOUGHT

SAN FRANCISCO, May 20. (Exclusive)—Efforts to obtain the permanent jury for the second trial of Gus Madsen and George Pesce resulted today in the exercise of one prosecution and six defense challenges. The two are charged with the carpenters' strike murder of MacIvan Campbell. A jury in their first trial disagreed.

Map of Lindbergh's Route and Other Epochal Air Voyages

Conquest of Air in Charted Form

The drawing above, prepared by Charles H. Owens, Times staff artist, gives a complete record of aviation's conquest of the earth. Included, besides the designated course over which Capt. Lindbergh is winging his way to Paris, are the following famous undertakings:

May, 1919—Commander A. C. Read, U.S.N., flew from U.S.A. via Trepassey, Newfoundland and the Azores, to Spain in the NC4, which was the first official flight across the Atlantic, May 16-27, 2150 miles.

May, 1919—Harry Hawker and Lieutenant-Commander McKenzie Grieve flew in an English plane from Newfoundland to a point 850 miles west of Ireland where motor failure brought them down. Picked up by sailing vessel Mary and landed ten days after being given up for lost.

June, 1919—Capt. Sir. John Alcock and Lieut. Sir. A. W. Brown flew from Newfoundland to Ireland in 16h. 12m. in Vickers-Vimy British twin-engined plane for first non-stop trans-Atlantic flight, 1960 miles.

Round-the-world flyers, Eric Nelson and Lowell Smith crossed from East to West via Iceland, Labrador, etc.

June, 1919—British dirigible R-34 flew from Pulham, Eng., to Mineola, L. I., without a stop and a few days later made the return trip—the only round-trip ever made.

October, 1924—ZR3, now known as the Los Angeles, flew from Friedrichshafen, Germany, to Lakehurst, N. J., October 12-15, 5066 miles, 81h. 17m.

1926—Commander Richard E. Byrd flew from Spitzbergen over North Pole and back to Spitzbergen.

January-February, 1926—Commander Ramon Franco of Spain flew from Spain to Argentina via Canary Islands, 872 miles, Cape Verde Islands, 1100 miles; Fernando de Noronka Island (Brazil) 1432 miles; Pernambuco, Brazil, 279 miles. Total of 6230 miles in Dornier-Wahl, German seaplane.

1926—Italian dirigible Norge, commanded by Amundsen, flew from Rome to Teller, Alaska, via Spitzbergen and the North Pole. Total of 6820 miles, including one jump of 2700 over pole.

1927—Commander Marquis Francisco DePinedo, in Italian Savoia seaplane, flew from Italy to South America, across to West Coast, up to New Orleans, thence across United States to Roosevelt Lake, where his ship was accidentally burned up. Now about to fly back via North Atlantic.

1927—Capt. St. Roman (French) lost in attempt to cross from Dakar to South America.

ALIENS AID RELIEF FUND

Japanese and Chinese Associations Contribute Share; Total Stands at $298,000

Foreign residents and organizations of Los Angeles are helping swell the Mississippi Valley flood-relief fund with heavy contributions, making a total yesterday of $298,000, including The Times Fund of $152,720.40 and leaving about $52,000 to be raised before the volunteer quota of $350,000 is reached.

Members of the Japanese colony turned in $791.66, representing the activities of Seibi Kuga, Vice-Consul for Japan, the Japanese Association of Los Angeles, Central Japanese Association of Southern California, Japanese Chamber of Commerce and the Los Angeles Japanese-American. The Japanese envoy accompanied the donation with a message of sympathy from his people to the sufferers in the Mississippi Valley.

CHINESE AID

Lee Thing, secretary of the Chinese Consolidated Benevolent Association, Chinese Chamber of Commerce, collected $245 among the Chinese of the city for the fund. Mr. Thing said other Chinese organizations are active in raising funds for the relief.

Included in yesterday's receipts, according to D. C. MacWatters, chairman of the local chapter of the American Red Cross, was a check for $10,000, receipts from the general seat sale at the Hollywood Bowl benefit given recently. Prominent members of the motion-picture industry made up a special gift of $35,000 at the event.

Other large contributions received yesterday at Red Cross headquarters, 610 Transportation Building, included one from the Hollywood Citizen for $636.50. This makes a total of $1181.75 contributions received by that newspaper.

OTHER BENEFITS

Several organizations are planning benefits for the near future, one of the largest of which will be a rummage and "white elephant" sale to be conducted under the auspices of the Church Women of Los Angeles. The dates will probably be June 6, 7, 8 and 9, according to tentative plans. Final plans for this sale will be completed at a meeting next Wednesday in the Scottish Rite Cathedral, 929 South Hope street. Mrs. David R. Covell will preside.

The Los Angeles Fruit Peddlers' Protective Association will assist toward the final quota with a fruit sale Monday and Tuesday next. The fruit will be donated to the men by the commission merchants of Market Court and Central avenue. Wagons will be located in several central locations, at Broadway near Fifth street, in Bullock's alleyway, and at Cahuenga avenue and Hollywood Boulevard.

400,000 HOMELESS

Reports of the actual work carried on to relieve the suffering in the flood zone were received at Red Cross headquarters yesterday. More than 400,000 persons are homeless.

Additional benefits to be given soon were announced last night. One of these, a tea will be conducted by the women's clubs of the Hollywood Athletic Club Tuesday next in the club gymnasium. About $250 has been realized from advance ticket sales, and will be turned over to The Times fund, those in charge said.

Mme. Annette Keyser will give a benefit concert Tuesday night at the Richardson Music Building, 730 West Seventh street.

QUICK TRIPS TO ALTAR AT END IN STATE

Governor Signs Bill Which Requires Three to Thirty Days' Intention Notice

SACRAMENTO, May 20. (Exclusive) The death knell for hasty marriages, often inspired by gin, was sounded in California today when Gov. Young attached his signature to Assembly Bill No. 662, by Assemblyman George Rochester, Los Angeles.

Rochester's measure will require couples desiring a marriage license to file an application with the County Clerk at least three days and not more than thirty days before it can be issued.

Liquor-party marriages and love at first sight elopements, which often end in divorce or annulment as soon as the principals sober up, inspired Assemblyman Rochester to introduce his marriage banns bill. He believes the law will have a healthy effect on the divorce evil.

The notice of intention to marry provided in the new law, to be signed by both parties, reads as follows:

"Notice is hereby given that ....., a native of ..... State, of the age of .... years, residing (full address to be inserted,) and ....., a native of ..... State, of the age of .... years, residing at (full address to be inserted,) intend within thirty days from date hereof to apply to the county clerk of ..... county, State of California, for license to marry."

COURT GIVES NEW RIGHT TO JAPANESE

Supreme Tribunal Decides Orientals May Incorporate in California

SAN FRANCISCO, May 20. (AP)—Japanese ay form a corporation in California for any legal purpose, the State Supreme Court today ruled. The decision was rendered upon an appeal by Dr. K. Tashiro to the court to compel Secretary of State Jordan to file papers of incorporation, allowing them to build a hospital in Los Angeles.

Jordan had refused to accept the papers upon the ground that if the Japanese incorporated, they would purchase property in violation to the Alien Land Act and that there is nothing in the treaty of 1911 between this country and Japan that gives aliens a right to form a corporation.

The court ruled that the alien land law does not enter into the question of incorporating and that under the treaty of 1911, an alien can carry on trade and lease land for commercial purposes.

The treaty provides that aliens have the right to do anything incident or necessary for trade upon the same terms as native citizens.

America Agrees With Britain on Shipping Claims

WASHINGTON, May 20. (AP)—The American and British governments have agreed on a settlement of mutual claims and those of individuals against both governments for seizure of war-time shipping, but terms of the settlement are being withheld pending an arrangement for publication of final notes ratifying the pact.

It is understood, however, that balancing of the claims has left an award of approximately $1,500,000 to the United States, although the State Department today declined to give this confirmation. The claims grew out of detention and search during the war of shipping of both countries suspected of carrying war supplies to the enemy.

TREASURER OF NEVADA INDICTED

State Official With Two Others Formally Accused of Embezzling $500,000

CARSON CITY (Nev.) May 20. (AP) The Ormsby county grand jury today returned seven indictments against Ed Mallory, State Treasurer, George Cole, former State Controller, and H. C. Clapp, former cashier of the Carson Valley Bank, on the charge of embezzling more than $500,000 from State funds.

The men will answer to the following counts: embezzlement, using a bank to defraud on each of three cashier's checks, embezzlement from bank, forgery, receiving a controller's warrant to the controller's own use and benefit and aiding and abetting in each instance.

The defendants will be arraigned tomorrow before District Judge Ballard.

RING CLOSES ON RADICALS AT HANKOW

Opposing Forces United in Movement to Surround Chinese City

HANKOW (China,) May 20. (AP)—Hankow, headquarters of the Radical Nationalists, is being encircled gradually on the south and east by Gen. Chiang Kai-Shek, leader of the Nanking, or moderate, Nationalists; on the west by Gen. Yang Sen and Marshal Wu Pei-Fu, who was forced out of Hankow by the Cantonese last August, and on the north by Marshal Chang Tso-Lin, the northern generalissimo. Only the northwest is left open.

CANTON, May 20. (AP)—Demands for an indemnity to cover the damage, punishment of the officer responsible, and an apology from the commander of the fort were presented to the Chinese authorities today by the British Consul-General in connection with the firing on the British steamer Lungshan last Monday. Chinese cadets fired fifty rounds with revolvers on the Lungshan as it was passing the Whampoa fort, near Canton. There were no casualties.

Former Merced Banker Charged With Forgery

MERCED, May 20. (AP)—Gordon H. Winton, Mayor of Livingston, this county, and former president of the Bank of Livingston, was arrested today on a formal charge sworn to by Harry H. Hilliard, receiver for the defunct Farmers' and Merchants' National Bank of Merced.

According to the complaint, filed by Hilliard as receiver, Winton is alleged to have given the Farmers' and Merchants' National Bank a forged note for $7900 bearing the name of John Rhodes of Los Banos, in March, 1926.

The complaint charges that the note was found to be fictitious when an attempt was made to collect from Rhodes.

Winton was released on $2500 bail. The Livingston bank of which he was head failed in 1925. Since then he has been engaged in business there.

Geneva Conference Frowns on Loucheur's Scheme for World Combines

Reds Fail to Get Approval of Plan for Linking Up Money and Soviet

GENEVA, May 20. (Exclusive)—Louis Loucheur's scheme to form world-wide combines of all industries and Russian aspirations that the international economic conference recognize coexistence of capitalism and Communism and recommend their collaboration were rejected today.

The industry committee's report dealt quite vaguely with M. Loucheur's proposal. In the commerce committee the Russians, foreseeing defeat, withdrew their amendment to the report, reserving the right to bring it up again before adjournment. Opposition of the Americans, Scandinavians and labor groups was responsible for collapse of M. Loucheur's hopes. Henry Robinson, chief American delegate, announcing his abstention from voting declared the United States is suspicious of trusts in any form, national or international.

The Germans, who are sabotaging the existing metallurgical combine or cartel because they are dissatisfied with their share, did not support the French. Great Britain's opposition was not manifested, but is well known. The Scandinavian delegates did the talking against the plan.

M. Loucheur proposed to establish an international organization at Geneva to direct and encourage all forms of cartelization, but in the report it was changed to a mere recommendation that the League of Nations "should follow closely developments in industrial co-operation, their effects upon technical progress, developments of production, labor conditions and the general situation as regards prices."

The committee decided the phenomenon of combines arising from economic necessities does not constitute a matter on which any conclusion of good or evil can be reached.

FAME ISSUE SETTLED

Serra and King Designated

Governor Signs Bill Naming Priest and Preacher for Statuary Hall

Letter to Phelan Says That Californians Generally Favor Choice

SACRAMENTO, May 20. (Exclusive)—Gov. Young today put an end to the years of controversy over selecting the two most illustrious Californians for places in the national Hall of Fame in Washington by signing Senate Bill No. 652, which designates Father Junipero Serra and Thomas Starr King for the honor.

For years attempts have been made to induce the Legislature to nominate the California candidates for the Hall of Fame, but it was not until last session that a majority of the solons would agree on two names. The bill creates a commission of five who shall arrange for erecting the statues in the hall at Washington.

Junipero Serra was a Catholic missionary father, who founded the missions in California, and Thomas Starr King was a Unitarian minister who is credited with having saved California for the Union during the trying days of the Civil War, through his eloquence as an orator.

COURSE EXPLAINED

In signing the bill, Gov. Young made public the text of a letter sent to James D. Phelan of San Francisco, who contended that the naming of Father Serra and King did not require his signature. The letter to Phelan follows:

"On the 26th of last month you wired me, asking me to delay action on proposed legislation naming Junipero Serra and Thomas Starr King as California's representatives in Statuary Hall at Washington. I replied stating that the two names had been selected by legislative resolution, and that such resolutions become immediately effective upon adoption, and are not subject to a Governor's signature.

"There was, however, a bill passed for the appointment of a commission to provide for the preliminary work entailed by this resolution. I agreed that I would not sign this bill immediately, but that I would await action of the directors of the California Historical Society, the Grand Parlor of the Native Sons, and similar organizations. The historical society directors, by a vote of 6 to 4, asked that the matter should be held in abeyance. The Grand Parlor of the Native Sons, by a practically unanimous vote, urged that it should be settled now.

KING FAVORITE

"Meanwhile, I am in receipt of scores of letters from all parts of the State upon this subject. These letters are evidently not the result of any so-called drive, but are clearly unsolicited expressions of individual opinion. Practically all these letters commend the Legislature's choice of Junipero Serra. In vast majority they also agree upon the choice of Thomas Starr King as a wise and happy solution of a problem which California has been facing ever since the inception of Statuary Hall.

"These letters are not only from early settlers, from Native Sons and Native Daughters, from members of women's organizations and the like, but are also from university presidents, historians and other educators, from publicists, from business and professional men, from leading officials and former officials of the State. With almost one accord, they urge that the combination of Serra and King in this connection is as good a one as could be devised.

"I have received two or three letters which suggest that this whole matter might be left to a referendum of the people, and have answered that under our Constitution there is only one way to invoke a referendum, namely, by obtaining the requisite number of signatures on a bill actually passed by the Legislature and signed by the Governor. Accordingly, it would require a signature in this bill to make a referendum possible, and I am therefore signing it for the following reasons.

"First, because it is the only possible method of submitting the issue to the people, if in your judgment it should be so submitted; and, secondly, because the Legislature, to which is intrusted the power of deciding the question, has finally acted and with apparent general approval.

"Senate Bill No. 652 merely provides for the creation of a commission to serve without compensation under the jurisdiction of the State Library, for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of the legislative resolution.

"I may also mention that this suggestion of Thomas Starr King for a place in Statuary Hall is not a new one. At least twice before—in 1913 by Senate Bill No. 460, and again in 1921, by Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 10, as amended—his name has been presented to the Legislature for this honor. As far as I can find, however, the proposition has never come to a vote until this year.

"I feel that a word of appreciation is due to yourself for the interest you have taken on this subject and for the able manner in which you have made it a subject of general public discussion. With all due respect to your point of view, however, I feel that the only course for me to pursue is to sign the bill, and I accordingly expect to do so in the near future."

ONE WIFE ACTS AS BRIDESMAID

Other Clinches Her Right to Man and Judge Drops Bigamy Charge

CHICAGO, May 20. (Exclusive)—The unique spectacle of wife Number 1 acting as bridesmaid for Wife Number 2 was witnessed today in the court of domestic relations. The queer part of it is that the women seemed the best of friends. The husband also appeared relieved, as he had just escaped jail on a bigamy charge.

George Hansen was the husband who was slightly overset on wives. He had married Anne, a farm girl, February 3, 1922. In March, 1926, their child was born and soon after that she brought two other children to the home, saying they were hers by a previous marriage.

George thereupon fled and on February 24, 1927, he married Hazel Sheppard and in April was arrested for bigamy, the first wife waived all rights in lieu of $12.50 a week for the support of their child. The court thereupon granted her a divorce, remarried George and Hazel and nolle prossed the bigamy charge.

Three Pay Death Penalties for Criminal Acts

FLORENCE (Ariz.) May 20. (AP)—Charles J. Blackburn, Mesa rancher, convicted slayer of Miguel Bernal, his business partner, was hanged at the Arizona State prison here this morning. The trap was sprung at 5:09½ a.m. and Blackburn pronounced dead at 5:19½.

WOLF POINT (Mont.) May 20. (AP) Ferdinand Schlaps, 19-year-old murderer, was hanged at 12:10 a.m. here in the jail yard before a large crowd.

Schlaps was convicted some months ago of the murder of Antone and Ludmilla Geisler on their farm near Biem, Roosevelt county, on May 1, 1925. He was employed by the Geislers as a farm hand.

NASHVILLE (Tenn.) May 20. (AP)—Bohn Franklin Webb, Memphis negro, was electrocuted at the State penitentiary here today for criminally attacking a girl in November, 1926.

WONDER SPAN TO BE OPEN TODAY

Coolidge Will Participate in Carquinez Dedication

Injunction to Halt Bridge Fete Denied by Judge

Thousands Expected Afoot and in Auto Caravans

SAN FRANCISCO, May 20. (Exclusive)—The world's mightiest highway span, that across Carquinez Straits, will be opened tomorrow as scheduled.

An injunction seeking to stop the dedication was denied today by Federal Judge St. Sure on the showing that the American Toll Bridge Company, designers and builders, have complied with all recommendations of the War Department to date, and will construct permanent fenders around the bridge piers as quickly as the government designates the type to be used.

The injunction was sought by the Matson Navigation Company and the California-Hawaiian Sugar Refining Corporation. In a petition they declared the belief that the bridge, without permanent fenders, is a menace to navigation. They asserted that the straits are exceedingly difficult for ships to negotiate because of strong winds and currents, and if a large vessel, such as a Matson ship of 20,000 tons, crashed one of the piers, the entire structure probably would collapse.

THREE TYPES TESTED

In reply Chief Engineer Charles Deerleth, Jr., revealed from the stand communications between the War Department and the American Toll Bridge Company, showing that the War Department was experimenting on three types of permanent fenders, and had granted the bridge company permission to protect the piers with temporary fenders until a decision is reached as to the most advisable permanent type.

Attorneys for the injunction appellants expressed surprise at the existence of the correspondence, and declared their action was based entirely upon an attitude of assuring protection to shipping and public.

Meanwhile, last-minute preparations for the enormous crowd expected to witness the dedication went forward without hitch. Parking space for 50,000 automobiles has been lined off on the Vallejo shore and those in charge of traffic arrangements say 150,000 to 200,000 persons afoot can be accommodated on vantage points adjoining the bridgeheads.

AUTOS FROM THREE POINTS

Three caravans of motorists will converge upon the structure at noon tomorrow. One comprises San Francisco and bay cities visitors; a second comes from Sacramento, its valley and points south to the San Joaquin Valley and north to the upper reaches of the Sierras; the third comes from the south.

While the auto caravans are approaching, a series of water races and airplane maneuvers will be under way.

Formal dedication will go forward when President Coolidge presses a button in Washington releasing the American flag from the bridgehead, simultaneously setting off four signal bombs.

The address of welcome will be delivered by William B. Buchanan, chairman of the Contra Costa Board of Supervisors. Four governors, C. C. Young of California, R. H. Hartley of Washington, I. L. Patterson of Oregon and F. B. Balzar of Nevada, will deliver addresses. Invocation will be pronounced by Rev. Thomas A. Boyer and benediction by Rev. Pither F. Clyne.

FIVE DUBLIN POSTAL OFFICIALS SUSPENDED

DUBLIN, May 20. (Exclusive)—Five Dublin postal officials were suspended this morning for participating in the debate at the postal officials' congress when a resolution was passed unanimously calling on the executive council to remove Postmaster General Walsh from his position. The resolution was based on complaint that Mr. Walsh had slandered the Dublin postal staff in a speech in the Dail Eireann last week when he charged them with disloyalty and incompetence.

Turkish "dryes" have prepared prayers enumerating the evils of drink which will be recited regularly in the mosques.

'DAVID' TRIAL JURY HEARS SORDID TALE

Bare Start Made in Five Days of Fighting to Bar Israelite Cult

ST. JOSEPH (Mich.) May 20. (Exclusive)—Five days of court proceedings in one of the most amazing cases in the history of the country were completed before Judge Fead in Berrien County Courthouse here today.

Yet little more than a start had been made in the suit through which the State of Michigan seeks to dissolve the religious cult of the Israelite House of David as a public nuisance and a menace to the morals of the community.

The women and girl witnesses have a sorry tale to tell. It is not pleasant to listen to, and less pleasant for these girls. Much of it is of an unprintable nature.

It is, briefly, to the effect that Benjamin Purnell, posing as a superhuman and claiming the titles, among others, of "the younger brother of the Lord, the Prince of Peace, the Angel Gabriel," lived for years surrounded by as many as forty young girls at a time, whom he compelled to intimacy with him and bound to secrecy. They were the daughters, the wives and the sisters of the men members, none of whom was allowed more than friendly attitude with any woman member.

For two days one of these girls, Mrs. Wheeler of New York, then known as Dolly Smith, has been on the stand. Her testimony today covered the incidents of mock trials held by Benjamin Purnell when official investigations of the colony were in progress, his relations with her and with other girls living in the building called Shiloh, her preaching tours with her husband, her marriage in one of the group ceremonies and the circumstances of her forsaking the Israelite creed.

An affidavit signed by scores of the girls who were quartered in Shiloh to the effect that they knew of no immoral conduct in the colony or by its members, was introduced by the defense and branded as an instrument of perjury by Dolly Wheeler.

It was made after instructions by Purnell that "a lie in season was the truth," she related, and that it was their duty to defend him against accusations being made by civil authorities, as he could do no wrong.

No further action will be taken until next Thursday, when court will resume.

Boy With Gun Sends Bullet Near Governor

BISMARCK (N. D.) May 20. (AP)—A stray bullet from a boy's small-caliber rifle just missed Gov. Sorlie when it broke a window in the executive mansion late yesterday.

First thought to have been the work of a crank, investigation today showed that several boys had been shooting at pigeons near the mansion, and the bullet that endangered the executive's life matched those they were using.

DROWNED PIANIST IDENTIFIED

JACKSONVILLE (Fla.) May 20. (AP) A body recovered from the St. Johns River here yesterday and first identified as that of Paul Wells, 40 years of age, of Toronto, Ont., is that of Paul Wells, noted Canadian pianist, officials announced today.

Good News for Southland Motorists

Boon to Autoists

A giant distributing highway is proposed to relieve congested major highways in Southern California. It would circle the Southland districts bounded by the ocean, mountains and desert and act in two capacities—one as a feeder into Los Angeles and two, a distributor to outgoing traffic which could pass around the city.

Beach Straight Ahead

No more playing "hide-and-seek" trying to get to Long Beach. Paving starts July 1 on Long Beach Boulevard, the first of the four major arteries to be built to the Los Angeles harbor district to care for traffic from Los Angeles.

It will be a 100-foot boulevard laid out in a direct route coming out at American Ave. at the beach.

The effect of ... will be the closing the deer hunting season in the Sierra Nevada mountain districts. This will keep hunters and campers out of the wooded areas until later in the fire season and will reduce the fire hazard. The bill was introduced by Assemblyman Murphy of Weed, Siskiyou county.

Under the bill the hunting season which in the past has opened on September 1 and closed October 16 will not open until September 15, but will close at the regular time in districts 1, 1 3-4, 4 1-2, 23, 24, 25 and 26 which comprises all the territory in the eastern part of the State from the Oregon line south to Los Angeles county, with the exception of Mono and Inyo counties. This area includes the majority of the timbered districts of the State.

While the delaying of the hunting season is the principal function of the bill, it also gives hunters permission to ship deer killed in other States into California if it is open season here.

Assembly Bill No. 1184, Jacobson, directing the Governor to seek national legislation for the refund of taxes collected in California following the Civil War.

MEMORY LOSS BRINGS SUIT

WHITE PLAINS (N. Y.) May 20. (Exclusive)—Loss of memory to such an extent that he forgot to go to his own wedding and thereby lost his bride caused Joseph Hassett of Mt. Vernon to file suit here today for $50,000 damages against David Sadowsky of Riverside Drive. A jury today returned a $6000 verdict in favor of Hassett. Sadowsky is the son of a wealthy clothing manufacturer. Hassett testified that on September 17, 1925, he was run down by Sadowsky's automobile, tossed up in the air and fell on his head so that his memory was badly affected.

NEW EUROPEAN DEAL REVEALED

Britain and France in Latest Diplomatic Bargain

Rhineland and Other Policies Involved in Agreement

Disclosure Follows Briand's Visit to London

LONDON, May 20. (Exclusive)—Although steps have been taken to discourage the idea that the interview between Sir Austen Chamberlain and Aristide Briand Wednesday was more than a personal chat, the results of the long conversation between the two Foreign Ministers, later officially described as having consolidated the entente as the basis for European peace, show that there has been a regular diplomatic bargain made between the two governments.

The bargain is this: First, France accepts to follow the British lead in the policy toward Moscow; second, Great Britain accepts to follow the French lead in the policy respecting the Rhineland; third, France agrees to accept the conciliatory British viewpoint on the Italian policy; four, France joins in the British viewpoint on the Chinese policy.

In other words, Great Britain has agreed to back the Poincare thesis on the Rhineland evacuation in return for French support on all the other troubled British fronts.

Considerable care was taken today to disprove the idea that the bargain means the definite scrapping of the Locarno pacts. On the contrary, according to the logic of the new entente, it is expected to strengthen the Locarno pacts, although no explanation is given as to how. Certain political circles here, however, believe that the three-day ritual of the French visit has left Locarno only a sentimental memory.

The Franco-British bargain was the key to the third postponement in the House of Commons of Sir William Joynson-Hicks's statement on the Arcos raid, which was delayed until Tuesday, while the feeling is solidifying there will not be a diplomatic break with Russia.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 20. (AP)—A city marshal is a peace officer and is empowered to make an arrest in any part of the State for a public offense committed in his presence, Atty.-Gen. Webb ruled today.

Widow of Rich Man Sentenced on Drug Charge

NEW YORK, May 20. (Exclusive)—Mrs. Mae Landgren, widow of a wealthy Chicago man and former wife of two other wealthy men, was sentenced to five months in the workhouse today by Justices Herbert, Direnzo and Caldwell in Special Sessions for obtaining narcotic drugs by fraud.

Though only 34 years of age, her life in the past few years has been wrecked by the use of drugs. She is connected with the Van Alen family of Louisville, Ky., and her uncle is James G. Van Alen, a London financier. She was orphaned at an early age and after being educated in a convent was married to George P. Fuller, San Francisco millionaire paint manufacturer. She was divorced from him in 1916.

She is reported to have received a cash settlement of $800,000 and alimony of $12,500 a year. In 1923 she married Eric G. Landgren of this city, president of the Vulcan Match Company of America. Soon after her marriage it developed that she had been using drugs, and while in San Francisco she took a "cure."

OBREGON MENTIONED AS CANDIDATE AGAIN

FORMER MEXICAN PRESIDENT MAY BE DRAFTED TO MAKE RACE AT ELECTION

MEXICO CITY, May 20. (Exclusive) Although dispatches from Torreon quote Gen. Arnulfo R. Gomez, chief of military operations in the State of Vera Cruz, as saying categorically that former President Obregon will not be a candidate for the Presidency in 1928, indications are growing that Obregon will enter the field.

Gomez declared he gained his impression at a recent interview with Obregon. On the other hand, three political conventions already have selected the "hero of Celaya" as their candidate, and while he has not accepted any nomination, neither has he refused.

In a special section published by El Universal in celebration of the opening of service on the new Southern Pacific link between La Quemada, Jalisco, and Tepic, Nayarit, appears a full page advertisement of the Grand Revolutionary party of Jalisco, with a large reproduction of Obregon's picture, proclaiming the former President as the party's candidate for the Presidency. The possibility is being considered that Obregon may be drafted to run whether or not he desires to make the race.

Torreon dispatches quote Gen. Gomez as saying he will retire from the army and devote himself to the Presidential campaign if he is named as the candidate of the National Anti-Re-Electionist party at the forthcoming convention, which is considered highly probable here.

VETERANS WILL MEET MONDAY

California Disabled Convene in Annual Session

Long Beach to be Host to World War Men

Convention Officially Open Tuesday Morning

LONG BEACH, May 20.—Echoes of "over there" will be heard all over Long Beach Monday when some 1500 veterans, representing twenty-two cities and towns in California gather here for the five-day convention of the Disabled Veterans of the World War, California division. Long Beach is extending itself to make the stay of the battle-scarred men as memorable as possible.

Regular sessions of the convention will be held in the big ballroom of the Breakers Hotel on Ocean Boulevard. Luncheon meetings will be held in the Hall of the Galleons at the same hostelry.

Entertainment features are to include high-jinks at the Elks' Club Monday night; an athletic program to be presented by Long Beach council, Knights of Columbus, Tuesday night; a beach party at the Belmont Beach Club, sponsored by the American War Mothers on Wednesday night; a program and ball at the Municipal Auditorium on Thursday night and; for the final day of the convention, the disabled veterans and will be the guests of William Wrigley, Jr., on a trip to Catalina Island.

Official opening of the convention will come Tuesday morning at o'clock with a joint meeting of the State departments of the American War Mothers with the D.A.V. at the auditorium. On Wednesday at noon all national and State officers of the Disabled American Veterans in attendance at the convention will be guests of Karle B. Morgan, commander of the local post, American Legion, at the Pacific Coast Club.

The convention will be formally opened by John B. Teed, commander of Long Beach chapter No. 17, Disabled American Veterans of the World War. He will introduce Department Commander Percy Clark Church of Fresno, who will preside at all sessions.

Efforts were being made today to induce the city to appropriate funds to help defray the costs of the convention. Recent requests for an appropriation of $750 were turned down by the administration because, according to the explanation of City Manager Henderson, the city's convention fund is nearing depletion. It was expected, however, that $300 would be appropriated by the city for the convention.

One of the big features of the convention will be the big parade of veterans, scheduled to start Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock from the Breakers Hotel. Streets along the line of march will be decorated by the city. It was announced today by Squire P. Duree, director of public recreation.

The local convention committee, which has worked out plans for the gathering here of the World War veterans is headed by John B. Teed, chapter commander, assisted by Ernest Clark, John M. Foley, Raymond La Pierre, Isaac Richards, Hugo E. Frey, George E. Hedges, George B. Newhouse, David C. Beal, Harry Artin, L. Glenn Krater, Searl B. Randall and Herman R. Kenkel.

A committee of the local post, American Legion, has been named by Commander Morgan to co-operate with the veterans' committee in making the annual convention a success. Members of the Legion committee are Walter L. Leschander, Albert G. Motsch, Charles H. Stanley, John M. Lawson, Gerald M. Toms, Edward H. Walker.

Hospital Day, set for Wednesday, will prove a unique feature of the convention. It will bring to Long Beach for that day scores of boys who are no longer able to get around and who are obliged to remain in institutions. They will be brought to Long Beach for a breath of salt air on the beaches.

A lively but friendly battle for top honors of the convention is expected to develop. At least four cities have made reservations for convention headquarters for their delegates where the claims of rival aspirants for office will be raised. Sacramento Chapter, No. 6, is backing the candidacy of Edwin C. Lynch, present senior vice-commander for the position of State Commander. San Diego Chapter, No. 2, is solidly behind Carroll P. Johnson for the same office. San Bernardino Chapter is boosting the candidacy of Frank J. McDermott for the post of senior vice-commander, the Quentin Roosevelt Chapter, No. 5, of Los Angeles, has aspirations that, to date have been kept secret.

For the first time the Federal government will have a high official at the convention. He will be Col. E. F. Tandy of San Francisco, chief co-ordinator of the United States Veterans' Bureau in Area E, which embraces California, Arizona and Nevada. Senator Samuel Shortridge and Congressman W. E. Evans are expected to be among the speakers.

CLUB AT LANKERSHIM CLOSES FOR SUMMER

LANKERSHIM, May 20.—The annual summer closing meeting of the Lankershim Woman's Club was conducted today, beginning with a membership breakfast at noon. The afternoon program was open to both members and guests and consisted of music and a playlet given by students of the University of California drama shop. The glee clubs of the Lankershim High School also participated. This is the first year that the club has conducted its meetings in its own clubhouse, the site for which was donated by a wealthy resident. There is still a debt of about $1600 on the clubhouse, contributions for the liquidation of which are now being received. A gift of $400 toward this purpose was made today by Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Parker. The entire amount is expected to be raised before the club resumes sessions again in the early part of autumn.

BAPTISTS ASK ENFORCEMENT OF SUNDAY OBSERVANCE LAWS

GLENDALE, May 20.—Resolutions demanding a strict enforcement of the Sunday observance laws and pledging support to the efforts of the Lord's Day Alliance in its campaign for this object were unanimously adopted by the Southern California Baptist convention, meeting in the First Baptist Church of Glendale today.

The resolutions also condemned emphatically the plans for holding the rodeo in the grounds of the Coliseum at Exposition Park on Sunday as well as all similar desecrations of the Lord's day.

Another resolution asks that two hours weekly be taken from the regular time of classes in the schools for religious instruction for Protestant churches claiming that children of other denominations are granted the privilege.

The use of funds for the support of any church, religious denomination or religious service or institution or school, or any undertaking which is wholly or in part under sectarian or ecclesiastic control is opposed, except through remission of taxation.

In the election of officers for the coming year S. L. Berkeley, lay member of Trinity Baptist Church, Santa Monica, was chosen president of Southern California. The eight vice-presidents of the various associations within the conference will be named during the year. Other officers elected were as follows: Clerk, S. Fraser Langford, Fullerton; assistant clerk, Irene McNally, Los Angeles; treasurer, E. H. Adsit, Los Angeles. These officers will hold office for one year.

Members for the board of directors elected to serve for three years are Rev. Ernest E. Ford, Glendale; Joy Jamison, Oprons; J. M. Davison, Riverside; Mrs. C. C. Newton, Los Angeles; Mrs. W. A. Cochrane, Pasadena; Mrs. G. E. George, Santa Barbara; Dr. Otto S. Russell, Santa Ana; Mrs. L. E. Mullins, South Park, Los Angeles; Rev. Frank Durham, Los Angeles; Dr. Frederick G. Davies, Sawtelle.

Objections to Queries Slow Gunder Trial

RIVERSIDE, May 20.—With but two of the principal witnesses in the sensational property-settlement case of Samuel Gunder against his wife, Agnes Gunder, given direct examination the trial has dragged through the week with continual objections and legal wrangles as to the conduct of the cross-examination by the attorneys for defense.

Samuel Gunder is suing for reconveyance of the Elsinore Gas Works and upward of $27,000 in bonds which he declares his wife got possession of by fraud.

The battery of attorneys for Mrs. Gunder has apparently tried continually to introduce new testimony during the cross-examination of witnesses which has been cause for an average of two objections a minute throughout the week and sharp criticism of the conduct of the trial by Superior Judge Freeman.

Gunder has accused his wife of kisses and caresses before and shortly after marriage but of turning on him with savagery and unprintable vituperation when she had been deeded all of his property.

Mrs. Gunder caused a great commotion yesterday with a fit of uncontrollable hysteria and had to be carried from the Courthouse. She did not appear in court, her spell coming upon her in the lobby near the entrance to the courtroom.

Traffic Crash Brings Swarm of Damage Suits

SANTA ANA, May 20.—W. F. Lindner, who was so unfortunate as to permit his automobile to collide with the automobile of a Los Angeles lawyer, has discovered that he collided with a whole family of lawyers.

First, he was sued for $12,000 damages by J. Irving McKenna, Los Angeles attorney, who was driving the other car. That was Wednesday. Today, two more damage suits, aggregating $45,300, were brought against Lindner as the result of the accident, which took place near Sunset Beach in 1925.

One action was filed by Mrs. Catherine McKenna, wife of the attorney, who is herself a lawyer. She acted as counsel for her husband while he appears as her attorney. A third suit was filed by Anna C. McKenna, another member of the McKenna family. Each of the women demands $20,000 for her injuries. In addition, Catherine McKenna asks $300 as medical expenses and $5000 representing loss of earnings for ten months at the rate of $500 per month.

STRAND LEASED AT MANHATTAN BEACH

It is believed that the plan will also be an aid in keeping out undesirable visitors.

Mather Company of Pasadena, who was stricken with a serious illness in Southern France a few weeks ago, is now recovering rapidly and will be able to return to this city before long, according to word received here. Mr. Mather's illness was considered so critical at one time that J. J. Mitchell, vice-president of the company, hastened to his bedside from Pasadena.

Noted Pastor of San Bernardino Dies of Stroke

SAN BERNARDINO, May 20.—Rev. H. J. Mathias, pastor of the First English Lutheran Church here, died at the General Hospital last night following a stroke of apoplexy while fishing with his two sons at Newport Beach earlier in the day. With his sons Mr. Mathias had planned the trip to procure fish for a supper scheduled to be held at the church tonight.

Following his collapse at the beach the stricken minister was rushed to a physician's office. It was decided to remove him to San Bernardino in an ambulance. Mr. Mathias was unconscious when he arrived at the General Hospital here remaining so until his death shortly after 8 o'clock.

He was one of the best-known Lutheran ministers on the Pacific Coast. Since he entered the ministry in 1898 he had occupied pulpits in eight States through the West, the Middle West and the South. Born in Lexington, S. C., in 1871 Mr. Mathias was in his fifty-sixth year. Surviving him are his widow, Mrs. Minnie Mathias; two sons, Julian and Herman, and a daughter, Mrs. A. R. Hamilton, all of San Bernardino.

TEACHERS ASK MORE PAY

Pasadena Board of Education Petitioned to Increase Salaries to Equal Los Angeles Scale

PASADENA, May 20.—Petitions asking for increases in the salaries of public school teachers in Pasadena, to place local salaries on a par with those paid in Los Angeles, were filed with the Board of Education today by the Pasadena Teachers' Association.

The increases asked range from $200 to $400 a year. The petitioners said that it is imperative that Pasadena schools pay as much as those of Los Angeles, in order to be able to keep the best teachers in the local schools. A complete new schedule of salaries was offered, and is now being considered by the Board of Education.

After a dispute lasting several weeks, in which it had been intimated that the research department maintained by the school board is a costly waste of taxpayers' money, the board voted, five to one, today not only to continue the department but to employ additional help in it.

N. P. Moerdyke, chairman of the board, opposed the motion today and charged that the board is neglecting fundamental needs to carry on an expensive and nonessential department. "To use a homely figure," he said, "with barely enough money to buy bread and butter, we are advised to spend it for frozen dainties."

FARMERS MEET IN BAKERSFIELD

Agriculturists from All Over State There

Event Known as Traveling Farm Bureau Conference

Sponsored by University Extension Service

BAKERSFIELD, May 20.—Farmers from practically every district of California arrived in Bakersfield this evening in the concluding visit of a trip throughout the San Joaquin Valley.

Their number, increased by officials and professors from the University of California, was approximately 250 persons. Its purpose is to show Farm Bureau members improved methods in agriculture and living conditions of California farmers.

The great automobile caravan was met late this afternoon at the border between Kern and Tulare counties by Harold L. Pomeroy and Whit C. The caravan was escorted into Bakersfield and the various units assigned to different local hotels.

Prof. B. P. Crocheron, head of the extension service for this State, is the leader of the party. With him as official representatives of the State university are Profs. L. B. Smith, T. C. Mayhew, W. R. Ralston, Frank Spurrier, W. G. Waterhouse, C. F. Elwood, W. J. Norton, H. E. Barker, J. E. Tippett, G. E. Gordon, H. R. Wellman and C. W. Rubel.

President A. E. Hoagland of the Farm Bureau presided as toastmaster. Alfred Harrell made the address of welcome and Prof. B. H. Crocheron, heading the visitors, responded.

Santa Barbara Will Vote on School Bonds

SANTA BARBARA, May 20.—On June 14, this city will vote on a $140,000 school-bond issue, for the construction of a new elementary school in Rutherford Park, near the northwesterly city limits.

At a hectic meeting of the Board of Education, the members, by unanimous vote, turned down the request of the ministerial union for use of the high school for a Sunday address by Dr. Lincoln Wirt of the National Council for the Prevention of War.

Both the old and new members of the Board of Education met, in order that the school bond problems could be worked out to the satisfaction of both.

This was done and the new board took no part in the debate between the ministers and the old members, although they are expected to back up the stand against the pacifists. One of the issues in the campaign was the subject of military training in the high school and the militarists were elected by overwhelming vote.

INJURED HIGHWAY OFFICER RECOVERS

HANFORD, May 20.—Art Benton, pioneer traffic officer of this city, who was thrown from his motorcycle on the Ridge Route yesterday morning on his way to Los Angeles and badly injured, has finally regained consciousness. He was thrown on his face in the gravel of the roadside. His face was badly cut and one jaw broken. He will probably not lose one eye, which was badly injured. The cause of his spill has not been ascertained, but the officer muttered once about a truck with pipe on it, and it is thought he was in a collision. He is a popular officer of the traffic force and the evening before his accident headed the parade of autos bearing out to the Kings County Country Club members of the Hanford Kiwanis Club and their ladies for a banquet and dance.

REDLANDS SCHOOL HOLDS OPEN HOUSE

REDLANDS, May 20. — Redlands High School was thronged with visitors this afternoon and evening for the annual open house when people were given a chance to see the sort of work done there, and there were many surprises in store for those who attended in the varied work and the quality of it. The cooking department was one of the most popular. The sewing department was featured by some painted Spanish shawls that would have caused a Seville belle to have swooned with joy. There were automobile engines, and cedar chests, and dining-room sets, and wrought iron fireplace sets, and clipper ships for decoration and all such things.

ASSERTED OLD-TIME FORGER ARRESTED

BURBANK, May 20.—H. W. Kennedy, whom the police assert has been arrested eight times, has come back for more, and the local officers have placed him in a cell on the charge of passing bad checks. He is said to be an old-timer in the art of passing worthless paper and was caught in the drive made by the police of Southern California for forgers who have been preying on the gullibility of local merchants. Kennedy is accused of passing bad checks on several of the local merchants, varying in size from $24 to $100, and also is said to have been busy in Hollywood.

FRUIT SHOW RECORD FALLS

Biggest Day's Attendance of Any Former Year Eclipsed as Exhibition Gets Under Way

ANAHEIM, May 20.—At an early hour tonight it was reported by gatekeepers that the first two days' attendance of the seventh California Valencia Orange Show here have each eclipsed the biggest day's attendance of any former year.

Tourists from all over the world who are visiting California are reported to be making a concerted rush for Anaheim, having planned their trips so as to take in this classic of Orange county.

Overcast skys tonight failed to dampen the spirits of the visitors who thronged the big tent for the first elimination trials of the orange-packing contest which has turned out to be one of the biggest attractions in connection with an orange show ever before staged, according to "Doc" Barnes, president of the show association.

Results of the trials will not be made known until the last night of the show, Saturday, the 28th inst., but speculations are rife among packers and tourists alike who have taken their stand for favorites to win. Miss Hazel Gowen of the Glendora Heights team is being backed by odds of two to one by her followers. Contests will continue Saturday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, and in case of a tie, finals will be held Thursday.

Contestants who were scored tonight were from the Glendora Heights Orange and Lemon Growers, Olive Fruit Company of Anaheim and the American Fruit Growers. Out of more than 1000 applications, all have been eliminated exeept fifteen teams of two packers each who are packing in the finals. Three teams will pack each night until the five nights have passed, when the final judging will begin.

Today's crowds were even larger than those of the opening day, and Manager George Reid declared that by 11 a.m. today there were more cars parked on the grounds than there were parked the opening night. So much care has been given the parking problem that congestion has been entirely eliminated this year.

The Pacific Electric and Motor Transit companies, who have both established special excursion rates to the show, report an unusually heavy advance sale of tickets and it is expected that Saturday and Sunday nights will continue to break all records for attendance.

LOTS OF HAY, BUT ONLY FEW HORSES

VAN NUYS, May 20.—One of the big crops scheduled for San Fernando Valley this year is hay—stacks and stacks of it. The heavy rains of the winter and spring caused the grass and alfalfa to grow two and three feet high in fields and on the slopes of the foothills. All of this is being cut now and left to dry in huge stacks in this section and in Lankershim, Reseda, Girard, Owensmouth, San Fernando and Chatsworth districts. A survey made today in all parts of the valley over the various concrete roads disclosed thousands of stacks of hay and alfalfa in hundreds of fields. The wholesale cut and harvest of the hay crop extends even into the Calabasas section west of Girard. Hay men here say that the general crop in the valley sections this season will probably amount to more than the aggregate crops for the last three or four years. The worry now is where enough horses are going to be found to eat up the bumper yield.

HANFORD PRISONER COMMITS HARA-KIRI

HANFORD, May 20. — Ramon Chaves, a Mexican, 45 years of age, resident of the County Jail many times, committed hara-kiri at that institution this forenoon and will probably die. A trusty took him out of his cell and gave Chaves a bath, hair cut and shave. He laid his razor down for a second, when Chaves seized it and made a terrible slash across his own abdomen and then attempted to further open the wound. Jail officials rushed in and handcuffed the violent man and he was taken in an ambulance to the County Hospital. The incident made a great commotion in the small jail, which has a large quota of inmates. Chaves was serving a twenty-five-day sentence for disturbing the peace and his wife had just sworn to a complaint charging him with rape on his step-daughter.

New State Bank Charter Asked for Santa Ana

SANTA ANA, May 20.—A new State bank, with capitol of $300,000 was announced today by Attorney Clyde Downing, representing S. H. Finley, John Knox and others. Application for a charter will be made within a few days, it was said, and formal announcement of the organization of the new bank is expected Tuesday.

Downing said:

"I am representing a group of business and professional men but I am not at liberty to disclose the names of the men who have become identified with the new enterprise. The group believes there is opportunity, as well as need, for another independent bank here. Santa Ana has always shown steady and substantial development, and it is the opinion of the men I represent that harbor development at Newport Beach and other activities in this vicinity portend further expansion of the city in a business way.

"These men believe that Santa Ana is destined to be the biggest community between Los Angeles and San Diego and are anxious to provide facilities that will assist in making this development possible."

FULLERTON MEN BUY NAVEL ORANGE GROVE

FULLERTON, May 20.—A local syndicate has purchased 171 acres of highly improved land at Oroville, Butte county. The tract, which includes 103 acres of full bearing navel oranges, is situated in a district said to produce the earliest navels in the State and sold for $150,000. Those in the syndicate are T. G. Meiser, S. A. Salveson, William Hunt, W. A. Lucas, William Kammerer, William Schumacher, Henry Burdoff, Delmar Woodward, William K. Robbins, William A. B. Planalp, Charles J. A. Ahrens and J. R. Gardiner.

FORMER EL CENTRO TREASURER ON TRIAL

EL CENTRO, May 20.—Walter D. Smith, former city treasurer of Imperial, is on trial here today on charges involving the embezzlement of $310 while in office. Smith was arrested several months ago following a grand jury indictment. He is being represented by Attorney Edgar Hervey of this city and Dist.-Atty. Elmer Heald is conducting the prosecution.

Furnishings in Hotel Damaged by Youth's Knife

HUNTINGTON PARK, May 20.—When J. F. McSwain, who is having the new La Planta Hotel erected in this city, and which is nearing completion returned to the unfinished building during the early morning hours yesterday, he found that a number of rugs had been cut, and that window cords in the second and third stories had been severed.

He at once went to the police station and an investigation was made by the local officers. They found the imprints of a pair of rubber-soled canvas shoes on the rugs.

A close watch was kept in the building during the day and in the afternoon a young man by the name of Merl Lowery of Walnut Park was taken in charge. He was given a "sweat-out" by Chief Will Hultquist and other officers and finally confessed to the vandalism.

He was then turned over to his parents and to Mr. McSwain for an adjustment of the affair.

Grass Fire on Grazing Land Under Control

MARICOPA, May 20.—A grass fire, which had raged for eighteen hours over 300 acres of rich grazing land two miles east of Maricopa, was under control this morning, according to Deputy State Fire Warden Theodore Freeman, who is at the fire front.

Yesterday afternoon the flames spread rapidly, and in a few moments had covered acres of dry grass. Twenty men responded to the call for fire fighters in Maricopa and battled the blaze throughout the afternoon and night. They were exhausted when victory came this morning.

The blaze was a costly one to cattlemen of the district, in view of the dry feed it consumed. For a time it was feared that the blaze might get past the fire fighters and sweep over thousands of acres.

The fire started near the Bakersfield-Maricopa highway and is believed to have been the result of a carelessly thrown cigarette stub, Warden Freeman said.

GROWERS AGREE ON MELON ASSESSMENT

BRAWLEY, May 20.—Watermelon growers representing more than half of the 6500 acres planted in Imperial Valley this season agreed at a meeting here yesterday to assume a voluntary assessment of $1 a car for inspection work. Horticultural Inspecter B. A. Harrigan reported that the area planted to watermelons is 2000 more acres than last year, but that the early crop would be light. The second carload of watermelons picked this season was shipped out of here yesterday. Ninety-six cars of cantaloupes were shipped out yesterday bringing the season's total to 293. Shippers ordered 126 cars for today's melon loadings.

UP-IN-AIR HOMES PREDICTED

New Yorker Forecasts Residences and Gardens on Roofs of Skyscrapers as Something New in Way of Suburbs in Big Cities

PASADENA, May 20.—Something new in the way of suburbs for those who inhabit the crowded cities of this country is predicted by H. J. Connant, prominent engineer and building expert of New York, now a guest at the Hotel Vista del Arroyo here, who forecasts that before long residences and gardens will adorn the roof of nearly every flat-top skyscraper in the large cities of America.

At present these roof-top bungalows have been restricted in New York for the most part to wealthy landlords who have fashioned them as sumptuous and expensive residences of a novel and exclusive type. The increasing scuteness of the housing problem in congested centers and the high premium on every available bit of space, will, however, cause the expansion of this idea so that roof homes of all kinds, sizes, shapes and costs will be built, Mr. Connant believes.

Southern California's wide-open spaces and the precautions that have been taken in this region to permit cities to expand horizontally as well as vertically, will prevent the roof-home idea from spreading as rapidly here as, for instance, in New York, he says.

Many of the newer apartment buildings in New York are now being built with terraces at different levels, surmounted by towers, and having gardens and porches which give the tenants a semblance of suburban ease and air without the inconvenience of long distances between home and the office, Mr. Connant reports. As an expansion of this idea, he sees the rapid development of the roof-top home, with its garden and tiny "estate."

GOLF HAILED AS REAL PANACEA

English Physician Asserts That It will Prove Help in Every Disease

LONDON, May 20. (AP)—There is no disease for which golf is not good, declared Dr. Peter Fowler, an English physician, during a discussion by the British Medical Association on "Sport, its Use and Abuse." He declared that he had seen men with the worst forms of valvular disease kept alive by interest in golf and by the fresh air into which the game took them.

Other doctors advocated boxing, fencing, motor racing and yachting as aids to health. Dr. Adolphe Abrahams, brother of H. M. Abrahams, British Olympic star, testified that a healthy heart cannot be damaged by any exercise of which a human being is capable.

The German experts promise material to prove that France was the first to use poison gas in war. No country is above reproach on the question of treatment of prisoners near the front, the report says.

Count Von Bernstorff, former Ambassador to the United States, is the main sponsor of the movement for a conference to settle the war guilt question.

ORATOR ON WAY EAST FOR FINALS

Dorothy Carlson Leaves Riverside for Washington and National Contest

RIVERSIDE, May 20. (Exclusive)—Miss Dorothy Carlson, winner of The Times grand finals on the Fourth National Oratorical Contest on the Constitution, left here this evening on her way to Washington where she will compete in the national finals of this contest next Friday. Miss Carlson, accompanied by her mother, was a guest at the Mission Inn here Thursday night following a week of entertainment in and around Los Angeles after capturing the highest prize in the oratorical field in the Southwest.

In her farewell to California Miss Carlson was profuse in her praise of the treatment accorded her during her short sojourn in this State and evidenced a strong desire to return in the fall and take up a college course in preparation for a dramatic career. She praised the seven young men against whom she competed for forensic honors and voiced the highest praise for the officials and others connected with the contest.

She, in all probability, will be the only girl to compete in the national event, as she states that all but one of the several competing zones already have chosen young men for next Friday's oratorical test—the national classic.

Following her trip to Washington she said she will return to Salt Lake City, her home, and complete her high-school course, later returning to New York to sail on July 2 on a trip around the world, awarded her together with $500 cash as prize in The Times grand finals.

Bill Increasing Age of Majority for Girls Signed

SACRAMENTO, May 20. (AP)—California maids no longer may consider themselves guardians of their own welfare and conduct after they attain their eighteenth milestone.

Gov. Young today added three years to the time parents may supervise the conduct and business enterprises of their girls by approving a measure supported by Senator Jones of San Jose, increasing the age of majority from 18 to 21 years.

The law, however, will not require girls more than 18 to obtain the consent of their parents before they can wed the men of their choice. It also provides that those who marry before they are 21 may be considered as adults and may enter agreements and contracts on an equal basis with their elders.

WOODMEN CHIEF TALKS

Orders Books Open to World, Reply to Nebraska Attorney's Suit

OMAHA, May 20. (AP)—The books of the Woodmen of the World "are open to the world."

This was the verbal answer of W. A. Fraser, Sovereign Commander, to the ouster suit filed late yesterday by William B. Price, Lincoln (Neb.) attorney. Before the suit is concluded Price would be forced to defend himself, rather than to take the initiative in an action to remove the three chief officers of the organization, declared Fraser.

In his petition filed in District Court Price asks the removal of Mr. Fraser, John T. Yates, Sovereign Clerk, and De E. Bradshaw, general attorney. Charges of personal interest and unauthorized action in numerous transactions affecting the sale and lease of the nineteen-story W. O. W. Building here were made in the suit.

TAX BLOW TO BOOK IMPORTS IN MEXICO

MEXICO CITY, May 20. (Exclusive)—A decree providing a tax of 25 centavos per kilogram on unbound books imported into Mexico will virtually stop the importation of books, importers assert in a memorial to the Finance Department. Mexican book production is small, it is pointed out, and most books are brought from France and Spain. The Mexican bookbinders are adversely affected, it is declared, since the tax applies only to unbound books.

PRESBYTERIAN HOSTS GATHER

General Assembly of Church Slated at Bay City

Problems of Theology to Be Threshed Out

Will Hays to Be Candidate for Moderator

SAN FRANCISCO, May 20. (Exclusive)—Sixteen nations and 10,000 churches will be represented by approximately 5000 official and semi-official representatives when the one hundred and thirty-ninth annual general assembly of the Presbyterian church convenes in formal conclave here next Thursday.

Several hundred already are here for preconvention meetings of various kinds, particularly those pertaining to women's work in connection with church activities. They began Thursday and continue through Saturday, being in the nature of committee or group gatherings.

Open discussion by women delegates will be inaugurated Sunday afternoon in Calvary Presbyterian Church at the national biennial for women's missionary work. Twenty-five leaders of the board of missions, with their secretarial forces, and forty-one State presidents will be in attendance. Women's headquarters have been established at the Clift Hotel.

Meetings of the California synod get under way in the First Presbyterian Church of Berkeley Monday.

Other preassembly conferences cover the activities of home and foreign missions, church education and retirement pensions, starting Tuesday in the Civic Auditorium here.

SESSIONS THURSDAY

Formal executive sessions of the assembly, which begin Thursday, next, will continue to June 1. Each of the 299 prebyteries will be represented by not less than two officially appointed delegates and with the additional quotas of many, it is said, approximately 1000 of those in attendance will be formally accredited delegates. The remainder of the estimated 5000 attendance will be interested laymen.

Arrangements are virtually completed for the welcoming of the delegates. Interspersed with convention sessions are boat, train and automobile sight-seeing trips around the bay and to near-by points of interest.

Next Saturday evening three dinners have been planned. The men's fellowship banquet is scheduled for the Palace Hotel, the women's friendship dinner at the St. Francis and at the same hour there will be a banquet for the younger visitors sponsored by the young people's work council.

Rev. Ezra Allen Van Nuys, pastor of the Calvary Presbyterian Church, is chairman of the various bay committees on arrangements, and Rev. William Oxley Thompson, moderator, who was president of Ohio State University for twenty-five years and retired in 1925, will launch the assembly.

Verbal fireworks are expected to mark the first meeting and at the present time give evidence of continuing throughout the convention.

One of the first orders of business is the naming of a new moderator. A contest for that position remains problematical. If it develops one of the hottest fights for leadership the church has ever experienced is expected.

The conditional factor centers around the undetermined candidacy of Dr. Robert H. Speer of New York, who is secretary of the board of foreign missions. If he makes the race it is said that other proposed candidates are quite likely to withdraw. If he does not make the race there will be a merry fight among other candidates, of whom eight already are in the field, officially or through the booming activities of friends.

HAYS CANDIDATE

The complete list includes:

Will H. Hays, czar of motion pictures and chairman of the $15,000,000 endowment fund campaign for retired clergymen; J. Willison Smith, Philadelphia banker and head of the budget and finance committee for the general council for several years; Rev. George L. Robinson, professor of biblical literature and the English Bible at McCormick Presbyterian Theological Seminary, Chicago; Rev. J. E. Bushnell of Minneapolis; Rev. Hugh K. Walker of the First Presbyterian Church of Los Angeles, who has gained national prominence in the church and has been moderator both of the Los Angeles presbytery and the California synod, as well as a former candidate for moderator of the general assembly; Rev. Alvin E. Magary, now of Detroit, but a San Francisco native son, reared in the Mission district, where he sold newspapers as a boy, and Rev. Frank E. McKean of Spokane.

On the convention floor at least three matters of international scope are anticipated to cause ardent verbal battles.

They are the church's stand on divorces, commercialization of the Sabbath and action on the modernist-fundametalist imbroglio at Princeton Theological Seminary.

Dr. Thompson, present moderator, declares that varying interests will attempt to bring about a clarified attitude toward divorce. The church, he explained, does not look upon divorce with unusual severity, but the ease with which divorces may now be obtained has crystallized a feeling of uncertainty among Presbyterian ministers, who are not sure of the circumstances under which they shall give the blessing of the church to remarrying couples.

Presbyterians are more lenient than some churches in the matter now, Dr. Thompson averred. Infidelity is the only ground upon which some churches will sponsor remarriage, he said, but the Presbyterians also recognize willful desertion as a just cause.

Personally, Dr. Thompson takes a broad middle-of-the-road course on the observance of the Sabbath in so far as it is construed as a day of rest and spiritual thought, but is thoroughly averse to unwarranted iconoclastic commercialization of Sunday. This question also is due for discussion.

PRINCETON QUARREL

The Princeton theological tangle, which split students, teachers, church laymen and alumni and caused nation-wide comment, will break with the submission of a report by the special investigating committee. Dr. Thompson is chairman of that committee.

Leading the fundamentalist faction in the school is Rev. J. Gresham Machen, who has been a professor of theology there for twenty years. The opposition to him is led by J. Ross Stevenson, former moderator, and Charles Erdman.

Dr. Thompson said the special committee will introduce a resolution recommending a reorganization of the school's executive staff.

NEW BLOW STRUCK AT CRIMINALS

Gov. Young Signs Bills to Prevent Misuse of Plea on Insanity Grounds

SACRAMENTO, May 20. (Exclusive)—California today took a severe step against criminals who resort to the plea of insanity to condone their offenses and escape justice when two bills of the State Crime Commission's program were approved by Gov. Young.

One of these, Senate Bill No. 387, provides that when a defendant wishes to set up the defense of insanity he must enter a plea of not guilty by reason of insanity.

Under such circumstances the defendant first must be tried for the crime proper, independent of the insanity issue and if found guilty then another must be had to determine his sanity.

If found to be sane the trial judge would commit the defendant to prison and if found to be insane at the time the crime was committed he would be sent to a State hospital for the insane unless it appeared to the judge that the defendant had recovered his sanity. To determine this fact another trial would be had.

Senate Bill No. 386 provides that whenever a person convicted under the new insanity plea law is sent to an insane hospital he cannot apply for release until a year after commitment. Before release his sanity must be determined by a Superior Court hearing.

EATERS HIRED, SUIT CHARGES

Restaurant Buyer Says Seller Paid Laborers to Patronize Eating House for Week

CHICAGO, May 20. (Exclusive)—Forty-five laborers were hired to eat their meals for a week in a restaurant at 584 South Dearborn street to impress a prospective buyer with the prosperity of the establishment, it is charged in a suit filed today. The plaintiff, Dave Kaplan, asserts he was induced to buy the restaurant by the parade of "professional eaters."

The defendants are the former owners, Albert and Harry Whitefield, and Julius Erenberg, real-estate broker, who handled the sale. Kaplan is seeking the return of $4250 he paid for the place.

No Change Noted in Condition of H. E. Huntington

PHILADELPHIA, May 20. (AP)—The condition of Henry E. Huntington of Los Angeles, art collector and retired railroad executive, was reported at the Lankenau Hospital tonight as "unchanged." Detailed information was withheld by hospital authorities, who, beyond stating that the patient was "seriously ill," refused to discuss the case.

Mr. Huntington was operated on at the hospital on the 5th inst. by Dr. John B. Deaver. A few days later his condition was reported as critical. Early this week improvement was noted and yesterday Mr. Huntington sat up for a brief period.

RAILWAY TIE FRAUDS REPORTED IN MEXICO

MEXICO CITY, May 20. (Exclusive)—Mariana Cabrera, manager of the National Railways of Mexico, declares in El Universal today he has discovered frauds of millions of pesos by contractors furnishing ties. The contractors, Cabrero asserts, bribed railroad employees to remove new ties, replacing them with old ones, and the contractors then have resold the ties to the railroad. The practice, Cabrera says, has been going on a long time.

Hughes Says He Won't Race, but Backs Coolidge

NEW YORK, May 20. (AP)—Charles E. Hughes, Republican nominee for President of the United States in 1916, in a formal statement today referring to published reports of his possible candidacy for the Presidency next year said:

"I am too old to run for President, and I would neither seek nor accept the nomination.

"I am for President Coolidge first, last and all the time," he added, "and I believe that he will be renominated and re-elected."

He had not had his papers a year yet and in the order of things should have served a long voyage as junior officer before stepping to higher commands.

With a good bos'n, like Joe, a mate's carelessness did not matter very much.

But there were occasions when orders were countermanded by the officer for the sheer pleasure of humiliating a fine sailor. Such an occasion was the countermanded order about life-boat falls.

The rope needed changing in the blocks of one of the poop boats. It was rotten to the core and cracked alarmingly whenever strain was put upon it. Without consulting the mate, Joe brought new rope from the storeroom and started reeving it off.

"The falls will do another voyage," snapped Harry Carstairs when he saw what was happening. "Ask me in future."

"They won't hold the boat if we let them go," answered the bos'n grimly. "If we had to lower away with a full crew there'd be an accident."

"Don't tell me what to do."

So the matter was dropped and the new rope was taken back to the storeroom. Once Joe decided to go over the mate's head. The safety of the men was involved in weak boat falls. But the captain wanted to keep his job and Harry Carstairs was the owner's son. There was no crossing him. Time and the sea must settle the thing. But whenever Joe thought of Claire in the little village, sand and silent, waiting for this man to come back to her, insult her and beat her, he wanted to take the law in his own hands. A short time afterward as they were hoisting the poop boat to paint it underneath a fall gave way and crushed a man.

The Mayfair reached Japan and swung in, globes burning and her decks a chaos of coolies. The winches rattled continuously. Slingload after slingload of cargo came up from the holds, swung over the rail and was dropped down into the waiting scows. There was no let-up. For four days the Mayfair lay inert while men swarmed over her, chattering, laboring. And on the night of the fourth day the cargo was all unloaded.

Joe was sitting on the bitts near the port foreshrouds when the last of the coolies left. An able seaman came to him and said, "Did you know they hadn't put the hatches on, bos'n?"

The bos'n rose and followed the seaman down to the 'tween decks and stopped by number-two hold, almost under the bridge. In the sickly light from the electric globes the hatch gaped open and black, reaching down for thirty or forty feet clear to a steel deck. The wooden hatches were piled carelessly to one side. A white-jacketed steward was peering into the void.

He called to the bos'n. "Some one's liable to get hurt. A lot of the boys cross over that hatch to get to their rooms."

The bos'n nodded and frowned. The rooms the stewards occupied were on each side of the hatch, their doors opening on to a narrow alley. It was the habit of the men to cross the hatch as the shortest way to some other cabin. And with the hatches off some one would be likely to fall down. The mate was responsible for the hatches. He should have been on the job to see that the coolie stevedores replaced them before quitting the ship.

Joe went midships and entered the saloon. He approached the mate's cabin and heard a woman laugh, a little tinkling sound, like that of a giggling child. He leaned against a bulkhead, weak and sick, understanding. And Claire was this man's wife—Harry's wife. And he was entertaining women from off-shore, painted dolls from the quarter. He roused himself and knocked on the door.

Laughter ceased. Some one cursed inside and then the mate opened the door a little way. The bos'n caught a glimpse of a bare arm and shoulder. Then the mate blocked the view and snarled, "What d'you want?"

"The hatches are off number two hold, below decks, sir," said the bos'n.

The mate scowled. "I'll see to it in the morning."

"But the stewards live down there, and its likely that some one will fall."

"I'll be along after a while." The door slammed and the bolt slid home. The bos'n stood still for a moment and thought. Perhaps he should have the hatches covered. But the seamen were off watch and there would be a lot of grumbling if he disturbed them to start work again. The stewards ought to cover the hatches for their own safety but who ever saw a steward do any work outside of his own province? After all, the mate was responsible. The men would obey the mate.

It was an hour later when the mate came for'ard. He had, as a matter of fact, forgotten all about the hatches. He wanted to find the saloon steward and procure liquor from the locked storeroom below the saloon's pantry.

He went down the fo'c'sle companionway and turned into the alley that led into the 'tween decks where the steward's cabins were. Only one electric globe was burning. There was not much to be seen in the sickly dim glow. And the mate was in a hurry, anxious to get back to his room with the liquor keys. He started to cross the hatch as the custom was, making a short cut instead of following the narrow alleyway 'round the square of the hatch combings. He screamed once.

A steward heard his moaning on the steel floor thirty or forty feet below, and ran for help. Other lights switched on, electric clusters were brought.

The captain stood there, beside the winch drum, biting his lips and frowning. The bos'n had just completed his explanation as to the reason there were no hatches over the hold. Then the shattered mate came to view and quick hands steered his rough stretcher away from the combing and the winch, dropped it lightly to the deck planking. The captain bent over the injured man.

"About gone," he stated after a while, curtly. He stood up and looked round on the silent, white-faced crew. "You men replace those hatches."

The bos'n stared away over the harbor to the twinkling lights of the town. He was thinking of Claire, wondering if she would remember their meeting on the village street . . . The sea could be depended upon to weed out the unfit. Ships were not brought home and hurried from port to port by carelessness.

The captain was intoning grimly. "His own fault . . . He should have seen to it that the hatches were on . . . What did he think he was getting paid for, anyway?" And no man answered. But the old seamen there nodded their heads wisely and stared with crinkled eyes out to where the surf thundered and creamed beside the breakwater, as though chuckling over some monstrous joke.

BUSINESS OF STATE OUTLINED

Public Board of Directors Praised by Finance Head Before Bay City Club

SAN FRANCISCO, May 20. (Exclusive)—Alexander R. Heron, head of the newly created State Department of Finance, outlined to members of the Commonwealth Club today what he termed "the business of the State of California," as conducted by the heads of various State departments working in unison. The idea of having them meet in unison with the Governor, broached and put into operation by the 1927 Legislature, was described as "the most successful experiment ever made by any State in intelligently correlating and grouping government departments."

"Next September," the speaker said, "you will read for the first time in history of the meeting of the board of directors of the State of California, commonly known as the Governor's council, or cabinet. Ninety-five agencies are grouped under eleven departments, headed by nine directors. These men will meet monthly with the Governor to thresh out problems. I venture to state that never have more than four department heads met with a Governor to talk over the people's business.

"Members of the board are the directors of finance, education, institutions, public health, public works, agriculture, industrial relations, social welfare and natural resources."

Estados Unidos y Gran Bretaña Celebran un Convenio

WASHINGTON, Mayo 20.—Los gobiernos de Estados Unidos y la Gran Bretaña se han puesto de acuerdo en lo tocante al arreglo de las reclamaciones mutuas y de las de individuos contra ambos gobiernos con motivo de la confiscación de mercancías en tiempo de guerra; pero los términos del arreglo se han mantenido en secreto mientras se dispone la publicación de las notas definitivas en que se ratifique el pacto. Parece ser, sin embargo, que de la liquidación de las reclamaciones resulta un saldo de $1,500,000, aproximadamente, a favor de los Estados Unidos, por más que el Departamento de Estado se negó hoy a confirmar esta noticia. Las reclamaciones son el resultado de la detención y del registro de buques, de ambos países, que se sospechaba transportasen provisiones de guerra para el enemigo durante la guerra.

Alemania Se Limpia las Manchas que le Arrojan Encima

BERLIN, Mayo 20.—La Comisión Histórico-Parlamentaria Alemana, que durante siete años ha estado haciendo una investigación relativa a los cargos de crueldad y de violación del derecho internacional lanzados contra Alemania durante la Guerra Mundial, así como también en el Tratado de Versalles, que hace a Alemania responsable de "la manera brutal e inhumana con que la guerra se llevó a cabo," ha absuelto a Alemania de todas estas acusaciones. En cinco tomos presentados hoy al Reichstag, el comité de historiadores, políticos y jurisperitos ha compilado la documentación con la cual se propone lavar al país de las culpas que se le atribuyen.

Se Revela un Nuevo Pacto Europeo

LONDRES, Mayo 20.—Aunque se han dado pasos para desautorizar la idea de que la entrevista celebrada el miércoles entre Sir Austen Chamberlain y Aristide Briand pasará de ser una charla personal, los resultados de la larga conversación entre los dos ministros de Relaciones Exteriores, a la que se atribuyó después oficialmente el haber consolidado la inteligencia franco-inglesa como base para mantener la paz de Europa, demuestran que se ha celebrado entre los dos gobiernos un verdadero pacto diplomático. El convenio es este: Primero, Francia se compromete a seguir a Inglaterra en la política relativa a Moscou; segundo, la Gran Bretaña se compromete a seguir a Francia en la política relativa a la región del Rin; tercero, Francia acepta el criterio conciliatorio de la Gran Bretaña respecto a la política Italiana; y cuarta, Francia se adhiere al criterio británico en lo tocante a la política china.

Sinclair es Sentenciado a Tres Meses de Cárcel

WASHINGTON, Mayo 20.—El millonario Harry F. Sinclair, explotador de pozos de petróleo, fué hoy sentenciado a tres meses de cárcel por rebeldía contra el Senado de los Estados Unidos. Además, el juez Hitz, de la Suprema Corte del Distrito de Columbia, le impuso una multa de $500, toda vez que la ley correspondiente prescribe la prisión y la multa.

La Primera Esposa es Madrina en la Segunda Boda de su Ex Esposo

CHICAGO, Mayo 20.—En la corte de relaciones domésticas aquí se presenció hoy el espectáculo extraordinario de que la esposa número 1 fuese madrina de la esposa número 2. Lo más curioso del caso es que las dos mujeres parecían inmejorables amigas. El marido también parecía muy tranquilizado, puesto que acababa de librarse de la cárcel acusado de bigamia. George Hansen se había casado con una campesina llamada Anne. En Marzo de 1926 nació un hijo de este matrimonio; y poco después, la esposa trajo al hogar dos hijitos que había tenido en un matrimonio anterior. George hubo entonces. En Febrero de 1927 se casó con Hazel Sheppard. Y en Abril fué detenido por bigamia. Pero la primera esposa renunció a todos sus derechos con la condición de que se le dieran $12.50 semanarios para mantener a su hijo; y el juzgado concedió el divorcio, casó de nuevo a George y a Hazel, y sobreseyó el proceso de bigamia.

Successful people who are wise turn to rural scenes as early in life as business permits. Three-fourths of the land has been purchased by people who are eagerly putting their money, thought and enthusiasm into the creation of lovely family homes. ## Joshua Little On Driven to Drink

IT'S odd that of all the fellows who are "driven to drink" none ever drinks from the fountain of wisdom.

It's flowing all the time. It's absolutely free. It's guaranteed to refresh and strengthen. And most of it is thoroughly aged pre-Volstead stuff.

Yet chaps who're driven to drink won't see it.

That's probably because they're so busy doing their own driving. All the men I've known who were driven to drink were self-driven.

They're self-starters, all right, but in the wrong direction.

It would be much easier to start right, with all the wisdom of the ages to guide by. And self-starters in the right direction always get somewhere.

Next time you feel driven to drink don't go looking for a blind tiger. Go to the library and read some philosophical work like the Morals of Seneca. That's some of the real old stuff, bottled more than 2000 years ago and guaranteed not to put out any eyes except the capital I's of egotism.

Yes, Palomine, a few sips of stuff like that will not only quench your fevered thirst but will clear your mind instead of fogging it, and then you can't help seeing that it is wholly unnecessary to make a bigger ass of yourself than you are already.

BORAH AND WYKOFF NOT TO TANGLE

Mate Pulls Tendon, So U.S.C. Star Won't Take Part in Santa Ana Meet

Charley Borah and Frank Wykoff will not meet today. The two star sprinters were slated to tangle in the third annual Orange county A.A.U. meet billed for this afternoon at Santa Ana. But Borah won't be there so the meeting naturally can't come off.

It all happened this way. Borah, with Ed House, Herschel Smith and Willie Lewis were to take part in the Santa Ana meet, trying for a new world's record in the 440-yard relay. Yesterday Smith pulled a tendon and that shot the team all to pieces.

In addition Coach Dean Cromwell decided it would be best to have Borah and the other boys fresh as they hopped the train for Philadelphia tonight, so regrets were sent to the Santa Ana officials.

The meet goes on just the same and there will be some corking events. Athletes from the L.A.A.C. and H.A.C. are entered and promise stiff competition. The affair starts at 1 o'clock.

BY BRAVEN DYER

There will be considerable hubbub in the neighborhood of the Arcade Station this evening, for Dean Cromwell and sixteen U.S.C. track athletes are to be given one of those "rousing sendoffs" for which college student bodies are notorious. The Trojans are to take their departure for Philadelphia, where on Friday and Saturday they defend their laurels as intercollegiate track-and-field champions of these United States.

The blowoff is scheduled for 4:45 p.m., with the Trojan special pulling out fifteen minutes later. Several hundred enthusiastic supporters will undoubtedly be in attendance, and the cheers of the multitude are likely to ring in the boys' ears for several miles at least.

Although Stanford is favored to win the meet, reports from the East indicate that squads there will be strong in many events. U.S.C. faces some real competition other than that afforded by Stanford. For the benefit of those who are vitally interested, the following data on eastern men is offered:

Sprints: Miller (Harvard) 9.8s. and 21.6s.; Tuxill (Pennsylvania) 10s. flat, 22.1s.; Alderman (Michigan State) 9.7s. and 21.8s.; Whelan (Georgetown) 9.8s. and 21.7s.; Charles (Colgate 9.8s. and 21.4s.; Paulsen (Yale) 9.9s. and 21.4s.

RINGSIDE, YANKEE STADIUM, NEW YORK, May 20. (AP)—Displaying an unexpectedly crushing attack, Jack Sharkey, giant ex-sailor, knocked out his Boston rival, Jimmy Maloney, tonight in the fifth round of a fifteen-round match that upset all calculations.

While a pop-eyed crowd of 80,000 looked on in astonishment, Sharkey mastered Maloney with a bewildering drive from the start, knocked down the chubby Irishman just before the end of the fourth round and finished him in the fifth with a slashing right-handed assault that left the beaten man a gory and battered figure.

It was a technical knockout victory, for the referee, Lou Magnolia, stepped in to stop the bout when the count had reached six on Maloney's third and last knockdown, but this did not affect the decisiveness of Sharkey's triumph.

Maloney, bleeding from the left eye, nose and mouth, had plunged to the floor from a vicious succession of right-handers to the head. He fell over the lower strand of rope, tried to struggle gamely to his feet, but fell back. Once again, gamely, he staggered up halfway, on one knee, starting toward his foe but plunged headlong again to the canvas, courageously going forward but virtually "out."

Twice before Maloney had gone down under the impact of Sharkey's vicious left hooks or jabs, followed by smashing overhand rights, but each time he jumped up without a count to rush back into the fray. This gameness possibly cost him a chance to recoup some of his waning powers.

The bell saved Maloney in the fourth as he jumped up from being toppled to his back. In the first few seconds of the fifth he went down for the second time, again leaping to his feet without a count. The finish, as dramatic and exciting as it was entirely unexpected, came after only fifty-two seconds of the fifth round had elapsed.

It was the manner of Sharkey's triumph that startled the crowd

Blow-by-Blow Story of Bout

ROUND ONE

ROUND TWO

ROUND THREE

Jim's left eye was in bad shape as he came to the center. The referee stopped the fight to pull down Sharkey's tights, worn unnecessarily high. Sharkey wove around the ring dodging cleverly to evade Jim's left lead. Jim managed to get in a left and right to the body, but Jack smashed a hard right under Jim's ribs to even the count. As they sparred aimlessly in the center of the ring, Sharkey contented himself with dancing up and down to evade punishment. Jim whipped in close again and a straight left set his nose bleeding. They were sparring again at the bell.

ROUND FOUR

Jack smiled confidently as he peeked a half-dozen times at Maloney's bad eye. Jim chased Sharkey to the ropes, pounding with both hands to the head and body, and blood began to trickle from Jack's left eye. Jim plunged both hands into Sharkey's body, but danced out of range and continued his left-hand salvos to Maloney's head. Jack's clearness kept Maloney missing. A smashing right to the chin knocked Maloney to the floor for no-count. He was up as the bell clanged.

ROUND FIVE

Maloney's face was badly battered, blood dripping from lips and eyes as he came up to meet Sharkey's swinging left. An overhand right sent Jim down again for no-count. Another overhand right sent Jim down. Maloney's body rolled helplessly on the canvas. His efforts to climb up failed and the referee waved him to his corner.

PILLETTE PITCHES MISSIONS TO 9-4 WIN OVER ANGELS

BY BOB RAY

Herman Pillette, the Missions' lumbering right-hander whose feet often get in his way when he is running or fielding bunts, made his "dogs" behave all day yesterday and hurled the Bells to a 9-to-4 victory over the abused Angels. The Missions win was the third of the week for the Bells and gives them a 3-to-1 edge in the series.

Pillette had things pretty much his own way in the first six innings, during which time his mates landed on the offerings of Earl Weathersby for seven runs. With a six-run lead to coast along on, Pillette did not run into trouble until the seventh and eighth, when the Angels rallied to put over their final three markers.

Just to make it even easier for Big Herman, the Bells banged over two more runs in the ninth inning off Al Smith to put the struggle on ice. The contest was about as uninteresting a one as has been played here this year, which is about the only outstanding thing that we can think of about the game.

WEATHERSBY LIFTED

Weathersby, who started on the mound for the Cherubs, was lifted for Cunningham in the fifth after the Bells had run up their score to seven. It wasn't all Tex's fault, though, for in the third inning, when the Missions put over their first batch of three runs, a couple of errors made all three of the tallies unearned.

Dick Cox and Wally Hood were the only Angels who could consistently solve the slants of Pillette, both of the outfielders clouting out a trio of bingles. Cox had a perfect day at the plate with three singles and a walk to his credit. Hood included a home run in his three safeties, the circuit swat coming in the seventh with the bases empty.

Both sides put over a run in the opening inning, singles by Swanson and Rodda. Finn's sacrifice bunt and Griffin's sacrifice fly to Wels accounting for the Missions marker.

Dick Cox opened the Angel half

CARDS OFF TODAY FOR PHILADELPHIA EVENT

SAN FRANCISCO, May 20.—The Cards pull out tomorrow, fifteen of them, for Philadelphia and, they hope, the first I.C.A.A.A.A. track-and-field championship ever to be captured by Stanford.

Not with the strength they promised to threaten at the end of the dual season, but with a squad that has its good points, nevertheless, Coach Templeton's men are still figured to battle it out with U.S.C. for the first two places in the eastern seaboard classic.

Emerson Spencer, the quarter-miler of parts, and Alex McKinnon, miler developed this season, already are on the ground at Philadelphia.

The fifteen leaving tomorrow are:

Nichols and West in the hurdles. Hoffman, Forster, Fleischhacker, Evans and Way in the shot and discus.

King and Work in the high jump. Shipkey and Sparling in the javelin.

Edmonds in the pole vault.

O'BRIEN LOSES ON FOUL

Young Gonzales Awarded Hollywood Main Event in Eighth When Tommy Lands Low Blow

Tommy O'Brien, the cleaner and dyer from Santa Monica who has been trailed by a jinx in his last two bouts, lost o na foul to Young Gonzales, Mexican lightweight from Texas, in the eighth round of last night's main event at the Hollywood Legion Stadium. Up until the low blow was landed Tommy had quite a margin over Gonzales and appeared on his way to a decision. O'Brien also lost his last bout by a foul.

O'Brien won four of the seven finished rounds last night. Gonzales took two and one was even. In the third Tommy landed his famous right three times, twice knocking Gonzales into a corner and once sending him reeling to the ropes. The Mexican was in a woozy condition at the bell. Tommy also had an edge in the first, fourth and fifth sessions.

Gonzales took the second and

TRAYNOR HERO OF PIRATE WIN

Home-Run Clout With Three on Breaks Up Tussle

Uhle Outhurls Hoyt to Beat New York Yanks, 2-1

Athletics Go Bat-Wild and Clean Chisox, 12 to 5

NEW YORK, May 20. (AP)—Pittsburgh took another fall out of the Giants here today by coming out on top of a twelve-inning battle by 3 to 2. Lee Meadows had a slight edge on his New York opponents and won his fifth straight game of the spring. Thus far he has not been charged with a defeat. The Pirates won on Greenfield's wildness in the twelfth when he walked three men and yielded three hits including a home run by Traynor with the sacks full.

Eddie Farrell, Giant shortstop, continued his remarkable batting streak with a homer, double and three singles in five times up. Smith of the Pirates hit a homer with none on base in the fifth.

BROOKLYN, May 20. Brooklyn used four pitchers, Babe Herman, Robins' first baseman, hit two home runs, bringing his total for the season up to six, but cost his club two runs with a wild throw in the eighth. ## TRIBE TRIUMPHS

CLEVELAND, May 20. (AP)—Cleveland evened the series with New York when Uhle took a pitchers' duel from Hoyt, 2 to 1. Each pitcher allowed seven hits. Uhle passed six men, but struck out five, including Gehrig twice, once with two on base, and two out.

Cleveland scored in the first inning, when Fonseca hit, Koenig muffed Grabowski's throw to catch him at second, and Burns singled. The Yankees tied it in the eighth. A pass to Ruth, Gehrig's single, and Durst's sacrifice were good for a run, but the Indians snatched back the lead and scored the winning run in the same inning on doubles by Summa and Jamieson after two were out. CHICAGO, May 20. (AP)—Philadelphia hammered three Chicago pitchers hard today and defeated the Sox, 12 to 5. Rommell, who started for the visitors, weakened in the fifth inning when the Sox started their rally and Gray came to the rescue. ## PILLETTE PITCHES MISSIONS TO 9-4 WIN OVER ANGELS

DEFENSE CRACKS

The Angel defense cracked behind Weathersby in the third and the Bells took advantage of this highly important fact to put over three runs. Pillette and Swanson opened the round with singles and advanced to third and second when Sandberg uncorked a wild throw in an attempt to catch Herman off the keystone sack. Rodda then hit one down the first-base line that Hemingway allowed to roll right through him, Pillette and Swanson scoring on the error. Rodda reached second on the throw home that arrived too late to catch Swanson, the speedy Swede from Lombard, Rodda stole third, from where he trotted home when Griffin drove a sacrifice fly to Cox.

The Bells put over three more runs in the fifth, during which round Weathersby made his departure. Pillette doubled to left center for a starter. Herman was held at second while Mitchell was throwing out Swanson, but he got to third when Rodda singled to center. Mickey Finn then placed one into the right-field corner that was good for three bases, Pillette and Rodda counting. Griffin and Rose both walked, filling the bases, causing Krug to derrick Weathersby and send in Bruce Cunningham. McDaniel's sacrifice fly to Weis scored Finn with the third run of the round.

Hood's homer gave the Krugmen one in the seventh, but the Angels waited until the eighth before giving the cash customers a semblance of a thrill. Jahn, batting for Cunningham, opened the eighth with a hit and Cox followed with another single. Staley fanned and Jacobs sliced to Swanson, but Hood singled off Pillette's glove to fill the bases. Art Weis hammered a double to right-center against the bleacher fence and Jahn and Cox counted. Hemingway hit a low liner to left, but Ed Rose extended himself after it looked as though he were going to play the ball on the hop and managed to snag the drive off his shoetops. That ruined the Angels' chances, for had Rose let Hemingway's hit fall safely the Seraphs would have scored two runs and been only one marker behind.

Finn's single, Wade's bunt, Rose's hit, a walk to McDaniel and Walters's single gave the Bells their final two scores in the ninth. The score:

ROCKSON VS. STRONG

SAN FRANCISCO, May 20. (AP)—Benny Ford, manager, announced today he had signed his rugged middleweight, Mickey Rockson, to meet Everett Strong of Omaha in a ten-round bout at Hollywood June 3. Rockson, who has fought the leading Coast 160-pounders, is getting into condition again after a siege of illness.

EASTERBROOK ON MAIN-STREET CARD

Tony Fuenti, one-time contender for the world's heavyweight championship, takes on an up-and-coming rival tonight at the Main Street Athletic Club, when he tackles Bud Easterbrook in the eight-round feature event. Carlo Curtis, the boy promoter, claims Easterbrook to be one of the coming stars of the game. He is a big, husky youngster, and displayed plenty of punch when he won his last start by a knockout. The preliminaries look especially interesting. Vernon Jackson tangles with Art Molina in the six-round semi-wind-up, while Bud Baker and Tom Moore wield the dukes in the special over a similar distance. Herman Ritterhouse and Al Madore hook up in one four-rounder, with Joe Commaux and Eddie Smith mingling in the opener.

SEALS FARMED OUT

SAN FRANCISCO, May 20. (AP)—Sid Hansen, pitcher, and Frank Woodson, catcher, have been farmed out by the San Francisco Seals to the Logan club of the Utah-Idaho League.

PHILLIES SPLIT IN TWIN BILL

Reds Win Opener, 6 to 2; Williams Has Field Day in Second Game

PHILADELPHIA, May 20. (AP)—The first doubleheader of the local season resulted in an even break this afternoon, Cincinnati winning the first game 6 to 3, and Philadelphia pounding out a 15-to-2 victory in the second game.

Cy Williams starred at bat with three home runs and a triple, the third homer coming with three on base. This ties him with Ruth and Gehrig of the Yankees with nine home runs each for the season.

In the first game, "Long George" Kelly hit a home run with three men on bases.

FIRST FLOOR—MEN'S STORE

Julia Claussen, Metropolitan Opera Star, who protects her voice, writes:

"When I decided to smoke cigarettes, I looked about to see which brand was in favor with most men. The answer was easy to find. I noticed that practically all the men at the opera were smoking Lucky Strike. I learned from them that this cigarette, delightful in flavor, left their voices in splendid shape for their singing. So I tried Lucky Strikes and knew that the men were correct in their judgment. I am enthusiastic about their flavor and the fact that they do not affect my voice."

SHARKEY STOPS RIVAL IN FIFTH

and experts more than anything else. The former gob was conceded the edge in boxing skill, in the shiftiness of his defense and his resourcefulness, but it was felt that Maloney, regarded as the harder puncher, would supply the finishing punch if any knockout was to occur.

Instead Sharkey was the superior in hitting power as well as ring science. In turning the tables on his foe, the lithe Lithuanian registered the most spectacular and impressive victory of his career while also showing himself to the front as a formidable contender for Gene Tunney's crown.

Tunney was a witness to Sharkey's prowess tonight, watching the battle with absorbing interest from a ringside seat. Between "Gentleman Gene" and a title bout only Jack Dempsey looms in Sharkey's path, for it was Tex Rickard's announced plan to match tonight's victor with the former champion in August to determine Tunney's opponent.

FIGHT BRIBE YARN COOLS

NEW YORK, May 20. (AP)—The pre-battle flurry aroused today by a reputed offer of a $150,000 bribe for Jack Sharkey to "throw" his fight with Jim Maloney simmered down after a brief investigation by the New York State Athletic Commission failed to develop any startling particulars.

It became chiefly an issue of newspaper ethics when Sharkey, asked to explain a newspaper article bearing his by-line and detailing the alleged offer to his manager, Johnny Buckley, two days ago, disclaimed authorship of the story, adding that he had not even seen it until he reached the commission. The boxer informed the authorities the greater part, if not all, of his professional activities were limited to pugilism.

SHARKEY VICTORY PLEASES DEMPSEY

"Sharkey's decisive defeat of Maloney was the biggest boost the heavyweight fight game has received in years. Jim was a mighty tough boy and I want to congratulate Sharkey upon his victory," Jack Dempsey, ex-heavyweight champ, stated here last night.

Dempsey, training for a return fight with Gene Tunney, present champ, said last night that he hoped to be ready to meet Sharkey or Tunney within the next few months. "It all depends upon Rickard," Jack said. "Sharkey is just about good enough to stop Tunney right now, and while I think I can take him—a Sharkey fight should draw a big purse."

Estelle Taylor Dempsey, celebrating her birthday with a number of friends last night, refused to deny that the world's heavyweight crown would return to the Dempsey domicile before snow flies—in the East.

SHARKEY STOPS RIVAL IN FIFTH

and experts more than anything else. The former gob was conceded the edge in boxing skill, in the shiftiness of his defense and his resourcefulness, but it was felt that Maloney, regarded as the harder puncher, would supply the finishing punch if any knockout was to occur.

Instead Sharkey was the superior in hitting power as well as ring science. In turning the tables on his foe, the lithe Lithuanian registered the most spectacular and impressive victory of his career while also showing himself to the front as a formidable contender for Gene Tunney's crown.

Tunney was a witness to Sharkey's prowess tonight, watching the battle with absorbing interest from a ringside seat. Between "Gentleman Gene" and a title bout only Jack Dempsey looms in Sharkey's path, for it was Tex Rickard's announced plan to match tonight's victor with the former champion in August to determine Tunney's opponent.

Some eighty members of the Southern California Hotel Men's Association were guests of J. A. Baldi of the Yellow Taxi Company in an honorary tournament over the Hollywood Country Club course yesterday. J. P. Furness of the Continental Hotel won low gross honors, with a snappy 80. Low net honors fell to Frank Ewing, vice-president of the association, who scored an 86-12-74. Second low net honors went to J. B. Poulston of the Hotel Maryland of Pasadena, who turned in a card of 90-12-78.

O'BRIEN LOSES BOUT ON FOUL

sixth rounds. In the seventh the Mexican caught O'Brien off balance and dropped Tommy for no count with a left hook. O-Brien finished the round strong and evened up this stanza.

Gonzales went down claiming a foul early in the eighth and was examined in his corner by Referee Freddy Gilmore, who allowed the foul.

A packed house turned out for the bout.

John Patrick Dougherty, who does considerable scrapping out at the Hollywood Stadium, was awarded an unpopular decision over Chick Roach in the six-round semi-wind-up. Bob Roper, former heavyweight fighter, was the referee and he drew down quite a few boos from the fans, who took exception to the verdict.

Patrick piled up a lead by winning the first three rounds, but Roach took the final three stanzas from the Irish middleweight and most of the fans thought that the least he was entitled to was a draw. Patrick got the worst of the bout, for he suffered a cut left eye in the second round that Roach worked on considerably in the final sessions.

Bobby LaSalle, local 140-pounder, defeated Joe Bell in the six-round special event that was a toe-to-toe slugging match from start to finish. Both boys took plenty of punishment.

In the preliminaries Jimmy Dolan decisioned Walter Still in four, and Everett McDevitt, a heavyweight, won over Bill Clark in the four-round curtain-raiser.

MRS. LIFUR GOLF CHAMP

ern title at Midwick last year, has been characterized with her remarkable ability to play recovery shots from rough and traps. Yesterday, California's "fightenest" champ, kept every shot well down the center and proved conclusively that she has lopped at least ten shots off her game during the past twelve months.

Mrs. Lifur's real success is attributed to a staunch fighting heart and a more compact form that has added at least twenty-five yards to all wood shots. A chip and run approach shot—never more deadly, proved more than a deciding factor in the final result yesterday.

Mrs. Lifur drew first blood for the benefit of a representative gallery including Douglas Fairbanks, Joseph Schenk, George Von Elm, Charlie Lubin, Charlie Guest, Arthur Clarkson, Lewis Scott—and several hundred others, with a par three to win the second. Mrs. Lifur's chip approach started functioning early and she ran down a short putt to halve the first hole with a 4. Mrs. Jones three putted the second.

Mrs. Lifur attempted to run her approach to three and caught casual water, losing the hole to another par 4. Mrs. Jones was over the 590-yard fifth and required an eight. Mrs. Lifur copping a one up lead with a par five. The sixth that worries the best of amateurs, was solved with two perfect par 4s but after Mrs. Lifur ran down a twenty-foot putt for a par three on six, Mrs. Jones missed her ten-foot try for a halve and was two down.

If you think the girls weren't playing golf—Mrs. Lifur was over the par five eighth in two and Mrs. Jones was short. Mrs. Jones pitched dead for a birdie four to win the hole when Mrs. Lifur lost her long try for a halve. Mrs. Jones caught the ninth green with a fine iron and won the hole with a par 4 and squared the match. Mrs. Lifur was short and missed an approach.

Mrs. Jones pushed her drive into the rough going to ten, but played a beautiful recovery that carried the flag just short of the the green. Mrs. Lifur's perfect pitch left her a three-foot putt for a birdie that smacked into the back of the cup. Mrs. Lifur had been outdriving Mrs. Jones all the way—which was more or less a surprise to Mrs. Jones—and to the gallery and was fifty yards in front going to eleven.

A second perfect wood left Mrs. Lifur twenty feet short of the green while Mrs. Jones pitched sixty yards to the lower left corner of the putting surface. Mrs. Lifur missed the flag with her approach by less than one inch, and lipped the cup for a par four. Mrs. Jones missed a two-foot putt for a halve.

Mrs. Lifur carried the trap guarding twelve, while Mrs. Jones was safely home with a spoon. Mrs. Lifur's out was perfect and she again rimmed the cup with a ten-foot try for a halve. Mrs. Jones won the hole and was one down. Mrs. Jones let fly for the first time during the round and was in front off the thirteenth tee. Mrs. Lifur played just short with a spoon, but Mrs. Jones pulled her wood shot above the green, behind a bunker and missed two shots getting out. Mrs. Lifur dropped a seven-foot putt for a par four to win the hole and was two up.

Mrs. Lifur pulled a long tee shot going to fourteen, while Mrs. Jones laid a fair attempt down the center. Mrs. Jones connected with a real brassie, but Mrs. Lifur, from off line, carried twenty yards in front. Mrs. Jones caught a trap with her third while Mrs. Pressler got home with a long wood. Mrs. Jones exploded over the green and was short with an aproach, Mrs. Lifur playing safe and winning the hole with a 6.

Both laced out beautiful drives going to fifteen and Mrs. Jones pitched for a ten-foot putt for a birdie. Mrs. Lifur was short but chipped dead for a par four and halve when Mrs. Jones missed her better-than-par attempt. Mrs. Pressler caught the tricky sixteenth green with a beautiful pitch. Mrs. Jones was over. Mrs. Lifur rimmed the cup for a birdie two and won the hole with a par 3 and the match, 4 and 2, when Mrs. Jones missed the putt that didn't matter anyway.

COLIMA LIKED BY FANS

Whittier Boxer is Even Bet in Fight Circles to Wallop Shade; Olympic Scrap on Tuesday

Bert Colima is figured to be a better bet against Dave Shade when they clash next Tuesday night at the Olympic than he would be is he was fighting either Mickey Walker or Leo Lomski.

In some circles Bert is being given an even chance against Shade. Down in Little Mexico he is the favorite in small bets. But the smart money is making Shade a slight choice due to the fact that Colima is a fluctuating quantity. The best argument for Colima in this fight is that he holds a four-round decision over Shade, made in the four-round days. Walker would be 10-6 favorite over the Mexican and Lomski probably would be close to two to one. Both Walker and Lomski are credited with knockouts over Bert, although both were a bit questionable.

Colima claimed a short count in Seattle against Lomski and Dutch Meyers broke up the Walker fight here by getting a bottle of smelling salts too close to the Mexican's nose when he was on the floor—put there by a lick from Walker's right hand to the jaw.

There is a lot of confidence floating around the Mexican's camp because Bert has come through his training without a mark. His hands are perfect and the cut which Ace Hudkins ripped over one of his eyes has healed well.

LAMBERT SPURNS GOLF CASH

"Thirty-four years a golfer but never a 'pro'" might be a good title for Pat Lambert, new department manager and golf adviser of the William H. Hogee Co., for though he has had long and remarkable experience in the game, he has never consented to give instructions for pay. He is still a member of two of Ireland's famous clubs, Kilkenny and Rosslore, as well as several of the Pacific Coast's best.

WINNER OF LUTZE-JONES GO TO GET CRACK AT STECHER

A bout with Joe Stecher, world's heavyweight champion, will go to the winner of the return battle between Nick Lutze and Paul Jones, who meet Wednesday night in one of the star bouts of Lou Daro's wrestling show at the Olympic.

When Jones forced Lutze to jump out of the ring in an effort to break the Texan's hook body-scissors, the score between these two was evened up. Each now has a victory over the other to his credit. But Jones's win, which came when Lutze was knocked out after each had obtained a fall, left a question in the minds of many fans, Lutze and Daro as to Jones's superiority over the Chicago grappler.

Lutze still claims he would have beaten Jones had he not been knocked out, and the way he is going about his training work, Mr. "Admiral" Paul Jones of Houston, Tex., proclaimed a terror in those parts, may get enough resin in his back Wednesday night to make him feel as if he were walking around with a mat tacked to his shoulders.

Displaying their ability on the same program with these two will be George Kotsonaros and Renato Gardini, who also have a grudge to settle, and Russell Vis and Tommy Henderson, who clash in a special event.

DIRT-TRACK RACING STARTS AGAIN AT ASCOT TOMORROW

Dirt-track racing will be resumed at Ascot under brand-new management tomorrow afternoon when V. D. Newton and H. A. Marow stage the first of a series of monthly speed programs they have scheduled for the Alhambra-avenue oval.

Seven events are scheduled for the first day's racing over distances ranging from one lap to forty laps, and including a race for roadsters which will give youthful amateurs an opportunity to further their ambitions as race drivers.

Bill Spence, 1927 dirt-track champion; F. W. Bobzein, the newest star in the racing firmament; Lon Moore, Speed Hunkley, Bill Bundy, Mel Kenealey, Charley Gelston, Bill Heisler, Armen Paloutzian, Barney Kloepfer and a dozen or more nationally famous pilots will be at the wheels of the fastest four-cylinder cars in the world, and there promises to be an afternoon filled with spectacular assaults on track and world records.

PREP NET PLAYERS TO CLASH

High School Tennis Stars Gather Today at Fullerton in Annual Tourney

Miss Majorie (Midge) Gladman, Santa Monica junior, and Keith Gledhill, youthful racketer of Santa Barbara, are the reigning favorites for championship laurels today at Fullerton, where the Southland high-school tennis stars are slated to gather, at an early hour this morning, as the annual Southern California tennis championships get started at 8 o'clock. The Fullerton Union High School, with sixteen courts on the grounds, will be the scene of the annual affair.

Miss Gladman, leading junior of the south, and now twice official champion of prep racketers, is a huge favorite over the field of female racketers this afternoon and should retain and cop her title for the third year. Miss Louise Hoyt of Glendale High, and Miss Helen Marlowe of Manual Arts High, are a pair of the otherwise dangerous threats in the championship path of Miss Gladman.

Tilden's first straight-set victory over La Coste also marks the first time "Big Bill" has conquered his French rival since the 1925 Davis Cup challenge round. Pole vault: Bradley (Princeton) 12ft. 10 1-2in.

Broad jump: Hetfield (Dartmouth) 23ft. 2 3-4in.

It will be noted that Sabin Carr, the Yale pole vaulter, is not listed. He was defeated by Bradley last week. Carr's indoor vaulting has apparently left him stale, for he hasn't hit the high spots yet. The marks shown here are just picked at random from eastern meets, but they show the class of boys performing along the Atlantic Coast.

Alberger, who resigned as general manager two years ago and who, it is said, will also resign the directorship he has held since then. At the same time the board accepted the resignation of General Manager George H. Harris. The office was abolished and its duties devolve upon Lester Ready, president and operating head of the company.

Lundberg and Gustav Epsteing of J. Barth & Co., recently were elected to the board. H. G. Clayburgh, also of J. Barth & Co., already was a member.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, May 20. (Exclusive)—The cotton market made more new high records for prices since early last September from soon after the opening today on a continuation of yesterday's bullish activity, when prices left off with a net advance of 32 to 38 points from Wednesday's closing. Today's rise was 10 to 15 points further, bringing May contracts here up to 16.05c. July 16.25c, October 16.62c, December 16.80c and January to 16.85c.

As these prices show an advance from 400 to 420 points or between $20 and $21 a bale from the lowest quotations on the last season's crop, reached December 4, a great deal of profit-taking developed as well as fresh southern selling. It was accelerated by splendid rains officially reported in Eastern and Central Texas of a much-needed character against the drought and high temperatures lately in that State on the new crop.

The market broke from this pressure in the late trading with prices going off 20 to 25 points before 2 o'clock. This reaction brought May contracts back to below 15 7-8c, July 16c, October 16 3-8c and December and January 16 5-8c. Sentiment which had been bullish yesterday and during the early trading, was considerably modified by this heavy profit-taking movement indulged in by some of the largest houses in the trade here, and also the better weather conditions for the Texas crop.

Liverpool markets were strong early from a general buying movement there. Spot cotton in that market went up 18 English points to 8.98d for middling. Futures advanced 22 to 25 points, but later reacted with a setback in our market and closed very steady at 13 to 16 points net decline on the day, against 11 to 14 to have met our closing advance of yesterday. Many in the trade are commenting on the current bullish feeling in the market with considerable new outside buying developing after the recent sharp rise in prices where few could be induced to take any interest when prices were ranging between 12 and 12½c.

BANKERS TO STUDY TAXES

State Meeting Approves Proposal to Employ Research Experts to Work Out New Levy System

BY EARLE B. CROWE
"Times" Staff Correspondent

DEL MONTE, May 20.—Acting on the belief that taxation is the major problem that will confront the banks and probably the State as a whole in the next two years, the California Bankers' Association today, in the second session of its annual convention, approved a proposal to conduct an intensive study of taxation in preparation for the possible establishment of a new scheme of taxation for the entire State.

To play its part in whatever revision may come the association voted to employ research experts under the direction of the consolidated committees on taxation and legislation, and directed the committee to work with the tax commission created by the California Legislature as closely as possible. The delegates are particularly concerned with the rate of taxation on bank shares, but there are ramifications that apparently impel the bankers to give consideration to the whole field of taxation.

In unofficial discussions among the delegates the fear is expressed that the amendment to the State constitution exempting certain classes of property may be found unconstitutional and in conflict with the Federal statute relating to the taxation of national bank shares. If this belief is well grounded the conclusion is that taxation methods in California will be thrown into a welter of confusion.

State bank members of the association are already uneasy over the repeal by the last Legislature of the 7 per cent law, and by the Supreme Court decisions recently that nullify State laws giving more favorable rates of taxation to capital in competition with national banks. In California real-estate mortgages and the stocks of domestic corporations are exempt, which would also exempt the shares of national banks following the late Supreme Court decisions.

Should exemption be given in California to national banks, the State banks, as many of the delegates privately assert, will be forced to convert into the national system. It is this possibility, it is pointed out, that threatens to carve a generous slice from the State's revenue from taxation, and impels serious consideration for the creation of a new system of taxation.

The alternative, according to some of the delegates may be found in a State income tax. Under this system all property taxes would be abolished, and levy made directly on the incomes of individuals and corporations.

TECHNICAL DISCUSSIONS

Aside from the interest aroused by taxation, the report of George A. Vansmith, vice-president, Anglo London Paris National Bank of San Francisco, for the economic council, was closely followed for its technical discussion of finance companies. He expressed the opinion that the financing methods of companies handling at least two-thirds of the volume are fundamentally unsound and in violation of one of the cardinal principles of good banking. Capital, long-term debt and bank lines should be, he said, in approximately equal proportions.

Co-operative marketing received attention from W. E. Wilcox, vice-president and cashier, Anglo London Paris National Bank, in his address as president of the association. "I am thoroughly convinced," he said, "that our marketing problems can be solved only by the association and co-operation of the producers under intelligent, constructive and honest leadership."

Plans are under way, Mr. Wilcox stated, to market the $30,000,000 grape production in the San Joaquin Valley over a seven months' period, instead of a three months' period. Under this orderly program it is believed that the troubles of the vineyardists will be largely corrected.

LONGYEAR HONORED

In addition to reports from J. P. Sartori of Los Angeles, as chairman of the legislative committee, and W. A. Sutherland of Fresno, as chairman of the taxation committee, a development of interest was the decision of the California members of the American Bankers' Association to campaign for the election of Willis D. Longyear, vice-president, Security Trust and Savings Bank of Los Angeles, as treasurer of the American Bankers' Association at the next convention in Houston, Tex. Mr. Longyear, who at present is on a trip around the world, is chairman of the committee on legislation of the national association, and a member of the executive council.

The convention also elected W. E. Wilcox, retiring president, and Lane D. Webber, trust officers, First Trust and Savings Bank, San Diego, as additional California representatives on the executive council of the American Bankers' Association.

J. S. MacDonnell, president, First National Bank, Pasadena, was elected California vice-president of the national association; H. C. Carr, vice-president, First National Bank, Porterville, and Leo S. Chandler, president, California Trust Company, Los Angeles, were chosen as California member and alternate member, respectively, on nominating committee, and James D. Lowsley, vice-president, First National Bank, Santa Barbara, was named as California vice-president of the national bank division.

London Daily Radio

BY ARTHUR W. KIDDY

[Copyright, 1927, New York Evening Post, Inc.]

LONDON, May 20. (By wireless)—The markets today were idle and inclined to weaken.

All financial articles in the London newspapers make amusing guesses concerning the destination of yesterday's gold withdrawal. The money market was visibly impressed and rates were distinctly firmer and will probably go higher.

Meanwhile the mystery of the gold is generally intensified by the apparent inconsistency of American purchases of French gold and the Bank of France is still showing no change in its weekly statements.

Sterling was a trifle firmer, but the outlook is entirely uncertain, owing to the intricacies of international finance, especially French operations.

The markets today were entirely dominated by yesterday's unexpected efflux of gold, which gave a shock both to the money markets and to stocks. In the latter direction it shattered the hope entertained of an early reduction in the Bank of England discount rate and resulted in the liquidation of securities by the weak bulls on the eve of the fortnightly settlement, thus occasioning weakness.

CITRUS USE GAIN TAKEN AS SUBJECT

Secretaries of Building and Loan Told Increase Due to Advertising

Sixty oranges were eaten by every man, woman and child in the United States last year, in contrast to a per capita consumption of approximately twenty oranges in 1907, W. B. Geissinger, advertising manager of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange, told members of the Building-Loan Secretaries' Association of Southern California at their regular monthly luncheon yesterday.

In speaking on the subject of "Co-operation," Mr. Geissinger pointed out the progress made by the California Fruit Growers' Exchange, through co-operation of its members, in the development of markets for California fruits. He attributed the sharp increase in consumption of oranges to the effectiveness of the exchange's advertising campaigns.

"In 1907 the California Fruit Growers' Exchange expended $6000 for advertising, while in the current year more than $1,700,000 will be spent to develop markets for California fruits produced by its members. In the past twenty years the exchange has spent $8,000,000 in advertising, has sold $900,000,000 worth of fruits and returned more than $700,000,000 to California growers.

"California is fortunate in having only two or three co-operative marketing fruit organizations. Florida with its more than 140 organizations of this kind cannot expect to make the progress in marketing its fruits that would be obtainable through the co-operation of these organizations under a smaller number of associations."

E. Earl Glass, general manager of the Southern California Rock Producers' Association, also spoke before the gathering on "Co-operation in Marketing." He said the success of the rock-producing industry in recent years has been effected through the co-operation of the various units and members of the association.

Optimistic Note in Dun's Survey of Trade Field

NEW YORK, May 20. (AP)—Dun's tomorrow will say:

Despite various repressing factors, business continues to show a gratifying stability, its fluctuations this month having been orderly. Where declines have occurred they have been less marked, in some cases, than those of a year ago, and in certain lines the trend has been upward. As usual, at this period, seasonal influences have caused conflicting tendencies, but the net result appears to have been a moderate contraction from the activities of recent months. That a more pronounced and more general let down has not developed is proof of the underlying soundness of conditions, for serious floods and storms and inclement weather in different sections have been adverse phases. Because of these impediments, a full distribution of goods in retail channels has not been possible, and agriculture, on the whole, is backward.

Weekly bank clearings $9,631,276,000.

Security Trust Branches Out in Hollywood Area

Security Trust and Savings Bank will open another branch in Hollywood to be known as the Hollywood and La Brea branch, according to an announcement by the head office yesterday. The new office will be located at 7034 Hollywood Boulevard, directly opposite the Garden Court Apartments. The official opening is scheduled for June 11.

The establishment of this branch marks the entrance of the Security Trust and Savings Bank into the important Highland-La Brea-Hollywood business district. This is the sixth branch operated by the Security Bank in the Hollywood section of the city.

George C. Woods, formerly manager of the business development department of the five Hollywood branches, has been appointed manager for the new banking unit.

Melons Moving From Imperial at Fast Rate

Shipments of cantaloupes from the Imperial Valley have been made at a much faster rate than was originally anticipated, and at the present time more than 100 cars have been moved, most of which were by express, according to a statement issued yesterday by the American Fruit Growers, Inc., of California.

Eastern values on first arrivals ranged from $9 to $15 a crate on standards, the statement said, with general reports as to quality being satisfactory. In spite of the exceedingly hot and humid weather which brought the melons on faster than expected, damage from mildew so far is considered negligible.

At the present time there is every prospect that shipments will continue on a satisfactory basis without any serious loss from disease that was experienced last year.

STANDARD OF JERSEY PROFITS UP

Net Earnings in 1926 Total $117,652,201; Income in 1927 Expected to be Lower

NEW YORK, May 20. (AP)—Standard Oil of New Jersey and affiliated companies in 1926 showed net earnings of $117,652,201 equivalent after dividends on the preferred stock to $5.01 a share on the common, compared with $4.72 a share in 1925, when net earnings were $111,231,355.

Net earnings in 1927 are not expected to equal those of last year, the annual report to stockholders says, for "it is apparent that the company's earnings for 1927 will reflect the present unsatisfactory conditions.

"The Standard Oil Company of New Jersey and its subsidiaries have curtailed producing activities wherever practicable; have shut down pressure stills and otherwise sought to protect their position and at the same time to assist the general situation of the industry.

"The overproduction of crude in the latter half of 1926 affected the earnings of the company to some extent in the late months, but did not exercise its full influence until after the turn of the year. Successive reductions in posted prices have brought crude below the average cost of producing it except in the newest prolific areas. To petroleum products, consumption has substantially increased over last year, but overproduction and stress of competition have brought selling prices to unremunerative levels."

OIL STOCKS IN DECLINE; BANKS GAIN

Richfield Leads Activity; Union and Standard Close at Lower Levels

Richfield was the feature of activity in the oil group on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday, a heavy volume of sales crossing the board from 19 1-8 to 19 7-8 with a close at 19, a net loss of 1-4 of a point. Union Oil of California lost 3-4 of a point to low and closed at 41 3-8, while Union Oil Associates closed 1-2 of a point lower at 40. Standard Oil of California receded a point to 33 1-4 and California Petroleum was off a fraction to 24 1-2. Rio Grande held firm at 16 1-8.

Southern California Edison issues were again in demand, although not as strong as on the two preceding days. Edison common receded 1-4 of a point to 34 1-4, Edison 6 per cent preferred lost 3-8 of a point to 25 1-4 and the 7 per cent preferred closed at 28 1-4 for a net loss of 1-2 of a point. Edison rights were in strong demand at 75, a firm figure.

Bancitaly Corporation strengthened, adding 1-4 of a point with a good volume to 116 5-8. Citizens National Bank was sold at 445, and California Bank was traded at the same figure. First National Bank continued to hold at the high of 500. Los Angeles Investment closed steady at 2.73.

Sunnyside Consolidated featured activity in the mining group, opening 1-2 of a cent higher at 6, touching 6 1-2, and then selling off with a large volume of sales to a close at 5. Prince Consolidated was heavily traded at 4 and Great Bend added 1-2 points to 68. Western Apex was off 2 1-2 cents to 27 1-2, and Boundary Cone added 1-2 of a cent to 7 1-2.

Business Philosophy

BY WILLIAM FEATHER

Two years ago a friend of mine was having a hard time. He suddenly found himself out of a company he had been with for eighteen years. He determined to break into a new line, operating for himself. The first year was most discouraging and I feared he was through.

Another years went by, and the other day I had a talk with him. He had become successful beyond his expectations. His work was agreeable, pleasand not arduous.

I said: "Evidently hard work isn't all that is necessary for success. You worked just as hard when you were starving as you are working today. Does luck account for the change?"

His answer: "No, I don't see it that way. When I started out I was convinced I could make a success of this business. I was willing to work hard, and I did. I refused to admit the possibility of failure. I could not afford it. The outcome of being on the job and available for opportunity eventually opened a door for me, and I rushed in. Had I not been alert and eager the door probably never would have opened for me. I don't call it luck."

BANK BULLETIN OPTIMISTIC

Business at Present Viewed as Orderly With Every Prospect of Continuing in Good Volume

BY PAUL WILLARD GARRETT

[Copyright, 1927, by New York Evening Post, Inc.]

NEW YORK, May 20. (Exclusive)—In its monthly bulletin on business published today the National Bank of Commerce in New York finds that "business is going along in an orderly way with every prospect of its continuance in good volume."

The bank rightly is pleased at the prompt return to work of farmers in the devastated Mississippi River flood regions. As the bank observes, about 14,000,000 acres, of which nearly 4,000,000 are normally in crops, are or recently have been under water. Half a million persons have been obliged to leave their homes with such movable property as they could take, but "the resiliency of an agricultural population in the face of such a situation is remarkable."

No sign of a check to the downward movement in commodity prices can be seen in the bank's barometer of the price level. Notwithstanding advances in some important agricultural products stimulated by unfavorable weather conditions, the general movement in the last thirty days, observes the bank, "has been definitely downward." It will be recalled that the National Bank of Commerce earlier this year constructed an index of wholesale prices designed purely and simply as a barometer and over a period of years the movements of the Bureau of Labor Statistics index has been forecast by the bank's compilation. This sensitive index reveals a decline of 2.6 per cent over the last month.

The bank's index shows that prices now stand at 94.80, taking the three-year average 1923-1925 as 100 per cent, or at the lowest level in exactly five years. A chart of the bank's index indicates pretty plainly that a further recession in the government's compilation may be expected unless the recovery in agricultural commodities continues more sharply that now is anticipated. Altogether the authorities of this institution cling to their view expressed early in 1927 that excellent business still is in prospect and that it will take more than the Mississippi flood, overproduction in oil and the Japanese misfortune to turn the tide downward.

While admitting the seriousness of the Mississippi flood, for example, the bank says that the effects of this disaster "can by no means be sufficient to have any pronounced effect on general business." An indication of an upward trend in loans on stocks and bonds is seen, but since the bulk of Wall-street loans is made with money sent to New York from the interior, increases in the supply of funds may be expected only as commercial demands decline. While an important liquidation in the stock market would drive money rates lower, the bank sees "no evidence of any change in the conditions which have obtained for some time, whereby the pressure of funds seeking investment has exerted a supporting and stabilizing influence on the market by reason of the strength imparted to stocks, which may rightly be termed investment issues."

UTILITY EXPANDS

Southwest Gas Enlarging Field by Absorption of Several Systems

Merger of several gas distributing systems in Texas and Oklahoma, with estimated average annual consumption of 8,000,000,000 cubic feet, into the Southwest Gas Company, marks the first step toward larger and more important grouping interests identified with the Houston Gulf Gas, together with prominent bankers and gas operators in the Houston area interested in consolidation. Initial consolidation will result in an early offering of $3,000,000 first mortgage 6 1-2 per cent sinking fund gold bonds with stock purchase warrants, by a group headed by Edmund Seymour & Co., Inc., and Mysell, Moller & Co., Inc.

The new company, organized under the laws of Delaware, supplies natural gas at retail to cities and towns in Central Texas and Oklahoma and in addition supplies gas wholesale through long-term contracts to Oklahoma Gas and Electric and many other companies.

EXTRA DECLARED BY GARNER OIL BOARD

Garner Oil Corporation directors yesterday declared an extra dividend of 1-2 per cent payable immediately to stockholders of record on the 19th inst., in addition to the regular monthly dividend of 1 per cent, payable June 1 to stockholders of record on the 20th inst. The Garner Oil Corporation is exclusively a royalty-owning company owning royalties in seven fields and four States and income from more than seventy-five producing wells.

DEMAND IN WOOL MART IMPROVES

Prices Firmer in Boston; Buying Moderate in West, Except in Texas

BOSTON, May 20. (AP)—The Commercial Bulletin tomorrow will say:

"There is a better demand for wool both in the eastern and western markets. Prices here are firmer, though not appreciably dearer. In the West, buying has been moderate except in Texas, where high prices prevailed in the San Angelo sale, twelve months' wools bringing from 37 to 41 3-4 cents and eight months wools 31 to 33 cents, which prices are just about equal to the peak prices of last year.

"The foreign markets are strong. The English and Continental top makers are quoting very firm prices. At the Brisbane sale this week values were slightly above the last Sydney sale, although the selection was only ordinary, on the whole.

"Improvement is reported in the goods markets both in worsted and woolen lines, spinners are getting a little more business and combers are standing pat on prices.

"Mohair is slow with prices slightly changed.

"The rail and water shipments of wool from Boston from January 1, 1927, to May 19, 1927, inclusive, were 70,435,000 pounds against 79,994,000 pounds for the same period last year. The receipts from January, 1, 1927, to May 19, 1927, inclusive, were 122,389,000 pounds against 155,198,357 pounds for the same period last year."

Building-Loan Celebrates on Birthday Date

Attended by what is said to be the fastest growth ever enjoyed by a like organization in California, the Pacific Coast Building-Loan Association celebrated its second birthday here yesterday. During the two years of its corporate existence ended yesterday, the association's assets passed the $2,000,000 mark, according to a statement issued late yesterday by A. A. Anderson, secretary.

The rise of the company's resources has been steady. Assets on July 1, 1925, were reported at $69,463; on October 1, 1926, $200,811, and in the following January had increased to $321,775. On November 1, last, assets totaled $1,048,769, and in the last six months have doubled.

Since the association was founded two years ago, the loan department negotiated 928 loans, with an average amount less than $2500. Approximately 80 per cent of this money has been loaned to construct new homes, 25 per cent for improvement programs, coupled with refinancing, and the remaining 25 per cent was absorbed in strictly refinancing channels.

Officials of the association and a few invited guests assembled at the Jonathan Club last evening for a banquet celebrating the second birthday of the institution. Dr. Gordon S. Watkins, professor of economics at the University of California at Los Angeles, addressed the group on "The Building and Loan Association's Relation to General Business." Other speakers included George H. Barnes, chairman of the board of governors of the American Green Cross, and E. P. Perrine, manager of the Merchants Life Insurance Company.

THE INVESTOR

New Investment Trust Idea Introduced by American Company

[Copyright, 1927, by New York Evening Post, Inc.]

NEW YORK, May 20.—Ideas and methods on finance so far have originated for the most part in Europe, but there have been many instances in which they have been enlarged upon and improved by American financiers—the latter due partly to the different needs of the people and industries of this country and partly to the natural aggressiveness and ingenuity of bankers and business men here.

The investment trust is a product of England and Scotland and is one of the outstanding investment mediums of those countries. The principles upon which they are operated were introduced into this country since the war, and, although there have been slight variations in their adaptations, until the present time there has been nothing which might be termed as an improvement over them.

A new idea has just been worked out by the Investment Managers Company, however, which, if not a definite improvement, bids fair at least to broaden the scope of their operations. This company, under the direction of Edgar Lawrence Smith, noted investment trust authority, is about to assume the responsibility of building up accumulative investments for the benefit of its clients. That is to say, earnings on the clients' funds will be reinvested under investment trust principles with the primary object of increasing the principal. Ordinarily as much of such earnings as is deemed advisable are paid out in dividends.

This new plan, it is believed, will fill the needs of those who wish to establish a fund for use during their declining years. It will probably also appeal to those who wish to build up a trust fund for their children.

Mr. Smith, in outlining the purposes of "accumulative investment," says as follows in the company's prospectus:

"The results which follow the regular compounding of income over a period of years are appreciated by many, but where income is received by individuals in odd amounts at irregular intervals its prompt reinvestment is troublesome. Too often, on this account, a program of great potential future worth is never undertaken, or, if undertaken, is not continued for a period long enough to show substantial results.

"Investment trust fund B, managed by Investment Managers Company, is designed to serve investors who believe that a sound program of uninterrupted accumulation can be most safely carried forward under experienced, professional supervision.

"By combining the accumulative funds of many investors in a single trust fund such management is effectively applied to the resources of all participants at a minimum cost to each."

STOCK PRICES ADD TO GAINS

Gas, Continental Insurance, Houston Oil, International Cement, International Harvester, Liggett and Myers, and Timken Roller Bearing climbed 4 to 10 points, all to new peak prices. American Smelting, Woolworth, Collins and Aikman, American Tobacco, Christie Brown and Gold Dust were among the more than two score other new highs.

There were several soft spots scattered throughout the list, notably Colorado Fuel, International Combustion, Pan-American Western B, Wabash and Westinghouse Airbrake.

Time money and commercial paper rates were unchanged.

Erratic fluctuations in Japanese yen featured the foreign exchange market. Soon after the opening they sold down to 45.90 cents, later rallied to 46.50, fell to 46.35 and closed between 46.35 and 46.40 cents. Other rates held fairly firm, with demand sterling quoted around $4.85 3-16 and French francs above 3.91 cents.

Except for a drop of nearly 2 cents a bushel in May wheat, the commodity markets presented few changes of importance. Cotton and coffee closed slightly lower and sugar prices were firmer.

SPARKS IN FALL AFTER VOTE HUNT

Councilman Tumbles Off Back Porch and Breaks Ankle, Wife Says

Councilman Sparks, candidate for re-election in the Fifth District, who has been absent from his Councilmanic duties for two days, was located at his home 2646 South Normandie avenue, last night, where his wife said that he had been ill and yesterday broke his ankle. She said that Councilman Sparks was nervous and was resting in bed as the result of his accident, which, Mrs. Sparks explained, was caused by a fall on the back porch of their home yesterday afternoon. Following the accident, Mrs. Sparks said, the Councilman was taken to a hospital where his ankle was X-rayed and found to be broken.

R. S. SPARKS

The mystery as to Councilman Sparks's whereabouts was occasioned by the fact that conflicting accounts were given on Thursday as to where he could be found. One of his political managers said he was busy campaigning in the Fifth District all day Thursday. This version differs from that given at the Councilman's home last night.

Mystery Blast Peppers Worker Full of Brass

An explosion which filled the skin of Robert F. Moore of 2865 Longwood avenue with about 400 fine particles of brass, was being investigated last night by police.

Moore reported that he was burning grass and weeds from a vacant lot adjacent to his home when a sudden blast knocked him flat and rendered him temporarily unconscious. He was treated by a private physician. Police ventured the guess that some one had discarded a brass can containing some explosive and that Moore had raked it into his fire, but had no clew to who or what was responsible.

CITY WOMAN HONORED

Miss Burr Chosen to Head State League of Voters at Convention Here

...Burr of San Francisco was elected president of the California ...Voters in convention yesterday at the Figueroa Hotel. She ...H. Krone in the office and her election, as well as that of ...was made unanimous by a motion from the floor.

...are as follows: ...Angeles. His topic was "Race Con... ...George P. Cotti... ...vice-president, Mrs. ...Long Beach; secretary, Mrs. M. R. ...Los Angeles; treasurer, Mrs. F. E. ...Calexico. The directors are to be ...Mrs. A. C. Wier, Mrs. W. D. Crockett, Mrs. Bryson ...Mrs. S. ...Mrs. L. M. ...Mrs. Eva ...Miss ...Mrs. C. ...Mrs. C. ...

...Conflict in International Relations."

Mrs. Lucas discussed the situation in China and Mexico, declaring the turbulent conditions in both countries are due, largely, if not entirely, to the greed of American oil interests.

The much-vaunted Nordic supremacy was ridiculed by Dr. Bryson in his talk. He declared the theory of the inequality of the races is a myth and that it is simply brought into play as an excuse for certain nations to impose their will upon other and weaker ones. Race has been a political issue for seventy-five years, he said, and is merely a pretext to justify injustice.

A round-table conference occupied the attention of the delegates at the morning session, with Mrs. Francis A. Blackburn presiding. Another breakfast conference will be held at 8:30 this morning, with Miss Burr, president-elect, presiding. The topic will be "Organization in Local Leagues—How to Work It Out." Miss Burr also will present her report of the annual meeting of the general council of the national league and after the transaction of routine business, the convention will adjourn.

INDUSTRIAL AID STEPS MAPPED

Development Council Hears Numerous Reports

Aerial Stimulus Plans Also Laid at Conference

Railroads Will be Invited to Join Committee

Conservation of industrial sites in Southern California; movement toward lower cost of such sites; action toward lower rentals by the city of Los Angeles for industrial lands in the vicinity of the harbor; stimulus to aeronautics through a broader dissemination of landing field data; concerted action toward the elimination of forest fires and plans for closer co-operation between the transportation companies and the industries of this section were the outstanding actions taken and recommended at a meeting of the Southern California Regional Advisory Council of the California Development Association at the Alexandria yesterday.

Preceded by a session of the industrial committee, the council meeting was featured by a luncheon session presided over by Edward A. Murphy, while J. M. Fitzhugh, in the absence of A. E. Halloway, acted as chairman of the industrial committee session.

These meetings while in regular order according to the plans of the organization were turned into advisory sessions in advance of the annual gathering of the board of directors at San Francisco next Tuesday and Wednesday and to bring out suggestions for the coming year's work of the entire organization.

REPORTS MADE

Reports were called for by Mr. Murphy from the various component committees of the council and in every instance the committee report was adopted and will be passed along to the parent organization at the annual gathering.

J. A. Montijo for the committee on aeronautics called for indorsement for the publication of a booklet to give specific data to air pilots relative to the landing fields throughout the State. He also advocated the plan of several communities co-ordinating in the erection of a single flying field to serve a specific section. Roy Campbell, Jr., followed with a report on the recent State aeronautic conference, voicing the belief that the event, sponsored by this organization, had proved an active force in arousing public sentiment and interest in aviation as well as providing an aid and stimulus to the industry proper.

Speaking of the conservation committee, C. E. Kelsey stated that lack of improved camping grounds is the outstanding cause of forest fires. He stated that 310 well-improved reservations are absolutely necessary to solve the problem in this State and that, at the present rate of Federal appropriations it will take some twenty years to obtain this number. He urged the gathering to indorse a plan whereby the committee should interest fraternal, patriotic and civic organizations throughout the State in the necessity for prompt action in the establishment of the camps and to obtain their support and financial aid. H. S. Bissell and Francis Cuttle indorsed Mr. Kelsey's plan and the gathering unanimously gave its support.

VOTING URGED

A. C. Hardison of the agricultural committee requested the gathering to go on record as favoring a request to the Department of Agriculture to call on Congress for an added appropriation for that department in its study of the Mediterranean fly and to further its plans for the biological control and ultimate eradication of the pest. This was made in the form of a motion and indorsed to the annual meeting.

Publicity committee work, according to William Creakbaum, has been focused largely on stimulation of the citizen at the polls. The cup offered by the organization for this purpose, he stated, had proved a popular means of interesting many citizens in the exercise of the franchise. He further reported that plans are under way again to make California the recreational center of the nation next year and that the publicity campaign, planned with this idea in view is well under way.

On behalf of the highway committee Wallace Woodworth stated that the committee will present a concrete plan at the next gathering looking toward the widening of numerous highways throughout the State.

All action taken by the Industrial Committee at its morning session and presented to the later meeting was given indorsement. The committee meeting was attended by twenty-one of the twenty-four members and discussed a series of recommendations and suggestions forwarded by Chairman Holloway.

PROGRAM MAPPED

The program, which will constitute the coming year's activity of the committee includes:

(1.) Increase the consumption of Southern California manufacturers in demand in local market but largely purchased outside;

(2.) Stimulate production of raw materials through increased consumption by manufacturers now obtaining raw material elsewhere;

(3.) Stimulate fabrication of California raw material into products in local demand but manufactured elsewhere;

MOUNTAIN MERELY A MOLE-HILL

Woman Before Death Contracts to Pay Another $500,000 and Her Will Bequeaths Sums to Jail and Hospital Attendants, but All She Really Had Was $42.85

"And so she took the $500,000—"

It all sounds like a fairy tale now, but Mrs. J. Nonnemacher has $3000 in cash tied up in the legend and she is going to do what she can to recover. Of course, if things don't improve, not much can be done, because $42.85 will not go far toward liquidating a $500,000 claim, but on the theory that something might happen Mrs. Nonnemacher has filed her claim with Judge Crail in Probate Court.

In April, 1926, Mrs. Nonnemacher made a contract with Rosemary Langhorne. Last February Rosemary Langhorne died in the General Hospital, and the police said she was an international character. Now Mrs. Nonnemacher, by her attorneys, Ralph E. Bacon and B. F. Gualano, has filed her claim against the dead woman's estate, and in support has attached a copy of the contract.

"This is to certify that the party of the first part, Mrs. M. Williams, is to pay to the party of the second part, Mrs. J. Nonnemacher, on May 10, 1926, the sum of $500,000, payable through the Prairie Oil and Pipe Line Company, for six peoples' royalties, payable by either draft through bank named by second party, Mrs. J. Nonnemacher, or by Western Union," the contract reads.

The estate consists of just $42.85, according to M. W. Purcell, who was summoned to the dying woman's bedside to draw her will. She died while under arrest on charges of obtaining money by false pretense. Williams was one of her aliases, the police said.

Even on her death bed, developments indicate, Rosemary Langhorne could not forget. Her will specified numerous bequests of $1000 each to jail and hospital attendants, and devised a costly automobile to her physician. Nothing has been found with which to make the bequests good, Attorney Purcell says. Mrs. Nonnemacher's attorneys filed her claim just on the chance something might be found, they explained.

RECEIVER FOR WAGY SOUGHT

Still Another Suit to be Asked Today

Lewis, Resigned Chief, Tells Grand Jury Conditions

Government Conducts Board Inquiry Into Muddle

A bill in equity asking Federal receivership for A. C. Wagy & Co., Inc., brokerage firm closed recently in the Julian Petroleum Corporation financial muddle, will be filed Monday in the United States District Court.

Announcement to this effect was forthcoming last night from attorneys for Emil Brisacher and Staff, a San Francisco advertising firm. They stated that they will file the action today in order to protect the interest of the advertising firm, whose claims against the company involve unpaid advertising bills. The attorneys for the company are Shaw & McDaniel. The affairs of A. C. Wagy & Co., since its was closed, tre in the hands of Frank Creasey, manager.

LEWIS BEFORE INQUIRY

In the meantime additional revelations on conditions within the Julian Petroleum Corporation prior to the time its stock was barred from the market because of asserted overissue of 3,000,00 shares of preferred were understood to have been made to the grand jury yesterday by S. C. Lewis, resigned president of the corporation.

While the grand jury was investigating the financial tangle involving the overissue it was also understood at the Hall of Justice that Dist.-Atty. Keyes was seeking the whereabouts of J. Berman, known also as Jack Bennet, an associate of Lewis, to subpoena him for testimony.

After investigating the affairs of the corporation for several days the grand jury Thursday returned a secret indictment before Judge Burnell upon which a record-breaking bond of $250,000 was placed. No official comment was made on the indictment and the identity of the person indicted was closely guarded.

GOVERNMENT ON JOB

Meanwhile, the government was conducting a broad investigation of the financial muddle, it was learned, upon orders of United States Attorney McNabb and E. Latimer, supervising accountant of the Department of Justice, began checking over records which were seized by the Federal authorities.

Upon complaints to his office that an order prohibiting the sale and transfer of Julian stock had been violated, State Corporation Commissioner Friedlander yesterday requested that brokers throughout Southern California furnish the department with complete information regarding their transactions in Julian stocks on or after the 13th inst., when United States District Judge McCormick issued a temporary injunction against handling the stock.

The corporation department also requested financial statements of assets, liabilities, profits and losses of the brokerage houses as of April 30, last. The complete information requested by Corporation Commissioner Friedlander was sumned up in the following four points:

CONTRACT LIST SOUGHT

"(1.) A full and complete list of all unexecuted, incompleted and or unfilled contracts of buying or selling orders of the Julian Petroleum Corporation as of the date of the issuance of the temporary injunction issued by the District Court of the United States, Southern District of California, Southern Division, against Julian Petroleum Corporation on the 13th inst.

"(2.) A full complete list of the number of stock certificates of all preferred and common stock of said Julian Petroleum Corporation now on hand in direct or indirect possession, and a list of al certificates delivered to others by you, either on buy or sell orders, loans or otherwise, since the 13th inst. and since the granting of the temporary injunction by said District Court of the United States, Southern District of California, Southern Division, aforesaid.

"(3.) A full and complete list of the number of shares of preferred and common capital stock of Julian Petroleum Corporation of which you were short as of the said date, to wit, the 13th inst.

"(4.) A financial statement of assets and liabilities, profits and losses

CITY FIXES RENTAL FOR HALL SPACE

Eight Floors in Tower Definitely Offered County at $115,680 Yearly

At a conference with the Board of Supervisors yesterday a committee representing the city definitely offered eight floors in the tower of the new City Hall as space for county courts at a rental approximating $115,680 a year. The offer was taken under consideration, although the opinion was expressed by several Supervisors that the county will be able to build a temporary courthouse at less expense.

The eight floors were offered on a ten-year lease at 93 per square foot per year. Each floor contains 7230 square feet, a total of 57,840. For a ten-year period the rental would amount to $1,156,800.

The city's committee included Councilman Hall, Public Works Commissioner Delorey and G. L. Rodgers, personally representing Mayor Cryer. According to Hall, the offer was made with the idea of fixing a rental fee that would not return a profit to the city, but would pay the interest on the money already invested in the eight floors.

Legal Leaders Plan Fiesta for English Visitor

A complete Spanish program will be presented by the combined leaders of the Los Angeles, San Bernardino and Riverside bar associations for the entertainment of Dr. William Searle Holdsworth, English legal scholar and historian, at Mission Inn, Riverside, on Monday.

President Kemper Campbell of the Los Angeles Bar Association has appointed Attorney E. Earl Crandall as head of the entertainment committee and Rollin McNitt, dean of Southwestern University, as chairman of the dinner committee.

Miss Helene Peabody and Miss Margaret Harpstrite will present a program of Spaniah songs.

The western reception at Victorville, when prominent members of the bar will meet the visitor with an old California stage coach, is in charge of A. W. Sorenson. Irving Willat, Universal director, will direct the Wild West fiesta.

HUERTA RELEASED ON BOND

Mexican Leader and Associate, Accused of Plot to Violate Neutrality, Post Bail

Adolfo de la Huerta, former provisional President of Mexico and for whom, according to his own admission, the revolutionary forces in Mexico are fighting, yesterday appeared before United States Commissioner Head and was ordered released on a charge of conspiracy to violate the neutraliyt laws of the United States when a wire was received from the United States Commissioners at El Paso stating that bond had been posted there.

Alfonso Gomez Morentin, named as co-conspirator with De la Huerta in the complaint issued by the Department of Justice at Tucson last Wednesday, also voluntarily appeared before Commissioner Head and was ordered released when the El Paso authorities notified that bond also had been posted there for him.

Commissioner Head set Tuesday at 10 o'clock for a hearing as to why the two former Mexican subjects should not be removed to Tucson.

De la Huerta and Morentin, together with several other former Mexican subjects, were named in complaints isued at Tucson, charging them with being involved in the asserted attempt to smuggle arms into Mexico for the purpose of furthering revolutionary activities.

De la Huerta, until his appearance yesterday before Commissioner Head, had been at liberty without bond, but with the understanding that he was to have posted his bail by yesterday afternoon.

BONDS PREPARED FOR TUCSON COMMISSIONER

EL PASO (Tex.) May 20. (AP)—Bond for Adolfo De la Huerta, former Mexican provisional President, and three of his confederates charged with attempts to smuggle arms and ammunition into Mexico, today was prepared by United States Commissioner Schmidt for transmission to the United States Commissioner at Tucson, Ariz. T. Kyriacopulos and E. L. Forti are named as sureties on the bonds, which aggregate $20,000. The bonds are for Francisco Ferris, De la Huerta, Francisco Gayou, and Alfonso Gomez Morentin.

The bonds are for $5000 each. The bonds which Mr. Schmidt prepared, call for the appearance of Gayou and Ferris before the commissioner in Tucson on June 3.

The bonds for De la Huerta and Morentin were to be transmitted to Los Angeles and call for their appearance before the United States District Court at that place. The bonds, Schmidt explained, are simply for the approval of the commissioner at Tucson. In the event Federal authorities at Tucson and Los Angeles approve the bonds, the defendants will be released until their hearing.

There is a certain type of actor who couldn't go to his own execution without trying to show off.

NO EMOTION

The Japanese must be a delightful people in this regard.

Tsuru Aoki tells me that the code of the Japanese woman forbids her to display any emotion or any feeling that might in any way become unpleasant to others.

If she is ill, she literally grins while she bears it.

FAINTERS

She told me she once attended an afternoon reception — or whatever the Japanese call their soirees.

The hostess had just lost a son in battle. But there was nothing in her demeanor to show it. She was poised and smiling.

The only way the guests knew anything about it was from the floral decorations.

So complete is the language of flowers in Japan that the guests took one look at the flowers and perceived that the lady's son was a lieutenant-commander in the navy and that he had been lost at sea.

Although George Bernard Shaw insists that our Anglo-Saxon ancestors cried, kissed each other and otherwise behaved like children of nature,

He says it was only when self-contained races like the Scotch and the Jews came into England that it grew in repression.

On the whole, the military predicament of the Pacific Coast is worse. Southern California has such a tough problem of defense that the War Department—shortly before the World War—gave out as a public document a military plan of defense which contemplated the abandonment of Los Angeles in the event of a Pacific invasion.

RIFT IN KERRICK DEFENSE CAMP

One of Defendants Gives Lawyer Tongue Lashing

Iris Burns Resents Question Concerning Her Morals

Widow of Slain Man Begins Story of Fatal Shooting

A split in the defense camp which has at times showed signs of disharmony during the progress of the Tom Kerrick murder trial came to the surface at the adjournment of court last night when Iris Burns, one of the five defendants, gave Defense Attorney Booth a tongue lashing.

Booth, who, with Welburn May-Cock, is attorney for Mrs. Sarah Kerrick, another of the defendants, in an effort to attack Miss Burns's credibility as a witness, asked her point blank whether or not she had spent the balance of the night after Kerrick was shot with a man.

REFUSES TO REPLY

The young woman, who freely admitted that she had been "dead drunk" at the Kerrick apartment earlier in the night, hung her head. Her lips quivered, her apparent shame giving way to sullenness and defiance, and then something akin to fright as she tried to escape the gaping of a courtroom full of people. The attorney for Mrs. Kerrick insisted "yes or no." It was a tense moment.

"Yes or no?" Booth insisted.

A woman spectator audibly whispered, "Don't—"

The girl in the witness box tore at her handkerchief, head bowed.

F. M. Andreani, her attorney, suddenly leaped to his feet and cried: "I'll instruct my client not to answer the question. We are trying a murder case and this is an incident long after the crime was committed and has no bearing on the case."

INSISTS ON ANSWER

Judge Carlos Hardy said, "Well, I'll have to instruct the witness to answer the question."

The girl looked up at the white-haired judge and with an agonizing twitch moved her lips.

"What was that?" the court reporter asked.

"The answer was 'yes,'" said the court.

"That's all," said counsel for Mrs. Kerrick.

The girl took her seat in the row with the other defendants, never raising her eyes from the floor.

But as court closed she stepped over to the gray-haired attorney and said: "I think it was despicable of you to make me answer that question."

A jail matron dragged her away in the midst of further remarks.

During her session on the stand Miss Burns said she was not at the Kerrick apartment when the shooting occurred. For the first time she revealed that sometime prior to the shooting Mrs. Kerrick had said: "Tom doesn't know how close he came to getting shot as he stood in that doorway." She could offer no explanation of what the remark really meant.

Joe Hunt, the Arizona cowpuncher who drifted in to town and paid for the wild party, took the stand and said he was too drunk to know any shot was even fired.

Mrs. Kerrick, the widow, took the stand shortly before court adjourned and barely got through the preliminaries to the evening's festivities on the night of the shooting. She will resume the stand this morning.

Attorneys Visel and Andreani announced their case is completed, having no further witnesses. Mrs. Kerrick is expected to testify that when the shot was fired she and two or three others in the party were struggling for possession of the gun.

railroads so that such roads will be set back from 350 to 400 feet in order that full advantage may be taken of the interventiug potential industrial sites. He pointed out the fact that the Railroad Commission has taken a positive stand against spur tracks crossing highways and that with the close proximity of railroads and highways such spurs are a necessity.

Mr. Hyde and other members of the committee discussed the present asserted failure of the several railroads to co-operate in the interest of industry and he was named chairman of a committee to discuss with the rail officials the possibility of closer co-operation.

This meeting develops the fact that too high a price now is placed on much of the available industrial holdings, in some instances, it was stated, as high as $25,000 an acre being asked. This, it was stated, tends to drive away rather than bring industry to Southern California.

In an effort to solve the transportation problem it was decided to request representatives of the Southern Pacific, Sana Fe, Union Pacific and Pacific Electric to become members of the committee.

Suggestion was made and taken under advisement that item No. 5 be extended to include the Chamber of Commerce and Southern California Manufacturers' exhibit and that mineral displays be placed at each of these points as well as Exposition Park. It is probable that the three exhibits will be obtained at the same time, as each member of the committee was urged to foster the movement.

SPURIOUS COIN SUSPECTS HELD

Auto With Large Sum of Silver Pieces Seized

Headquarters Said to be Located in Mexico

Six men were arrested yesterday as asserted ringleaders of a gang of counterfeiters that has been operating the length of the coast, according to W. W. Ashe, agent in charge of the United States Secret Service. An automobile containing counterfeit silver pieces to the value of several hundred dollars was confiscated, he reported.

Secret service agents all along the coast were notified of developments yesterday afternoon and arrests of a score of asserted members of the gang are expected in Sacramento, Portland, San Francisco and Seattle. Thousands of dollars in counterfeit money has been passed by the persons suspected, it is asserted.

Rubin Schlocker, alias Harry Lewis, and Peter Mazzetti were first taken into custody, the arrests being made by Ashe and Detective Lieutenants Post and Hickey. They are said to be operators of a South Main-street pool hall, believed to have been used as headquarters in the disposal of spurious quarters, halves and dollars.

Later Charles E. Kelly, Nick Sutherland and Charles Bye were arrested at a house at Hawthorne, where the automobile said to have contained the counterfeit silver was confiscated. Officials refuse to give out the name of a sixth man arrested. Kelly and Sutherland, it was said, are ex-convicts. All those arrested are being held incommunicado.

The counterfeiting plant, it was said, has not been located. It is believed it may be in Mexico.

of your company, which financial statements are to be certified by a certified public accountant, showing the condition of the business as of the 30th day of April, 1927."

The situation in San Francisco and the northern part of the State with reference to the handling of Julian Petroleum stock will be studied by Commissioner Friedlander while in Sacramento and the Bay City. The commissioner left Los Angeles for Sacramento Thursday night and will be in San Francisco next week. If he deems it advisable letters identical with those sent to southern brokers will be mailed to brokers in the north.

Books, accounts, documents and other contents of the safe in the office of A. C. Wagy & Co., Inc., brokers in the Stock Exchange Building, must remain undisturbed until 9 o'clock next Monday, according to Deputy Wolch of the corporation department.

LOCK SET FOR RELEASE

"The time lock of the safe is set for release at that hour," Wolch said yesterday. "We plan to be on hand at that time with a subpoena for the contents of the safe and will hold everything pending receipt of instructions from the grand jury."

Books, correspondence and other papers taken by department men on Thursday are being held in the department offices in the Sun Finance Building. All are under lock and key and are being closely guarded. The most important material was placed in a vault which was hastily emptied of other records to make space for the Wagy books. The combination of the vault was changed and the new figures are known only to a certain few men in the offices.

B. H. Whittaker, head of the auditing branch in the Los Angeles office of the corporation department, yesterday said he is awaiting receipt of the reports of William Kottemann & Co., certified public accountants, covering the affairs of the Julian Petroleum Corporation with reference to stock issued and the accounts of the Wagy brokerage concern. Copies of these reports, he said, will be given to the authorities, both Federal and county, and to the two companies affected by them.

EXCHANGE ACTS TO AVERT STOCK TANGLES

A resolution passed by the board of governors of the Los Angeles Stock Exchange demanding that all stock issues lised on the exchange must be registered with the secretary of the organization and countersigned by a national or State bank or trust company, was made public yesterday by S. H. Ellis, vice-president of the exchange.

Prior to the announcement of the exchange that such action had been taken, it was specifically pointed out by officials investigating the Julian Petroleum Corporaiton stock tangle that such entanglement would never have occurred had such registration been in effect during Julian stock trading.

The demand of the exchange is contained in the following resolution:

"Resolved that all certificates representing stock listed upon the Los Angeles Stock Exchange and transferred on and after August 1, 1927, must be registered and countersigned by a national or State bank or trust company; and,

"Resolved further that each and every corporation that has issued, or hereafter shall issue, stock listed upon the Los Angeles Stock Exchange on and after August 1, 1927, must file with the secretary of the said exchange for his approval, a certified copy of a resolution passed by the board of directors of such corporation specifically subjecting its stock to registration and naming and appointing a registrar for such stock, as herein above provided, which has previously agreed in writing to act as registrar for the stock so listed; and,

"Resolved further that all stock issues listed on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange as of July 30, 1927, for which registration has not been arranged in a manner satisfactory to the secretary of the exchange prior to August 1, 1927, will be removed from listing as of August 1, 1927, and trading therein upon said exchange thereafter prohibited until all requirements of this resolution have been complied with and the stock issue reinstated to listing on the exchange; and,

"Resolved further that from and after the date of this resolution the requirements above set forth must be fully complied with prior to consideration of any application for listing of any stock issue upon said exchange by the board of governors; and,

"Resolved further that the secretary of the exchange shall promptly mail a printed copy of this resolution to all corporations which have stock now listed upon this exchange and that he compile a list of all such corporations and the names of the institutions which have been appointed registrars therefor and present same to this board for approval prior to August 1, 1927;

"Provided, however, that the shares of banks and trust companies shall be exempt from the requirements of this resolution."

POINTERS FOR PARKING HOG

Traffic Officer in KHJ Talk Asks Questions Aimed at Selfishness

Questions determining courteous driving were asked in the daily traffic talk given over KHJ yesterday by the police bureau of public safety. The questions included:

"Do you park your car out in the street, just killing time or waiting for someone, knowing you are interfering with traffic?

Do you park your car within two feet of the car ahead or behind, augmenting the difficulty of the drivers of these when they attempt to move out?

"Do you park your car within into the prohibited zone to take care of your own, and then neglect to move it back?

Notable Planes to Take Part in Relief Carnival

International significance is being attached to the Red Cross flood-relief air carnival to be staged at Clover Field Sunday by the exhibition of a group of planes similar to those used by the trans-Atlantic flyers.

One of the ships was the stunt plane of Capt. Nungesser. Another is the sister ship to that of "Lucky" Lindbergh which is now winging its way over the Atlantic. Still another is an eight-passenger Wright-Fokker ship like Commander Byrd will use in his coming flight.

An observer of the carnival will be Brig.-Gen. William E. Gilmore, United States Army, commander of the supply division, Army Air Corps. Gen. Gilmore arrived several days ago from Wright Field, Dayton, to make his annual tour of inspection.

Theater Bandit Buys Ticket and Robs Box Office

A nonchalant bandit walked into the manager's office of the Strand Theater at Broadway and Vernon avenue late last night and walked out again with $185 of the theater's cash.

The bandit purchased a ticket at the window, stepped around and inside the office, closing the door carefully behind him and confronted W. Keeler, the manager, with a .45 automatic after a few rambling remarks about the weather and other general topics.

Mr. Keeler opened the theater safe at the bandit's demand and the gunman took all the money available. He made his escape afoot, but left a number of excellent finger prints on the safe.

Boy Dies From Broken Neck in Bicycle Fall

Robert Stafford, 7-year-old son of Mrs. Mary Stafford of 721 East Twenty-eighth street, fell from his bicycle while riding in front of his home early last night and died a few hours later of a broken neck.

Soon after the accident he complained of severe pains in his shoulders and back. In a short time he swooned. His mother called a physician, who ordered that he be taken immediately to the Emergency Hospital.

An examination there disclosed that the boy's neck was broken.

At a recent conference of the Women's Engineering Society of England it was noticed that half the women in attendance had long hair.

Bad laws, if they exist, should be repealed as soon as possible; still, while they continue in force, for the sake of example they should be religiously observed.

—Abraham Lincoln

NOT SO EASY

It will be some time before the flight from New York to Paris will be listed as a kindergarten accomplishment. The winds and the waves are only for he-men to play with.

AN OLD ONE

What a trite pretext was the one used by the Beverly Hills girl speeder when she explained to the policeman that she was hitting it up to keep a dental appointment! Of course, everybody goes at the rate of fifty-five miles an hour to the dentist's chair.

FUNNY BOYS

Students in an eastern college are reported as deploring the stress and importance placed upon athletics. They talk like boys who have been unable to make the beanbag and checker team. It isn't often the students who complain at the drift to the track.

PARKING PROBLEMS

The Mayor of Lincoln sought to garner money for the city by selling parking space on certain streets at the rate of $5 a year for each car, but the court holds that this idea cannot endure. The town will have to garner its dough from the taxpayers in the same old way. The streets already belong to the citizens.

TAB ON TEACHER

The Board of Education in an Iowa town demands that every teacher employed in the public schools shall attend church at least once every Sunday. They have not yet attempted to dictate the particular church, but they do insist upon one sermon a Sabbath or else the teacher will lose her job. This may be the board idea of a moral qualification, but it is hardly in step with the Constitution of her beloved but lenient country.

THE DANCING MEN

In the best capitals the passe matrons who crave the service and attention of the hired lounge lizards are now expected to pay at least $25 for an evening of dancing—and must cover the feed bill on the side. In the smart clubs the gigolo is becoming rarer. Mayhap he is taking a regular job. Anyhow, it was quite a burden to be always well-dressed and at the beck of some fat woman with an itch for dancing. The gigolo had to be good-looking and fairly well educated and such chaps can make a more independent living by traveling under their own power.

THE AIR SERVICE

The Britons are flying rather well themselves. There are now regular planes in service at London flying to sixty-six different foreign stations. Moscow and Constantinople are about to be added to the list for daily visitation. The trip over the North Sea to Amsterdam may now be made for less than $15 in American money. Americans touring in Europe make much larger use of aerial transportation than they do at home. The proponents of flying have had many metaphorical clouds in their path so far as America is concerned—yet Americans did most of the pioneering and hold most of the records.

GOING IN STYLE

Looks as if the President of Mexico traveled with more pomp and eclat than any ruler on earth. The Pullman Company has just delivered at his capital a special train of five gorgeous cars housing all the luxuries known to modern transportation. They are created especially for the Mexican government and, while they are beautiful to the last degree, they are also armored so as to withstand any possible guerrilla attack. The train as a whole is said to be the finest the Pullmans ever turned out. If President Coolidge should permit his administration to indulge in such extravagance the voters in the sticks would feel like marching on the capital. The United States has most of the money in the world, but its chiefs do not demand a flock of Pullmans—even for official business.

A FEW EASY ONES

Questionnaires for movie producers: By what trick of your art do you make the funny man immovable when the hose is being played on him? Why does a villain never ride a wonder horse? Would it be possible to film a heroine who, when the evidence of the hero's guilt is overwhelming, does not say, "I believe in you, John, George or James—I know you're innocent"? When a priceless vase, the apple of somebody's eye, is shown in a picture why does it never escape destruction? Instead of posing in various attitudes of dismay and horror when it looks as if the hero were getting the worst of it in the scrap with the villain, why doesn't the heroine grab a club or something and lend a hand? What kind of booze do you use to make a thoroughly sober man blind drunk in eight seconds?

THE FORGOTTEN MAN

Chief Justice Taft, in an address before the American Institute of Law the other day, said there were too many lawyers disposed to obstruct the working out of necessary reforms in the matter of the punishment of crime. He asserted that, "If there is not some body or organization to look after the forgotten man—that is, society at large—we are not going to have such an improvement in the administration of the criminal law as we ought to have."

The forgotten man at last is being cared for in California. Spurred by a group of intelligent moral agents who have the best interest of society at heart, our legislators have improved the code of procedure in our criminal courts in several essential phases. They have initiated such reforms as have been advocated in a general way by Justice Taft for several years, or ever since his famous dictum, "The administration of criminal law in the United States is a disgrace to civilization." It now remains for our judiciary and members of the bar to see that no clause of the amendments made in the law shall be considered negligible or be permitted to lapse from full practice.

It would be well for those intrusted with carrying out the provisions of the new code in California to bear in mind the admonition of the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States when he says that, with the co-operation of progressive legislators, the Institute of Law and certain local groups of lawyers and laymen will bring about not only the revision of the criminal codes, but also of court practice concerning them.

In other words, we should not place complete dependence upon the law to lessen crime, but demand its application. Vigilance on the part of some body of public-spirited men will be necessary to protect the interests of the forgotten man by seeing to it that there shall be a strict enforcement of the new laws and that none of them shall fall into disuse. The forgotten man is "protected" by plenty of laws, old and new, but somehow in the past he has failed to receive anything like the benefit they were intended to bestow. It has been as Justice Taft pointed out when he said several years ago, "The trial of a criminal seems like a game of chance, with all the chances in favor of the criminal."

But now is coming the day when the forgotten man no longer will be forgotten. He will become recognized as that "saving remnant" in the Lowell phrase, to which it will be far more profitable to cater than to the criminal, who will no longer be permitted to prey upon him with impunity, though the whole sob-sisterhood lets its silly tears fall ever so freely.

THE FIRE-FIGHTING RESERVE

No recent news is more gratifying to the thoughtful people of this section than the information that the plan for the organization of a Federal Fire-Fighting Reserve for Southern California is being rushed through in a way that greatly will aid the protection of our forests and brush-wooded slopes from fire this summer. Guy F. Allen, assistant director of the Bureau of the Budget, who has been in Los Angeles lately, has conferred upon Harold S. Ryerson, executive vice-president of the Conservation Association, the duty of forming this reserve, and work already has been begun that should insure this sorely needed protection.

Last year representatives of the Budget Bureau visited our forests, heard the stories of the great fires of 1924 and 1925 and went back to Washington with a report that resulted in an appropriation of $100,000 by Congress for the work of saving Southern California from further devastation of this kind. Congress never appropriated money for a better purpose. This sum or a larger one should have been available long ago, as so many square miles of our forests are under government control, and it is not reasonable to expect large State or county appropriations for fire prevention in that area, though our citizens always have been willing to co-operate with the Federal authorities in fire-fighting.

Heartily in favor of the Fire-Fighters' Reserve, Col. William B. Greeley, Chief United States Forester, who was in Los Angeles during Forestry Week as the guest of the Conservation Association, maintains that by the new plan of organization the general public can be aroused to the need of immediate action and can be taken into the ranks of the conservationists more readily than in any other way. All that has been needed is trained fire fighters ready to go into action at a moment's notice with the best forest-fire-fighting apparatus, to meet and wrestle with the fire hazard, and these are now practically assured.

Fire-fighting units will be organized in each city and town in Southern California. As to the expenditure of the government appropriation our people are assured that they will have a voice in it through the Angeles Protective Association, which will be permitted to suggest where some of the money is to go and for what particular purpose.

It is satisfactory to note that new and wider firebreaks are being made on some of the slopes in the neighborhood of this city. For this purpose up-to-date machinery is employed. One machine now in use will do the work of eighty mules and 300 men. Firebreaks are not only essential as a means of checking the direct progress of a brushwood or forest fire, but afford a means of vantage in backfiring.

The American Legion, always to the front in public service, is interesting itself in the work of the new reserve. The Pasadena Post is sponsoring the organization of the first unit, which it promises to perfect this week and to have ready for immediate action. Other posts and communities are expected to join the movement soon.

As the government funds are to be applied in such a way that every fire-fighter who rushes to the front on a hurry-up call will be paid for his work, there probably will not be so much shirking of this work as formerly, and not so many will be pressed into service, though a certain reliance will still have to be placed upon outside forces, and volunteers always will be welcomed in case of a fire spreading over a large area.

No young man could better employ his summer vacation than in studying plans for fire prevention under the auspices of the Federal foresters. Each of these forestry understudies will be paid for the actual time spent on duty and will be given good food and sleeping quarters.

It is well to be assured by our national authorities that our forests are to be better protected this summer than ever and that there is to be much less likelihood of such devastation as was wrought in Southern California in recent years.

PEACE BY LOCAL OPTION

The recent proposal of M. Briand to outlaw war between France and the United States, even when questions of national honor and vital interests are at stake, is exceedingly modest and simple, but is loaded with infinite possibilities. Its very simplicity has robbed it of much publicity.

One of the chief troubles with most of the peace panaceas hitherto proposed is that they demand universal coalitions of nations and carry riders of both offensive and defensive character.

Why it has not occurred to anyone before to suggest that two nations plight their troth each to the other with, the only condition to arbitrate all their own troubles is a mystery.

Temperance made little headway as long as its ardent advocates insisted on national prohibition or nothing. It was the old fallacy of the universal in logic. Local option was regarded as compromise. And yet the Eighteenth Amendment was written into the Constitution by local option.

Briand's proposal is the humble beginning of the same method. If two countries form a union for perpetual peace it will not be long until the contagion spreads. Such a league could grow as rapidly as public sentiment demands.

The anniversary of the opening of the first Hague conference, the 18th of May, has been suggested by the Fellowship of Reconciliation as Good Will Day, to be observed in churches, schools and clubs. Briand's suggestion furnishes a theme that is at once fresh and vigorous. It has been enthusiastically approved by President Nicholas Murray Butler. The New York Times is another ardent advocate.

America was the proponent of the League of Nations and then failed to enter. We took up arms in a common cause of defense and then hesitated about laying them down in a common peace. We championed the World Court, but seemed suspicious of European entanglements in its operation. We have waxed eloquent over international co-operation; but have been a trifle shy about perfect confidence in other nations.

Is there some good ground for being misunderstood abroad? Is there anything to prevent the United States from joining with France in a two-nation pact of perpetual peace?

By all means let us end wars one by one, as Nicholas Murray Butler suggests!

BLASTED ROMANCE

We have become so accustomed to thinking that the American youngster is the spoiled enfant terrible of the entire world, that it is cheering to know that the newest generation in Great Britain is giving its elders food for serious reflections. Not because of its naughty behavior, but for its peculiar outlook on life. It is the first generation of children in history to have been reared on a fairly regular weekly routine of motion pictures, and the results are quite startling, if we may believe a writer in the London Daily Express.

He has the misfortune of being a scribe who earns his livelihood by writing stories for children and he confesses himself as sadly nonplussed as to what type of story to devise for the young sophisticates who constitute his readers. Horatio Alger and Louisa May Alcott may have done for the generation or two preceding, but the present-day young hopefuls crave stronger fare. Even the girls sniff scornfully at romance, unless it is dished up with a bit of spice and plenty of action. The boys like "he-men" stuff such as the western movies portray, but even here it is difficult to thrill or enrapture them. For, according to the writer, "The boy reader of today has seen the dreams of Jules Verne come true. He has lived through the worst blood and thunder in history—the great war; and a printed blood and thunder is tame by comparison. He is hard to please. His imagination is blunted by reality and is difficult to shock." In fact, it has scarcely ever been stirred. For, where his father lay under a tree and dreamed romantic visions of adventure and romance after school hours, this and young hopeful of today goes to the corner movie and vicariously lives through adventures thought out by some one else. This generation of boys is the first in all history that does not react in a distinctly similar manner to the stimuli of romance and adventure.

This picture of British youth might also fit our own who have just entered their teens. These "spoiled children of progress," as the English writer calls them, are rather to be pitied than envied. They have been robbed of the loveliest thing in childhood, its glittering dreams and romancing, by having had the ill luck to be born in what is perhaps the most brutally realistic epoch the world has yet known.

PUTTING ON DOG

The fashions in dogs have changed many times in this country. One line of barkers will hardly endure for a generation. The pups that were pups when the nation was a pup have passed completely from remembrance and a dozen different brands of hounds have crossed the stage in the meantime. Just now some of the kennelers of the smart set are seeking to make the basset fashionable. The basset is not exactly a new breed, but is rare in this country. So far as memory serves the family came originally from Normandy and the specimens are built somewhat on the lines of the beagle. They have very short but mighty crooked legs and they carry long, drooping ears. As hunting dogs they are better than the spaniels and in the home land they are used to uncover badgers and foxes. But it is hard to switch the American from his beloved airedale.

THE PUZZLE

By James J. Montague

When Darwin taught me that the ape
My family line had founded,
I gazed upon his book agape
And humbled and astounded.
No more I fancied I could keep
My former pride of station
For nights and nights I could not sleep
For sheer humiliation.

The time the Darwin doctrine ceased
My troubled soul to pester,
I bore no hatred to the beast
For being my ancestor.
And though he still offends my eye
And I shall never love him—
It pleased me to observe that I
Have climbed so far above him.

Then Dr. Osborne came along—
A man of brains and reading—
And proved that Darwin's stuff is wrong
And totally misleading.
Although he don't say how or why
My forbears were created—
He tells me that the ape and I
Are not at all related.

And still another scientist—
The men spring up by dozens,
Has just arisen to insist
That apes and I are cousins.
This evolution game is queer,
I'm so mixed up and twisted,
That I'm not sure that I am here—
Or that the apes existed!

PEN POINTS

Many great men are born in the sticks. But they never develop greatness there.

Rich and poor are much alike. The man who fails wouldn't tell reporters the true reason, either.

We respected our parents. And doubtless the younger generation would respect them if they were alive.

The enemies of all good movements are inertia and the lunatics who hang on the edge.

It's easy to pick a rich man. He alone, of all Americans, feels reverential awe of a very, very rich man.

Don't blame the traffic cop for looking sour. Try smiling for four hours and see how darned tired your face gets.

Organ recital: What happens at the bridge club when somebody mentions operations.

Reds can't make converts of people whose chief concern is finding more enjoyable ways to spend idle hours.

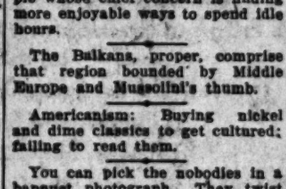
The Balkans, proper, comprise that region bounded by Middle Europe and Mussolini's thumb.

Americanism: Buying nickel and dime classics to get cultured; failing to read them.

You can pick the nobodies in a banquet photograph. They twist around to get in the picture full-face.

Middle age has compensations. Fewer things afford kick enough to make your conscience troublesome.

Fable: The second baseman was cheered one minute and booed the next, and he loved the fans.



The one thing every man decides definitely as he grows older is the proper way to fix an egg.

A he-man, possibly, is one who feels a sharp pain when somebody says: "As it were."

Equality wouldn't afford happiness. The more costly the car the greater the joy of the man who passes it.

National method of helping undeveloped peoples: Milking the cow with a clear conscience because her calf couldn't use it all, anyway.

Comedy. Act I: Man pays $16 for two quarts to make him feel good. Act II: Howls because his wife pays $16 for a hat to give her the same feeling.

Correct this sentence: "Even though my wife is a beginner," said the golfer who shoots in the low 80's, "I never mind passing up a good foursome to play with her."

When a man keeps his wife in the dark he shouldn't expect her to make light of it.

LETTERS TO The Times

C. C. Julian Again

LOS ANGELES, May 20.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Re the letter in The Times signed H. E. Jenkins, relative to the promotions of Julian. I invested $200 in one of his early wells and by good luck he struck some oil and paid me a small dividend which, on promises that he had control of a patented oil pump which would pump oil from wells that others would not, I invested in his first real venture depending on ability to produce the Julian Pump Corporation. He took all the profits or commissions, with the result that this stock that we purchased for $1 sold down to 5 cents on the market and only four of his well drillings proved successful out of thirteen he started. Hundreds lost their all in these promotions of his. Then he started the Julian Petroleum Corporation, promising many things in his ads and sold it for $50 per share, and it went down to $3.25 per share under his management. Thousands were again stung.

Then he unloaded the worst fake of all, the Western Lead Company stock, on the public at from $1.50 to $3 per share, and today you can't give it away. When he first started to advertise he used to say that he could only ride around in an old second-hand auto. Today, although his stockholders, and among them many widows, orphans, working people, etc., who, on the strength of the ads he ran in the papers and the fact that the public officials never made any attempt to stop him from selling his promotions until he unloaded, would be glad to ride in any kind of car, yet Julian today not only rides in the most expensive autos, but in airplanes as well.

Let's hear from others on this matter, and if Julian comes back to Southern California let's get together and get action against him or insist that our public officials do not allow him to sell or operate in this section. I believe our public officials, both United States and State, could today take action, and if he didn't have the money that he took from the poor people he would be prosecuted.

A WIDOW.

Two of a Kind

EAGLE ROCK, May 20.—[To the Editor of The Times:] The editor of that eastern periodical who shot off his wise crack at the President to compel a commitment on the part of the latter as to his intentions must have hit a plate of high carbon steel and glanced off, since no reply seems to be forthcoming. When the wily politicians catch Mr. Coolidge napping they will have found something. The President is not troubled with loquacity, a disease so prevalent among the higher-ups. For a steady head and broad, common sense he is it. We are not tired of him. If he wants the Presidency for another four years we cannot have a safer or saner man. He has been tried. We know him. However, if in his discretion he should see fit to retire there is only one man who could come up to the Coolidge standard of efficiency and he is Mr. Hoover. For high-power ability they are in a class by themselves. I do not know that Mr. Hoover has aspirations, but he certainly has the qualifications. W. W. RINER.

Blames Politicians

LOS ANGELES, May 19.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Charles Stokes, in his letter of May 17, supplies a cogent reason for the falling off in the number of votes cast, especially at civic and State elections. A reference to the cent tax raise on gasoline is a good index. I may add that two years ago the people of Los Angeles voted by a large majority for a union depot—another case of lost effort. The voters of both Los Angeles and Long Beach at the polls favored a union harbor, but that decision has no weight with the politicians, who are still dickering to defeat the will of the people.

It is not indifference or laziness that keeps thinking citizens away from the polls, but such instances as those quoted above. At Presidential elections the people get out and vote because they have confidence in their Presidents. But on anything politicians can control they know the ballot box can be used as a blind. Instead of threatening pains and penalties against citizens for not voting, why not penalize the politicians who make a mockery of elections?

RUAT COELUM.

Lost Effort

LOS ANGELES, May 17.—[To the Editor of The Times:] It was stated by Mr. C. E. Stokes, your correspondent, that only 40 to 60 per cent of the voters ayail themselves of the privilege of the polls and asks why.

Perhaps this may enlighten. Last election the cent tax raise on gasoline was defeated at the polls. Going over the people's vote of "no" we find we are to pay it regardless. So what's the use!

Such actions are enough to disrupt the morale of conscientious persons who vote.

MRS. W. N. DAWSON.

Church and State

MONTEREY PARK, May 5.—[To the Editor of The Times:] The Constitution of the United States does not contain anything inimical or contrary to any church, but it explicitly proclaims and asserts the great fundamental truth of human liberty. Not to elect a candidate to the Presidency, solely on the grounds that he is a Catholic, would be a disgrace to the nation and a manifest contempt for the spirit and the letter of the Constitution itself.

EUGENE ALKER.

ALIMONY

BY SUZANNE

It has remained for the California Legislature to strike a blow in defense of the meek and mild male sex. Our superiors have arisen in their might and decided that a husband is entitled to alimony just as much as a wife. Not only that, but in every year after the divorce decree on the matter, divorcees themselves the unpleasant necessity that might arise for it at the time be granted.

This is turning the tables with a vengeance. Alimony has been considered the prerogative of the fair sex in many other places, and it is conceded that we consider it one of her pitiable weaknesses that so many of the gentler sex and so many husbands, rather half-hearted in some of them, it is perhaps the helpless ones who should be given means of support.

We shall doubtless see many young divorcees in the future, sadly replying that they cannot afford to get married as she has to pay so much alimony to her former husband to enable him to keep the pace in the style to which he has been accustomed. And so on. We shudder to think of the years in the future when a stern-hearted judge tells his sex and order them to pay alimony to that Johnny-on-the-spot for his unlawful fuss?

The West is the land of the free, corner on bachelors, we are. The term is not applied but rather endearing to a two-fisted guy who can wield a pickax, if necessary, and who eats daily crackers. We always thought that, of all the women without exception, receiving alimony should be on his native heath, where a legislative claim of the forty-niner harbors, and turned neatly over to the when the law was passed.

FILOSOFY

BY FOOTPATE

The reason why the days are not forever lengthening somewhere is already there.

Can one who merely lives by estate pay the gate above his gate?

A person may be who does not belong to be long there.

Heaven is for those themselves to be in kindness is the key to of the here and the hereafter.

A person who wants to quench his thirst in the springs and pools would be considered a fool—we don't think we can attain spiritual understanding by reading the scriptures.

Why should a witness before a judge who tells the truth if he knows that he is preparing to testify against his true self?

No man can be a master of truth who does not know truth, who seeks truth is the guiding light within.

We are overwhelmed by miracles in the world of art, yet we refuse to believe in the comprehend. We are content to accept a reality as the gods of reason.

A successful man is one who hasn't time to make excuses.

WEED ARMY TO START DRIVE

Council Authorizes Engineer to Begin Charting of Battleground

The City Council yesterday, by a vote of 10 to 3, authorized the City Engineer to employ his "weed army" of twenty-nine men and women to survey Los Angeles and prepare charts of all vacant and unsightly lots.

The Council some time ago appropriated $10,000 for the work. Councilmen Randall, Workman and Colden voted against the measure, which has been a subject for City Hall humor for several weeks.

to enter the "road-show" field on an extensive basis. One of its pictures, "The Sea Hawk," was presented as a road show, but it has never gone in for this type of production. This year it plans to produce thirteen films of the road-show class. Delegates to the convention meeting at the Ambassador are to be informed of these pictures today, and will be instructed on the points that make these particular films of importance. "Patent Leather Kid," featuring Richard Barthelmess, is a story by Rupert Hughes, in which Dick appears first as a prize fighter and then as a soldier. It is to open in New York in September, and is to be the first of the First National road-show offerings. Others planned include "The Miracle" and "Lilac Time," starring Colleen Moore.

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer delegates are to hear 365 productions outlined at their convention today at the Biltmore. These will include two superfeatures, fifty-six stellar screen plays, eighty-one comedies and short subjects and 104 news-reel subjects—the largest production schedule in the history of any studio in the world, according to the officials. One of the features is to be "The Glory Diggers," a story of the building of the Panama Canal, written by George Stallings. "Buttons" is to be a story of the merchant marine, in which Jackie Coogan is starred. Lon Chaney's next three vehicles, "Hate," "The Hypnotist" and "Seven Seas," are to be announced to the sales managers today.

Two interesting teams which Metro-Goldwyn is to announce today to its representatives include a comedy team, Karl Dane, and George K. Arthur, and a combination comedy and romance team, Lew Cody and Aileen Pringle. Lillian Gish is to be featured in Channing Pollock's "The Enemy."

Before Baking

Give the cake a few bumps on the kitchen table before putting it into the oven and it will never fall. This will cause all the air bubbles to come to the surface and break, thereby removing all cause for falling.

COAST AVIATION TO BE EXPANDED

Army Air Chief Tells Plans for Development

San Diego Combat Training Groups Slated

Assistant War Secretary to Join Official Here

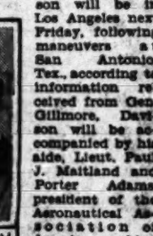
By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

SANTA MONICA, May 20.—Brig.-Gen. William E. Gillmore, chief of procurement, supply and maintenance for the United States Army Air Force, arrived in Santa Monica this morning on an inspection trip covering Pacific Coast air activities. Assistant Secretary of War F. Trubee Davison will be in Los Angeles next Friday, following maneuvers at San Antonio, Tex., according to information received from Gen. Gillmore. Davison will be accompanied by his aide, Lieut. Paul J. Maitland and Porter Adams, president of the Aeronautical Association of America, making the journey from Texas in a three-motored Fokker Army transport plane.

BRIG. GEN. WILLIAM E. GILLMORE

Clover Field, Santa Monica, inspected today by Brig.-Gen. Gillmore, is to have new equipment for the large force of reserve officers who receive training here. "We are going to give Clover Field up-to-date equipment within a few months," Gen. Gillmore stated, adding that present old equipment will be discarded. He intimated that the PT-1 plane, manufactured by the Consolidated Aircraft Corporation of Buffalo, will probably be used at first to supplant the present JN ships and that later a special type of plane will be used here, particularly designed to cover training needs for the Air Reserve.

The Pacific Coast, Gen. Gillmore revealed, is scheduled to have combat aviation training for the first time in the history of flying. A pursuit group and a bombing group are to be trained on this coast, probably at Rockwell Field, San Diego. Primary training will also be given at March Field, according to present plans. This field is to be inspected during the present trip, also Ross Field and the National Guard aviation facilities at Griffith Park. Next Monday Gen. Gillmore plans to fly to San Diego for inspection of the government's aviation plant at Rockwell Field, North Island.



F. TRUBEE DAVISON

Following his arrival in Santa Monica Gen. Gillmore was taken to the Athletic Club for luncheon by aviation heads here, including Eric Nelson, round-the-world flyer, Maj. C. C. Mosley, manager of the Western Air Express; Donald Douglas, and Harry Wetzel. Lieut. Walter Burgess, commander of Clover Field, and his staff met Gen. Gillmore at the field. Gen. Gillmore spoke highly of the Douglas planes, manufactured in Santa Monica, of which the government is purchasing seventy-five transport and other types. An inspection of the Douglas plant is to be made.

LIEUT. PAUL J. MAITLAND

"The Pacific Coast is in for large developments in Army aviation," Gen. Gillmore stated, adding that his love for this western country had started with his former service here and had remained undimmed. He predicted that Assistant War Secretary Davison would become as enthusiastic when he arrives on what will be his first trip to the Pacific Coast. Gen. Gillmore declined to discuss specific reasons for extensive air defense development on this coast, but stated that such development seemed logical and assured.

Family and personal budgets, efficient distribution of income, living costs and household accounts will be covered in a course in home economy and accounting.

Three Freed in Connection With Shooting

Capt. Bean of the detective bureau yesterday ordered the release, with apologies, of Charles Wood, 46 years of age, 827 East One Hundred and Sixth street, his son, Henry Wood, 22, and Leonard Thompson, 26, 915 North Avenue 67, who were questioned in connection with the shooting of two officers by bandits Wednesday night. The men were picked up, Capt. Bean said, when license plates which had been stolen from Wood's car were found on a car abandoned by the bandits.

The wounded officers, George H. Foster and Emil H. Coltzau, were reported yesterday as improving rapidly. Foster, the more seriously hurt, is in White Memorial Hospital.

ALIENATION SUIT DRAWS CROSSFIRE

Cissy Fitzgerald of Wink Fame Declares Son's Wife Not Legally Divorced

Flinging the sensational charge that Vera Tucker was not legally divorced from her former husband when she married her son, Osmund Mark Tucker, Cissy Fitzgerald, vaudeville and screen player, yesterday filed an answer in Superior Court to the $50,000 alienation-of-affections damage suit brought against her by her daughter-in-law a month ago.

Mrs. Tucker, in her complaint, asserted that Mrs. Fitzgerald prejudiced her husband against her by telling him that she should have married a laborer instead of a gentleman.

The sudden cooling of Osmund Tucker's affections for his new wife was not caused by his mother at all, the answer states, but by the continual nagging of his wife, who also kept him from gaining employment at motion-picture studios by misrepresentations concerning him.

"I tried to be a mother to them both," Mrs. Fitzgerald said in her answer, "and even helped by daughter-in-law's family financially, giving money to her brother to go to New York to obtain work."

The Tucker honeymoon was short, according to the records of the suit. They were married on January 26, last, and separated March 15. At the time of the separation, Mrs. Tucker charged in her complaint, she agreed with her husband that he join her at her sister's home but he never appeared. She accused Mrs. Fitzgerald of sending her husband from the State.

Mrs. Fitzgerald also denied this charge in her answer yesterday.

CHILDREN'S HOME URGED AT SCHOOLS

Plans Made to Establish Place for Neglected and Wayward Boys and Girls

Plans are being made to establish a twenty-four-hour home-school for children whose home affairs are in adjustment. The school will be under the supervision of the school department in co-operation with public welfare agencies empowered with supervising functions.

Reasons for the establishment of such a school were given at a meeting of persons active in child welfare work. It was explained that such a school would supplement the work of the child welfare department of the schools in clearance of cases without court process.

In cases where remedy of conditions is possible, the children concerned, it was said, would be placed in the home-school, with the consent of parents or guardians, until the matters at issue could be straightened out.

The school would be used for the temporary care of wayward or neglected children and through such procedure children would be spared being placed in Juvenile Hall.

President Benshimol of the Night School Teachers' Association, and Mrs. Palmer, secretary of the Public School Protective League, approved the school.

Mother Faces Burglary Trial With Daughter

Asserted shoplifting raids upon local stores covering a period of almost a year and in which they obtained plunder valued at thousands of dollars ended disastrously yesterday for Mrs. Anna Nachnaber, 47 years of age, and her daughter, Mrs. Elsie Richmond, 20, when they were ordered held to the Superior Court by Municipal Judge Blake for trial on a charge of burglary.

Judge Blake bound the pair over to the higher court after nearly two days of preliminary hearing in which a score of witnesses were called and asserted plunder ranging from avocados to clothing was identified as taken from various stores.

Friday, the 13th inst., was unlucky for the mother-and-daughter team, according to arresting officers, who said they followed the two on that day in a downtown department store and watched them take baseball gloves, panama hats, men's trousers, ladies' shoes, a small box of cheese and a jar of pickles as well as other goods. All was stuck in a booster-bag, the officers said, and later wrapped into parcels in the ladies' rest room and placed in a shopping bag.

No defense testimony was put on at the preliminary hearing by Attorney James Groom for the women. In ordering mother and daughter held to the higher court, Judge Blake fixed bail at $5000 for the mother and $2500 for Mrs. Richmond.

Pay Daughter's Bills or Go to Jail, His Choice

Del Andrews, a director at Universal studios, yesterday was ordered by Municipal Judge Georgia Bullock to pay $100 a month to his former wife for support of their 11-year-old daughter, Betty Lou, or spend sixty days in the City Jail. Andrews had pleaded guilty to a charge of failure to provide.

The director was haled into court by Bail Clerk Scott on a complaint issued by Deputy City Prosecutor Jacobsen, who charged that Andrews is $150 in arrears in his payments for the daughter's support. Prosecutor Jacobsen also charge that Andrews had made no payments since $50 on April 1, last. Judge Bullock ordered Andrews to report his payments in ninety days.

TRIBUTE TO DE MILLE BY BREAKFAST CLUB

The breakfast was in the nature of a tribute to Mr. De Mille and others, following the first showing in Hollywood of his biblical production, "The King of Kings."

GRIFFITH HAS TWO BIG STORIES

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

D. W. Griffith is still undecided as to what picture he will produce first under his United Artist' contract. He is at present considering two, one of which he is almost sure to select. They are "The White Slave" and "The Battle of the Sexes," the latter of which he made fourteen years ago when he was with Mutual.

D. W. GRIFFITH

"The Battle of the Sexes" was away ahead of its time in treatment and theme. Being a deeply human story, is considered by Mr. Griffith in more than worthy of consideration. Another picture firm now owns the rights to the story, however.

"When the picture was originally made," declared Mr. Griffith in course of a talk yesterday, "it cost for its total production only $2500! Now the company owning the story wants $35,000 for the film rights alone!"

"The White Slave" is a stage play and its plot is a story of a girl brought up as a white girl and learning when she is grown that she has colored blood in her veins. This Mr. Griffith was planning to make when he left Paramount. He is balanced in his intention between the two stories.

Carol Dempster, who has starred in so many of Griffith's pictures, is still under contract to him, and will come west within a few weeks. This is Miss Dempster's home. Her family lives here, and she owns a handsome home in Beverly Hills.

"I feel that we have discovered Miss Dempster's proper metier," said Griffith. "It is whimsical comedy as in 'Sally of the Sawdust,' combined with a sort of repressed pathos."

Another youthful genius has arisen in the Griffith organization, according to Mr. Griffith himself. He is Jack Lloyd, who has been working for the director as publicity man during the past twelve years, and who was formerly a newspaper man. Of late he has taken up the work of scenario writer, and Mr. Griffith claims that he has a distinct talent for story writing.

Mr. Griffith reports himself as delighted to be back in California. He looks ruddily healthy, and enters restfully into the athletic activities of the Breakfast Club, of which he has become an enthusiastic member.

"The Breakfast Club is the best thing of its kind I have ever seen anywhere," said the director. "It is a humanizing organization for one thing. When people shut themselves away from their fellow-men, they get to thinking a good deal of themselves, but when they get out with five or six hundred other men, do morning exercises, put their hands on each others' shoulders and sing that ham-and-egg song, they come down to earth. They when each member salutes each other member as a 'ham' or an 'egg,' each realizes that that is just about what he is!"

Mr. Griffith lauded Cecil B. De Mille's "King of Kings" to the skies, declaring it to be one of the greatest and most tremendously significant pictures ever made. He, himself, had wanted very much at one time to make a life of Christ.

"But now that story, the greatest in the world's history, cannot be made again for years and years," he said.

Directors Exchange Jobs

It would seem that Directors Gregory La Cava and Frank Strayer of Paramount train right along with the old saw which says something about the grass in the next pasture always looking the greenest. At any rate, they are exchanging directorial jobs.

La Cava heard about "Tell It to Sweeney," costarring Chester Conklin and George Bancroft, and immediately was seized with a yen to direct it. Simultaneously Frank Strayer, who was supposed to direct that comedy, cast longing eyes at "Palmy Days," which La Cava had been scheduled to make. Each finding out that the other hankered for his job, they talked it over with Paramount executives, who proved open-minded enough to let them make the exchange of jobs.

Mal St. Clair Busy

Malcolm St. Clair is hard at work at the United Artists' studio directing Constance Talmadge in the first picture he has made in California in some eighteen months. "Breakfast" is a comedy-drama of Parisian life by Fred De Grasac, ideally suited to St. Clair's flair for sophisticated comedy.

MALCOLM ST. CLAIR

The cast has finally been completed. Don Alvarado and Bryant Washburn have the leading male roles. The rest of the cast includes Paulette Duval, Alice White, Burr McIntosh, Marie Dressler, David Mir and Nellie Bly Baker. Lige Conley is acting as gag man.

Paramount Star to London

Vera Voronina who in March, 1926, fled from Bolshevik persecution in her native Russia to arrive at motion-picture stardom in Hollywood in a series of breath-taking episodes, left yesterday on another voyage of adventure. Her destination is New York, from whence she will sail next week for London. There she is to be leading woman in "Huntingtower," the first starring picture of the famous Scotch commedian, Sir Harry Lauder.

VERA VORONINA

London is one of the few European capitals that the blue-eyed Russian star did not visit in the course of her swift travels during the past two thrill-crowded years. Her stay there will be as brief as her visits to other cities, however, for as soon as "Huntingtower" is completed she will return to Hollywood to resume her career in Paramount pictures.

The star arrived in America only four months ago. She came to Hollywood and was put to work at once. She played in Pola Negri's "The Woman on Trial" and in Lois Moran's "The Whirlwind of Youth," and so impressed Paramount executives that she was given the leading feminine role opposite Raymond Griffith in "Time to Love," which she has just completed.

Miss Voronina's biography reads like a movie melodrama scenario itself in spite of the fact that she is only 22 year of age. Her motion-picture career began in Vienna, where she lived a year after fleeing from Russia. She had worked as a mannequin for nine months with an interlude of motion-picture-extra work on one short production, when, one night in a cafe, a director introduced himself, arranged a screen test and gave her a leading role. This resulted in a stage engagement in Munich, Germany, which in turn got her a leading picture role. This took her to Berlin, Paris, Biarritz, Stockholm and back to Berlin on various location and business trips. She was signed by Dr. Erich Pommer to come to this country.

Bill Cody Leaves Pathe

Bill Cody, western star, who has been producing pictures under Pathe's banner, has severed connections with Pathe, it was announced today. According to Cody's Pathe schedule he was to make one more production, "Gold from Weepah," the western star's sixth and last production that was originally planned as a program picture, will be released as a special. The exhibitors throughout the country who have contracted for a series of six will find but five for them for release. The sixth will not come under the series contract.

BILL CODY

Whether Cody will complete the sixth program picture for Pathe is uncertain. The star is at present negotiating with three of the big country indorsed his productions. with one of these organizations will shortly be announced.

Bill Cody's rise to movie heights was made through his own efforts. Against advices from film officials Cody made pictures different from any other western star. In all of his productions he never carried a gun, never smoked or drank. This method of producing was directly responsible for his success. Churches and women's clubs throughout the country indorsed his productions. An Australian whip is his weapon of defense.

Bebe Won't Travel

It looks as though Bebe Daniels will have to remain at home after all, foregoing her hoped-for trip to New York.

Paramount has switched stories and Bebe is going to resume work sooner than she expected. She will remain at home and help work out the details of the new plot with its author, Lloyd Corrigan.

BEBE DANIELS

Miss Daniels always prefers to assist with her stories. The story is "Swim, Girl, Swim." She will begin work on the picture, under direction of Clarence Badger, about June 7, and will have to be content with a couple of weeks at her beach home in Santa Monica.

Paramount and Miss Daniels feel that at least the star has found exactly her right niche in pictures, which is a good romance, and real, legitimate comedy.

Jack MacDermott wrote "Senorita," which has made a sensational hit everywhere, and he is also the author of the story which Miss Daniels will make after "Swim, Girl, Swim."

Mike Boylan Home

Malcolm Stuart Boylan returned yesterday to his desk at the Fox studios and resumed his post as head of the title department, following two months' absence in the East, where he titled "The Joy Girl" and saw all the new Broadway shows.

Young Paramount Players Renew

There are three little maids from the Paramount school who are very happy today. They are Ivy Harris, Sally Blane and Mary Phillips.

These young actresses have been given new contracts by Paramount, and what is more, all three expect soon to be placed in excellent roles, due to the talents they have shown.

BETTY BECOMES LADY DETECTIVE

"The Lady Bird" at Figueroa is Lively Crook Story With Charming Star

It used to be the fashion for the lovely heroine, by chance held in the lair of the villain, to hope and pray, terrified and sobbing, for the arrival of her brave, handsome lover, that he might rescue her, and, as often as not, he just arrived in the nick of time.

But nowadays, according to the movies, a modern piece of femininity can lick her weight in wildcats without brushing the tiniest speck of powder from her nose. No longer is she dependent upon Mr. Hero.

If you don't believe it, go see Betty Compson in "The Lady Bird," an exciting, intriguing crook photoplay, which opened at the Figueroa yesterday. Betty just up and wallops outright the dangerous Spider, leader of a gang of ruthless crooks. One learns that she has studied jiu jitsu along with her dancing and swimming.

Before she is a lady detective, Betty is a society lass who spends and spends and spends for gowns, hats, furs, jewels and whatnot, until her guardian emphatically puts a stop to it. Then Betty, with a toss of her pretty head, says, very well, she will go earn her own living.

The coin flip says New Orleans. Guardian sends a handsome attache of his trust company, Malcolm McGregor, by another train to keep a watchful eye on his impetuous ward. Betty gains a position as cafe dancer and is mistaken by jewel thieves as one of their confederates. How she outwits them and leads them into the arms of the waiting police makes a colorful and exciting tale, which is told on the screen. Oh, yes—she worries Malcolm.

There are plenty of thrills in the film, what, with its exotic setting, its pictures of night life in New Orleans at the time of the Mardi Gras and the adventures of Betty in the role of sleuth.

She makes a most vivacious and pretty heroine. Malcolm McGregor is the leading man, and his handsome eyes, which he uses to good advantage in this picture, should win for him a host of new admirers. Hank Mann as the butler has his good moments, (he isn't on the screen long) while Sheldon Lewis as the Spider twists himself into a weird shape. Other members of the cast include Ruth Stonehouse, John Miljan, Leo White and Joseph Girard. The direction is the work of Walter Lang.

The vaudeville bill at the Figueroa includes a dancing act by the Howard twins; a feature, "The Primrose Path," by Jimbe and Mack; some songs and dances by Lucille Enderly and company; Rice and Cady, comedians, and some art poses by the Youngers. "That's My Mummy" is the two-reel comedy.

WILKES NOT OUT OF THEATER

Producer Had No Show to Follow Mystery Drama at Vine Street

Emphatic denial of the story published yesterday in a morning newspaper that all production arrangements between Wilkes Vine Street Theater and A. G. Wilkes and C. O. Baumann, producers, had been canceled, was last night voiced by Arthur William Green, attorney for M. L. Ramish, owner of the theater.

Furthermore, the name of the theater will continue as Wilkes Vine Street with no change in policy as to productions booked contemplated, Green said.

"To say that Mr. Wilkes is 'out' of the Vine Street is a gross misstatement," said Green. "He had no production ready when 'The Donovan Affair' neared its close and I have booked Dickson Morgan's "Loyalties" for two weeks. There is a possibility that 'Spanish Lovers' may follow this.

"If Mr. Wilkes has a production ready then, it may be booked. I have told him that if he got into rehearsal on 'Little Orchid Annie' and showed me it was any good, I would play that. However, it is a new play, never before produced, and I want to see what it's like before I book it."

Show Recruits Girls From All Parts of South

Most of the girls selected by Al Jolson for the cast and chorus of his new musical show, "Big Boy," opening at the Biltmore Monday night, are southern beauties, and few of them have appeared on the stage prior to this engagement. Louisville, Memphis, Atlanta, New Orleans, Mobile, Savannah, Tampa, Norfolk, Asheville and Charleston are represented in this personnel.

The costumes run from crinolines of the days of 1860 to modern evening gowns and afternoon frocks. "Tap the Toe," an old-fashioned southern dance, which is a variation of the polka, is one of the high lights of the production.

Frankie Jaames, a southern boon shouter in "Big Boy," is responsible for the current "Vo-de-o-vo" craze, which originated in her song number, "Crazy Words," it is claimed. This song was written last autumn for Jolson, who turned it over to Miss Jaames in a generous moment.

LANGDON IS AMUSING

Before he cut loose "on his own," Harry Langdon made "His First Flame" for Mack Sennett, and it is this feature-length comedy which occupies the stellar position on the new bill at the Uptown, starting yesterday. Additionally, the glad tidings may be broadcast that the current opus will not detract any from the reputation of the more and more highly esteemed little comedian. "His First Flame" is a good comedy.

Not that it is uproariously funny. In the ultramodern manner of erstwhile slapstick humor, the picture gets off to a slow start and builds steadily to the usual wild-eyed finish. Langdon is an exceptional comedian because he allows the spectator to follow his mental processes step by step, much in the Chaplin style. His favorite trick of registering surprise—accomplished by glancing at the cause of it, then away from it, and, as the full portent of what he has seen dawns upon him, quickly back at it again—is hilariously in evidence throughout this latest release.

The action follows—for a Sennett comedy—an unusually well mapped-out continuity. It gives the star an opportunity to appear as a college graduate, a fireman, a "woman,"—and a baby. The sight of Langdon as a mildly astonished infant in a perambulator is one that is going to add considerably to the gaiety of nations.

Natalie Kingston, Ruth Hiatt, Vernon Dent, Bud Jamieson and Dot Farley are all present as acceptable foils; but it is Langdon's picture all the way through.

There are two out-of-the-ordinary short subjects at the Uptown which deserve mention. One is a commendably earnest but extremely jumpy biography called "Our Roosevelt" and presented by Ward Lascelle. Frankie Lee is the boy Teddy and Frank Hopper the man. Alf Goulding directed in a very theatric manner and the film was titled in keeping with the direction. Glimpses of New York in the 70's are colorfully managed.

The other short subject gem (short subjects are nearly always called "gems," even when they resemble the paste variety) is "A Dream of the Sea," and it is done by a process named Binocolor, which is so-so. The story is scantily clothed in probability and the two maidens employed in its telling are scantily clothed in anything. Both of them are bathing beauties, especially the one with the fish's tail. The hero persists in kissing the heroine under water, which assures him reasonable privacy but little else.

Dave Good's Revelers offer their usual superlatively fine orchestrations of current hits, aided and abetted by Oscar Taylor's powerful voice. A girl usher sings a number; Jack Durant and Frank Mitchell demonstrate just how versatile they are, and Rose Valida, "the girl with the double voice," sings high up and low down—at different times. After all, it would be almost asking too much to expect her to join herself in a duet.

Two Star Acts Represented on Latest Program

The summer season will be ushered in gaily at the Hillstreet next week, when a double headline bill, including William Gaxton and company and the Dodge Twins, will be seen. William Gaxton brings his little company of players in a farce entitled "Partners," by Leon Errol. Mr. Gaxton is a late star of the "Music Box Revue," "All For You" and other Broadway successes. The Dodge Twins are just returning from a tour of Europe with their songs and dances presented in their own inimitable way.

Another feature is Jack Kneeland and his gang of merry-makers, including the Eaton Sisters, who together offer a musical act.

Billy Shone, assisted by Betty Richmond, will be seen in a novelty by William K. Wells entitled "Lobby Follies." Brosius and Browne offer their patter act, while Rody Jordon will patter current topics from the funny side.

First National Pictures presents Johnny Hines in the screen feature entitled "All Aboard." Edna Murphy is featured in the cast with Charles Hines directing. Chapter six of "The Wisecrackers" will be shown with a News Reel and Aesop's Fables concluding.

STARRING DUO WILL APPEAR IN "MONSTER"

Admirers of Ruth Saville and Leonard Doyle, the new starring team of the Ruth Helen Davis Players at the Belmont Theater, will be glad to learn that this couple have been cast for the principal roles in "The Monster," the thrill drama, which comes to the Vermont and First-street playhouse Sunday night.

"The Monster" will be seen for the first time here. It has enjoyed successful runs in New York and Chicago but has never before been presented locally. The play was picturized a few months ago.

LOEW'S STATE HAS DIVERSIFIED BILL

Russ Westover's comic strip, "Tillie the Toiler," comes to the Loew's State screen this week, depicting the adventures of the flapper, flirt and breadwinner, Tillie.

Beginning with Tillie's first entrance into the office of Mr. Simpkins, the production moves along at a rapid pace, introducing the patient, plodding Mac, the effeminate Mr. Whipple, Penny Fish, the millionaire, and, of course, the large collection of boy friends.

The cast includes Marion Davies as Tillie, George K. Arthur as Whipple, Matt Moore as Mac, George Fawcett as Mr. Simpkins, Harry Crocker as Penny Fish, Estelle Clark, Bert Roach, Gertrude Short, Arthur Hoyt and Claire McDowell.

"Bugs," the Fanchon and Marco presentation for the week is one of the most pretentious, elaborate and wholly enjoyable that has ever appeared on the Loew's State stage. The act features Homer Dickson, Dorothy Lee and the Hollywood Beauties.

Ladybugs, spiders, butterflies, all gorgeously costumed, were each presented in their specialty numbers, that proved veritable riots. The bug fashion parade presented some of the most elaborate and effective costuming imaginable.

Homer Dickinson and Dorothy Lee, billed as the "Hollywood Bugs," pleased with their patter and song number, while the Hollywood Beauties created a sensation with their ensemble work.

The finale of the act fairly stopped the show. It was composed of a huge white spider web against a black velvet drop. The chorus, costumed as bright red spiders, climbed up the web and went through a closing dance number in a semisuspended position that gave a startling effect.

As usual, the jovial leader, Gene Morgan, added a series of wise cracks and melody to the production.

PLUGS IN WIRES TO LEARN "HELLO" TRADE

Film actresses have been put to various expedients to familiarize themselves with the characters they were to portray, but Madge Belamy, who plays the title role in "The Telephone Girl," which reaches the West Coast Boulevard Theater for a run of three days, tomorrow, claims a unique experience in this respect. To become adept at an operator's duties, Director Brenen assigned her to the studio switchboard, where, for two days, she learned the gentle art of plugging in. Other members of the cast of "The Telephone Girl" are Warner Baxter, Holbrook Blinn and Lawrence Gray.

SMALLMAN CHOIR

Unaccompanied Voices Heard in Difficult Choral Works

BY ISABEL MORSE JONES

The Smallman a Sappella Choir gave a program at the Philharmonic Auditorium last night that was unusual in its choice of numbers and remarkable in its perfection of singing. Los Angeles should awaken to the fact that this unaccompanied choir trained by John Smallman is taking its place among the singing bodies of international prominence. Certain effects of polyphonal beauty obtained last evening have not been surpassed by visiting choirs.

Inspired by the St. Olaf Choir and the Ukrainian Choir, this organization of forty carefully chosen voices has been arduously rehearsing under the exacting baton of John Smallman for two years. At the close of this comparatively short time they sing such masterworks as "Divendres Sant," by Nicolau for four choruses in fourteen parts and in three languages, Greek, Latin and Catalonian.

Its performance was a revelation.

The Lotus Girl's Trio, composed of Ruth Somerindyke, Lois Miller, Vera Thompson and the accompanying pianist, Daisy Sinclair, gave four songs delightfully. Their clear voices and natural phrasing made beautiful work of familiar numbers by Grieg and Rimsky-Korsakoff, and Elinor Warren's "Children of the Moon" became particularly lovely dream fantasy by their skillful handling.

The choir's singing of the Delius "Summer Night" was pleasing and an O'Hara arrangement for many voices of "Annie Laurie" brought out interesting possibilities in part singing, but the number that stood alone as an example of its musicianship and high attainment was the Nicolau "Divendres Sant."

As a great force for the growth of music in this community Mr. Smallman's singing organizations, the a Cappella Choir and the Oratorio Society which gives its last performance of the season on Friday night at the Shrine Auditorium, stand alone on a high place.

PREMIERE SET FOR TOMORROW

Dickson Morgan to Present Galsworthy's "Loyalties" for Limited Run

Tomorrow night will see the premiere at the Vine-street Theater of "Loyalties," the first Dickson Morgan production to play as a regular attraction.

Galsworthy has written this play of social intrigue, mystery and racial prejudice, around the figure of a young Jew of wealth and social position whose loyalty to his inherent principles condemns him the eyes of his fellow-men. Since its successful matinee showing a few weeks ago "Loyalties" has called for a great deal of discussion from ministers, rabbis and clubwomen.

Arthur Lubin, Charles Quartermain, Lawrence Grant, Carla King, Oryl Chadwick and Mary Forbes head the cast. Frank Pearce, Malcolm Moulder, William Raymond, Eric Snowdon, Harold Nelson, Oscar Briggs, Rene Sarazen, Alice Mosher, David Henderson, King Kennedy and Carl Dial also play important roles. Halstead designed the settings.

Bold, Broad Strokes Mark Skinner Style

In the Playhouse Theater, beginning Monday evening, Charles Frohman will present Otis Skinner in his greatest success, "The Honor of the Family." The engagement is limited to two weeks.

"The Honor of the Family" is a romantic comedy in four acts which has its source in the pages of Balzac under the title of "Un Menage de Garcon." Later this story was fashioned into a play by Emile Fabre, which he called "La Rabouilleuse." Then Paul Potter put the play into English and called it "The Honor of the Family."

Mr. Skinner's admirable art, it is recalled, illustrates every character he represents, and in "The Honor of the Family," he is Col. Philippe Bridau, a character whose portrait he paints with bold, broad strokes.

German Woman Photographed Foreign Drama

Cinema critics of Europe have lauded the photography of "Aftermath," the Forum Theater's next picture, which (after the close of Lon Chaney in "Mr. Wu" Monday night) has its Western Hemisphere premiere Tuesday night. The film industry in Hollywood and the public as well will be interested in the fact that the photography is the work of Friedel Behn-Grund, a talented German woman, who is probably the first of her sex to gain fame as a cinematographer. The picture was produced by National Film A. G., Berlin, and imported by Walter W. Kofeldt, Inc.

Director Erich Waschneck, the author also of the original story, has been praised for his attention to smallest details. His scenes all show rhythm, color and taste, critics declared.

ACTOR WILL GREET PATRONS IN PERSON

A large audience is expected at the public reception this afternoon in honor of John Litel, now the leading man in "The Patsy" at the Morosco. Interest will center on the stage of the theater where the reception will be held immediately following the matinee performance. Everyone attending will receive an autographed souvenir picture of the actor.

"The Patsy" will enter its eighth week tomorrow afternoon. The comedy is now in an extended run and other plays booked for the Morosco are being held until the end of its run.

Kelly Prosecutor Assails Miss Mackaye as "Assassin" of Dead Husband's Cha

CASE TO GO TO JURORS MONDAY

Defense Attorney Ridicules Courtroom Crowd

Actress Upbraided for Her Actions Night of Fight

Physician Insists Raymond Died of Hemorrhage

Dorothy Mackaye, stage actress, yesterday was assailed as an "assassin" of her dead husband's character when Dep. Dist.-Atty. Kemp made his opening argument to a jury of eight women and four men in Superior Judge Burnell's court at the trial of Paul Kelly, young motion-picture actor who is charged with murder for the death of Ray Raymond, musical-comedy man.

The arguments to the jury were started at 11:35 a. m. yesterday, after the State and the defense rested their cases. The case was submitted after Dr. Cecil Reynolds and County Autopsy Surgeon Wagner were called to give rebuttal testimony by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Murray to hit Kelly's medical defense.

Court adjourned yesterday until 2 p.m. Monday, when, in all probability the arguments will be completed and the case given to the jury. Should the arguments require more time than is expected the case will not reach the jury's hands until Tuesday morning. Judge Burnell ordered the jury locked up under guard over the week-end.

RIDICULES CROWD

Chief Defense Attorney W. I. Gilbert, who followed Mr. Kemp did a little assailing himself, ridiculing murder-trial publicity and harpooning the curious spectators who crowded the courtroom. He said they were not present, as Mr. Kemp had stated, to see the law enforced but to "hear something salacious."

"Clean-minded people stay at home," he roared.

Miss Mackaye and Kelly were made the target for considerable criticism from Mr. Kemp. He upbraided her for going back to Kelly's apartment after his fight with her husband in which, the State contends, Raymond sustained fatal injuries.

"She was an assassin of her dead husband's character—yes, even more—murderess of her dead husband's character," Mr. Kemp shouted. While she was on the stand, he charged, she never forgot she was an actress. Her testimony was replete with "I don't remembers" when she testified for the State, the prosecutor challenged, but "she remembered everything that was of help to the defense."

"All of which proved, Mr. Kemp continued, "that her heart instead of being full of love for her husband, her home and her child was a pool of bitterness."

GIN DISCUSSED

The prosecutor discussed the gin parties at Kelly's apartment in which he and Miss Mackaye were participants. He discussed the testimony of the various witnesses, touching on points which, he said, bore out the contention of the State as to Raymond's death. He scoffed at Kelly's medican defense that Raymond died from natural causes and not from injury, characterizing it as "all bunk."

Max Wagner, roommate of Kelly, came in for a little ridicule also. "All of his testimony was just gin, gin, gin," Mrs. Kemp asserted.

"Kelly broke up Raymond's home, stole the affections of his wife and then went over to Raymond's home and beat him with his fists and caused his death," reared Mr. Kemp. He hinted that the $800 "loaned" by Kelly to Miss Mackaye on the day Raymond died was used to "cover up" the facts of the actor's death.

The attention of the entire country, he poined out, is focused on such cases as this. He referred to the Snyder-Gray murder trial in New York.

"Four of the Ten Commandments have been broken in this case," the prosecutor stated. "Can he violate the law of God, the law of man, and get away with it?"

As Mr. Kemp finished the spectators started to applaud. This brought a severe rebuke from Judge Burnell and the bailiff threatened to clear the courtroom if there was a peretition.

Mr. Gilbert will complete his argument when the case is resumed on Monday. In opening he continually referred to Kelly as a "young man" and "that boy." He hit hard at the State for trying Kelly on a murder indicment, charging the prosecutors knew the facts of the case would not support such a charge and that it was done solely for the purpose of influencing the jurors to compromise on a verdict of manslaughter.

"There are two sides to every story, and there are two sides to this one," he declared. "Kelly was not entirely responsible for what happened. Raymond was partly to blame also. He met up with a lady he had known back in New York who happened to be married. But he had nothing to do with breaking of their home than did the other principals.

The closing argument will be made by Mr. Murray and then the case will go to the jury.

ACTRESS ABSENT

The trial continued yesterday to be a drawing card for large crowds, both during the morning and afternoon sessions. Kelly appeared weary yesterday and the testimony and events of the day did not appear to be of much interest to him, except what his attorney had to say.

Miss Mackeye and her "girl friend," Helen Wilkinson, were absent from the courtroom. She has not been present since she completed her testimony early last week. Miss Wilkinson was not called as a witness. Mrs. A. R. Cedarbloom of Forest Hills, New York, mother of Raymond, sobbed quietly all during the proceedings yesterday and Doris Kelly, also of New York, sister of the defendant, was present.

She has been in constant attendance and the long and tedious court sessions are beginning to have their effect upon her.

The last witnesses yesterday were Deputy Coroners Ball and Shoemel, Dr. Reynolds and Dr. Wagner.

The defense attorney put Dr. Reynolds through a hammering cross-examination and when he interrupted the witness continually while he was answering his questions, the court said:

"If you do that again, Mr. Gilbert, I'll give a ruling with a kick to it."

Mr. Gilbert, however, failed to shake Dr. Reynold's opinion that Raymond died from a subdural hemorrhage caused by injuries he had received. Mr. Kemp brought out that the defense had sought his testimony as an expert but that he declined to appear after he had read a 1800-word hypothetical question prepared by Mr. Gilbert.

The deputy coroners and Dr. Wagner were called to rebut some of the testimony given by Dr. W. J. Sullivan, who attended Raymond and who is awaiting trial on June 10 with Miss Mackaye on an indictment jointly accusing them of being accessories after the fact and with compounding a felony for the asserted concealment of the true facts of the actor's death.

DOCTOR REFUTED

Ball testified he was present when Dr. Wagner performed the autopsy on Raymond's body and that Dr. Wagner asked Dr. Sullivan for a history of the case. He asserted that Dr. Sullivan said he didn't know much about the history except that the man had been on a spree and had fallen. This testimony was put on to refute that of Dr. Sullivan that he made a full and complete report to the Coroner's office about the bruises and marks of violence on Raymond's head and body.

The witness also stated in contradiction to Dr. Sullivan's testimony that the physician informed Dr. Wagner that there was a trace of blood in the spinal fluid taken from Raymond which would indicate a brain hemorrhage. Schoenfel said that Dr. Sullivan told him there were no marks of violence on Raymond's body to his knowledge. Dr. Wagner said the physician made no mention to him of the fact that Raymond had been in a fight.

Yesterday marked the tenth trial day of the case which has been in progress for the past two weeks. It has attracted record crowds, particularly during the time Miss Mackaye and Kelly were on the witness stand.

Summing Up Kelly Prosecution

Dep. Dist.-Atty. Kemp Addresses Jury

JURORS' ATTITUDES VARIED AS ARGUMENT PROCEEDS

Bursts of oratory for the final wind-up of the Kelly trial were begun yesterday by counsel in their arguments to the jury. Although the jurors were right under their very noses they raised their voices as if they were speaking in an open-air stadium.

Strong indictments were hurled against Dorothy Mackaye. Dep. Dist.-Atty. Kemp characterized her as an "assassin and murderess of her husband's character," and he admonished the jury to bear in mind that never for a moment during her testimony did she forget that she was an actress.

When Kemp came to mention of Max Wagner, he said that the only thing he could think of to call him was "Max Wagner, the drunk." And Maxie sat a few feet away in the spectators section with his handkerchief clamped over his mouth to cover an expansive grin.

Kelly looked decidedly solemn during all this and his color was gray asbestos. Mrs. Cedarbloom, who hasn't missed a session during the whole trial seemed more overcome than ever over the review of the case and kept her face covered with her handkerchief.

Attorney Gilbert's reaction to the argument was to assume his best bored, indifferent expression and anyone coming into the room for the first time might have picked him out as the most disinterested person in the place.

Some of the jurors appear to be in great mental travail as they listen to the summaries, judging from the harassed expressions in their eyes. But on the other hand, there are several who look settled and determined as though their minds were made up and couldn't be changed.

At the end of Kemp's speech a slight ripple of applause started among a few of the spectators. They were quickly and firmly put in their places by the bailiff and told that another such demonstration would call for an immediate clearing of the courtroom.

A dark, exotic, mysterious-looking woman in the front row yesterday with carmine-colored lips and oriental eyes created the impression that she might have a jeweled dagger concealed about her somewhere, and she drank in every word with avid interest.

Following the afternoon recess Gilbert began the argument of the defense before the jury. He started off quietly and deliberately, but oratory got the better of him and it was not long before he was shouting, too. He gave the spectators something to "laugh off" when he said that, in his opinion, the only reason they were present was because they hoped to hear something salacious. Except for the times that he became excited it was just a human, heart-to-heart talk over the situation. His argument will continue on Monday afternoon.

DISMISSAL IN CASE AGAINST SID NICHOLS

Lack of evidence to warrant the prosecution of Sid Nichols, former Occidental College football coach, on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses, brought about the dismissal of his case yesterday by Judge Stephen Lang at Long Beach. Nichols was arrested April 30, last, on the complaint of Mrs. Fannie Darmer of Long Beach, charging that he appropriated funds belonging to her. He was released on bail until his hearing, when it was found that Mrs. Darmer's accusations were groundless.

Strazelle Will be Tried on Four Charges at Once

Four charges of embezzlement will be prosecuted next Tuesday in Municipal Judge Frederickson's court against James V. Strazelle, president of the late Los Angeles Automobile Association, and head of the Golden State Auto Club, according to agreement yesterday between the magistrate and defense counsel.

This agreement was reached when Attorney G. W. Thompson asked that two earlier cases of embezzlement, which had previously been set for trial at that time, be heard together with additional charges filed against Strazelle by Chief Deputy City Prosecutor Concannon on Thursday.

While Strazelle was released on $1000 bond pending his trial, officers are searching for Charles W. Clark, said to be a collector for the organization.

ROSE GROWERS TO VIE

Show for Amateurs Will Be Opened By Germain Today

Home gardners who boas of their roses will have a chance to show them in public when the Annual Amatuer Rose Show opens today in the display rooms of the Germain Seed and Plant Company, Sixth and Main streets.

The show opens at 10 o'clock in the morning and the public is invited. Amateur growers of outdoor roses are the only ones who may compete. Silver cups, prizes and ribbons will be awarded to the winners.

Entries include vases holding roses of any color; vases holding three blossoms of any color; vases holding two of the famous Los Angeles rose, and vases holding a single rose of any type. All roses will be judged for color, form and length of stem.

VICE INVESTIGATOR'S WIFE GETS DIVORCE

Harry Ellis Dean, formerly a deputy district attorney, yesterday lost his wife, Nellie Rose Dean, when Judge Summerfield granted her a divorce on a charge of desertion. Mrs. Dean related that she went to New York for a visit in 1923 and that Dean refused to send money for her return. He sent her funds to pay her hotel bills, she said, and out of these remittances she saved enough for her carfare home, but Dean refused to take her back. Dean achieved prominence several years ago when he conducted the mayoralty vice scandal investigation during the Sebastian regime.

RESIGNATION OF FLEMING ANNOUNCED

Wrigley Associate Quits Post on Board of Health; Successor's Seating Delayed

The resignation of David P. Fleming, business associate of William Wrigley, Jr., from the Board of Health Commissioners, tendered nearly three months ago, became known only yesterday when Mayor Cryer recommended to the City Council the appointment of Ray Kleinberger, Main-street furniture dealer, to fill the vacancy.

No reason for Fleming's resignation was given by the Mayor nor were the circumstances explained. Reporters who sought to interview him were informed that Mayor Cryer was "out." Mr. Fleming, however, said last night that he had been compelled to resign owing to the pressing demands of other business interests.

"I did not have time to attend the meetings of the board," he said, "and did not consider it fair, under such circumstances, to continue as a member. My resignation was filed about three months ago."

When Kleinberger's appointment was proposed Councilman Golden attempted to force immediate confirmation under suspension of the Council rules, but was blocked by objections from Councilmen Randall and Allan. The motion to suspend the rules and railroad the appointment failed to get the required two-thirds vote and, upon motion of Allan, it was referred to the Health and Sanitation Committee.

Kleinberger is associated with his father in the furniture business at 405 North Main street and lives at 1026 Hauser Boulevard.

Woman Tells Story in Kiss Damage Suit

The damage of an unsolicited kiss and an offensive caress yesterday became a subject of legal dispute in Superior Judge Bishop's court where Mrs. Mary Bloomer is suing L. M. Dornberg for damages of $50,000, asserting that he attempted to attack her and had her confined for ten days in the psychopathic ward of the General Hospital.

Taking the witness stand, Mrs. Bloomer told of Dornberg's asserted attentions when she came to live in his apartment house on Union street.

Mrs. Bloomer also told the jury that after she had repulsed Dornberg's asserted advances and called the police, they took her to the psychopathic ward of the General Hospital, where she was held for ten days.

Dornberg denied the charges and stated that he entered Mrs. Bloomer's apartment to ask her to refrain from making unnecessary noise. He said she followed him from the room, creating a disturbance, and that he believed she was mentally unbalanced at the time and for that reason asked that she be placed under observation. The trial will be resumed Monday morning at 10 o'clock.

Collegians Will Vie Tonight for Dance Awards

Undergraduates of four local universities and colleges will meet tonight to contest for dancing superiority at the Intercollegiate Ball in Shrine Auditorium. Students of the Universities of California at Los Angeles and of Southern California arranged the dance, while California Technology and Pomona are sending delegations, as are other colleges and high schools. The affair is sponsored by the Masonic Club of the University of California at Los Angeles for the benefit of the Masonic clubhouse fund.

Faculty members and many prominent Masons will attend to give the students their support. A committee of undergraduates has the task of awarding two trophy cups for the best man and woman dancers on the floor.

Professional entertainment has been promised, and the dance music will be supplied by the Hermosa Hut Orchestra. Arrangements are in charge of Paul E. Richards, chairman; Helen Phillips, Marguerite Sorensen, Ruth Stark and Lila Dalrymple.

Burglar Enters as Girl Disrobes to Enter Bath

Miss Prince screamed and the burglar jumped through a window. To a neighbor who halted him as he was running away he said, "I'm going to call the police for that woman who is screaming." The neighbor let him go. Nothing was taken.

BEACH CLUB GIVEN LIFE SALES RIGHT

Permit Granted Casa Del Mar to Issue New Dues-Paying Memberships

A permit authorizing the Club Casa Del Mar at Santa Monica to issue and sell a total of 3763 life dues-paying memberships was issued yesterday by the State Corporation Department, according to Assistant Executive Secretary Strachan.

The club has no capital stock, but is composed of the one class of memberships all of which have equal proprietary rights, Strachan stated. He declared that prior to making its application for a permit, the club had sold an aggregate of 3263 memberships of different classifications, but recently the by-laws of the organizations were changed to eliminate all but the one kind of membership, which carries dues amounting to $8 a month.

It is proposed, according to Strachan, that one life dues-paying membership will be issued in exchange for one of any of the former classifications of memberships for a charge of $300. The permit also authorizes the club to sell 500 additional life dues-paying memberships for $300 each to provide funds to liquidate indebtedness and provide working capital.

According to the application, Strachan stated, the club has a ninety-nine-year lease on property in Santa Monica with improvements and furnishings for which it is paying a rental of $4166 a month. Prospective subscribers are advised in the permit that memberships are assignable only upon consent and by compliance with certain terms prescribed by the club directors.

LOS FELIZ ZONE ACT SET OVER

Planning Board's Failure to Sign Report on Measure Causes Delay in Council

Due to the failure of members of the City Planning Committee to sign a report, the City Council voted yesterday to defer until next Thursday all action on the proposed ordinance to zone for business certain sections of Los Feliz Boulevard west of Riverside Drive. The ordinance originally passed the Council by a vote of 8 to 7, but was vetoed by Mayor Cryer and referred back again to the committee for public hearing and further consideration.

Despite the protests of scores of owners of beautiful homes in the Los Feliz Hills against the encroachment of business, real estate operators with land to sell for stores and meat markets have been bringing heavy pressure to bear on members of the Council during the past week. It was rumored yesterday that action was deferred on the matter because of a desire by proponents of business for delay in which to win over necessary ten votes to pass the ordinance over the Mayor's veto.

The unsigned report prepared by Councilman Hall, chairman of the City Planning Committee, recommends that the original ordinance be passed over the Mayor's veto. Although neither will commit himself to a public statement, it is generally understand that Councilmen Criswell and Barnes also will sign the report.

Park Orators Asked to Talk English Only

"Why not have all picnics in English?"

This is the gist of a letter received by the Park Department yesterday from Michael Dollandsen, who came forward voluntarily as a strong advocate for rules prohibiting the use of any foreign language in the Los Angeles public parks.

Dollandsen praised the Park Department for banning religious and political meetings in the parks, but added that foreign languages should be frowned upon.

He declared that a group of Norwegians held a picnic in Sycamore Grove last Sunday, and, although those present could speak English, many preferred to use the tongue of the mother country. One of the speakers, he stated, spoke in Norwegian, but on several occasions resorted to English words.

OPENING OF STREET OVER TRACKS ASKED

Recently the new Slauson playground was opened at Sixty-third street and Hooper avenue and a large number of children attending the recreation center, particularly students in Edison Junior High School, live south of Merrill street and are forced to cross the railroad tracks.

POLICE CONTROL FOR SHOW HOUSES ASKED

An ordinance placing all museums and show houses not classed as theaters under police control and supervision is being considered by the City Council. The matter came before the Council yesterday on recommendation of the Public Welfare Committee. At the request of Councilman Hall it was referred back to the committee for further consideration in order to permit Councilmen to investigate conditions under which certain show places are operating.

MYSTERY IN SHOOTING OF OKLAHOMAN

Wealthy Indian Disclaims Knowledge of Manner of Wounding at Beach

Charles Bailey, 28 years of age, of the Christie Hotel, said to be a wealthy Oklahoma Indian and oil-land owner, was questioned at Hollywood station last night concerning a bullet wound across his back, which scored the skin and nipped the muscles slightly. He declared, according to Capt. Slaughter of the Hollywood detective bureau, he received the wound while standing yesterday on the beach at Santa Monica and had no idea where the bullet came from.

All he knew about it, Bailey said, was that he heard a pinging noise and felt a sudden burning sensation. He saw no one, he said, who could have fired the shot. Bailey said he returned to his hotel and confided in a friend, Jimmy Hogan, who called in Dr. Dashiell. The latter reported the matter to the police.

Officers said the bullet wound appeared to have been made by the ball from a .38-caliber revolver and said they doubted if it was fired from any great distance.

Vanderbilt Suit Trial Deferred to September 6

Trial of the suit of Cassius A. Smith against the Vanderbilt Newspapers, Inc., to recover $8800 Smith asserts he invested in stock of the corporation as a result of fraudulent misrepresentations made by salesmen has been continued until September 6, pursuant to a minute order entered in Judge Guerin's department of Superior Court. The case was on Judge Guerin's calendar for hearing this week, but he was called out of the city.

Smith declares that the salesmen who sold him his stock told him that Cornelius Vanderbilt personally guaranteed it to be worth the money he paid for it.

CHINA PRAISED BY ARMY MAN

Maj. Hayes Kroner Speaks at City Club Dinner

Tells How Far Easterners Studied World War

Soviets' Propaganda Called Most Serious Menace

China has set her mind on running her own government without foreign interference and there's nothing in this world that is going to stop her, according to Maj. Hayes Kroner, Third United States Infantry, Presidio, San Francisco, who spoke at a dinner last night in the City Club.

The dinner was given by the Los Angeles Sector, Association of the Army of the United States. More than 300 reserve officers, National Guard, regular and retired officers attended. Maj. Kroner presented the economic and military phases of China at present and seemed optimistic about the country's ability to right itself from the tangle. He pointed out that China, since the dawn of history, has had a period of chaos following a change of dynasty. The present struggle, he said, is slight compared with the sanguinary upheavals of the past.

WIDE CHINA EXPERIENCE

Maj. Kroner served eight years in China as an officer with the American Legation and recently returned to the United States. He is considered as one of the best-informed men on oriental questions in the United States Army.

"China may be described now as just emerging from the night into a dawn of understanding," Maj. Kroner asserted. "Her people through the influence of Europe and America are becoming enlightened to the extent that they are reaching the place where they can think for themselves. By witnessing the World War from a distance they have learned about the successful use of armed force. They are now employing the same means to meet their own situation."

MOST SERIOUS MENACE

China's most serious menace at present is the soviet propaganda which is being spread broadcast by agents from Moscow, the officer said.

Russia, seeing the importance of getting a foothold and followers in China, has spared no efforts in spreading dissention among the battling groups, he pointed out.

Dr. Walter Dexter, president of Whittier College, spoke on "The Direction of Man."

Lieut.-Col. Howard, executive officer of the One Hundred and Sixtieth Infantry, National Guard, presided at the dinner.

INQUEST SET IN SLAYING OF PRISONERS

Inquiry in Arcadia Man's Death After Arrest on Rum Charge to be Today

An inquest will be conducted today at the Renaker undertaking rooms at Monrovia into the death of Ernest Cortez, 32 years of age, of 2405 East Longdon street, Arcadia, who was killed Thursday night by a bullet from the pistol of Deputy Sheriff M. W. Stogdill. The pistol was one presented to Stogdill by citizens of El Segundo for bravery in a running gun fight with bandits when he was a motorcycle officer. According to Capt. Bright of the Sheriff's staff, the shooting took place during a scuffle and was accidental.

Cortez had just been arrested for the asserted sale to deputy sheriffs of twenty-five gallons of whisky at $6.50 a gallon. Cortez tried to run, it was said, when Stogdill escorted him to a car, and in a struggle with him the weapon was fired. Dep. Dist.-Atty. Fiaher is investigating the case.

STATIC TESTS HELP TO FANS

Research Expected to Make Forecasts Possible

Zoellner Conservatory in Pupil Recital

Uncle John and Children at Orange Show

BY DR. RALPH L. POWER

The United States Hydrographic Office, through Lieut. E. H. Kincaid, has just transmitted an official report to the Navy Department which sets forth the research in the field of plotting static forecasts in a similar way that weather forecasts are plotted today.

The periodic use of the forecasts, according to the research worker, will make for a more exact knowledge of the relations of storms to static and will make possible the tracking of storms, particularly over the ocean where barometer readings are scarce.

Interpretations may also be made as to the time element and when the weather will be free of static and if it proves feasible radio fans will have a good deal to be thankful for.

STATIC LEVELS

It is as important to know the static level as it is to know the strength of a radio signal because the relation of signal strength to static or vice versa determines the intelligibility of radio signals.

In time the radio compass and static recorder will also tell the direction from which the static comes so radio engineers can determine the best location for transmitting sets and directional antenna systems.

Most scientific investigations have more or less proved that meteorological "highs" of barometric pressure are relatively free from static whereas the "lows" are generally attended with static proportional to the disturbance intensity.

ARTIST PUPILS

The studio of KHJ departed from the regular order of procedure last evening. While Uncle John took his KHJ youngsters to the Valencia Orange Show at Anaheim, Amandus Zoellner announced the program and presented artist pupils of the Conservatory which was founded by his father.

The violin students of Amandus Zoellner were heard to splendid advantage: Robert Harthun in a group of three selections of which perhaps the most popular was the Kreisler, "Schon Rosmarin;" Greta Scholtens, playing the difficult "Romance from Second Concerto," by Wieniawski, one of the strongest players in the later nineteenth century; and Henry Tardiff offering another popular Kreisler number, "The Old Refrain."

One of the features of the evening broadcast was the group of numbers given by the String Ensemble, which consists of fifteen violins, including Margaret Squires, W. E. Dare, Evelyn Corbett, Violet Saxon, Greta Scholtens, Cyril Rockett, George Ricca, Frances Hudson, Henry Tardiff, Michael Bilpusch, Don Martin, Robert Harthun, Alphonso Brennan and Wallace Wood.

RARE TECHNIQUE

An ensemble such as this one is seldom heard and it proved to be a decided novelty. The players displayed rare technique and perfect intonation all of which reflects considerable credit to Amandus Zoellner, director of the group.

The piano pupils of Joseph Zoellner, Jr., included Katherine Brinkman and William Ludlam, while Betty Dartnell, 'cellist, is a pupil of Antoinette Zoellner.

The work of these young musicians was of particularly high caliber and a continuation of their program over radio is well assured both for the encouragement it gives to the pupils and for the pleasure and enjoyment to listeners-in. During their KHJ program last evening Don Marlin, local attorney, gave a brief talk on the educational value of music.

The Conservatory was founded by Joseph Zoellner, Sr., who is always a part of the Thursday night KHJ broadcast with his family of two sons and daughter, comprising the Zoellner Quartet. Cyril Rockett is managing director of the Conservatory.

CHILDREN'S HOUR

The children's hour, with Elva Allman as guest announcer, included: Barbara Ann Neale, in readings; Gerald Thompson, 9 years of age, in guitar solos; Henrietta Poland, "Forget-me-not," with recitations; Naomi Goldwasser, 11-year-old pianist, in solos; and the Los Angeles Music School Settlement Choral Club, assisted by Vernon Greenlaw, youthful pianist and pupil of the Zoellner Conservatory, together with a brief talk by Carrie Stone Freeman, founder and president of the Music School Settlement Association.

Anne McPherson is director of the Choral Club, and besides the ensemble numbers last evening, there were vocal numbers by Julia Carlson and Forest York, both members of the group of youngsters comprising the club. The numbers on the settlement program included German, Irish, French, Norwegian and Italian selections.

Speakers on the broadcast were Rev. George F. Orioss, pastor of the Congregational Church at Palms, with the scripture reading; Thomas F. Ford, literary editor of the Sunday Times, with the weekly book chat; and Rev. Kenneth Beam, former executive secretary of the Council on International Relations, delivering the weekly radio address sponsored by that organization.

Wife Cold to His Eloquence Termed Cruel

It really was an affecting address that Harry Edward Davenport of Bellflower delivered on the occasion of his retirement as head of his lodge, as he described the event in his complaint in a suit filed yesterday.

Stalwart brethren of the lodge were visibly moved by his eloquence and as for himself, the tears streamed down his cheeks, Davenport related. His wife, Minnie Christian Davenport, was among his auditors. But did she give him any credit? She did not.

"I do not see anything to cry about in what you said," was her comment, Davenport declared.

And that was the kind of a wife she was, he said. It was cruel to him and caused him mental anguish, such as is contemplated by the code as sufficient cause for a divorce, Davenport submitted.

Court Obliging on Question of Jurisdiction

"Service" is the watchword and motto of the Superior Court of the State of California, Presiding Judge Wood declared yesterday, when the complaint of Charles Campbell was brought to his attention.

Campbell is defendant in a divorce suit started by his wife, Golda Campbell. Her attorneys, S. S. Hahn and Benjamin Lewis, obtained an order for him to show cause why he should not pay alimony. The order directed him to show cause in Los Angeles. Campbell complained that as he is a resident of Orange county the Los Angeles court has no jurisdiction over him.

"Well, if Mr. Campbell won't come to the lawsuit, we'll just send the lawsuit to him," Judge Wood observed as he wrote an order transferring the case to Orange county. "He'll find they have plenty of jurisdiction on hand there."

DIET and HEALTH by Lulu Hunt Peters, M.D.

MAYBE YOU NEED THIS?

Dear Followers:

Please do not depend upon personal answers from me for conditions that have to have the immediate attention of a physician. And do not depend on the column for such advice, for even though your questions can be answered in the column and answered immediately, it would be at least four weeks before the answer can appear.

My Diet and Health column is a syndicated feature, appearing all over the United States and Canada. It is written and sent out from New York. This means that it has to be prepared three or four weeks in advance. The column creates great interest wherever it appears, and the combined mail from the different places is enormous. In order to be able to handle this and to be helpful to you, there are certain rules which we have formulated which you must follow. Unless these rules are complied with, your letters cannot receive any attention.

First: Address your letters to me in care of this paper. They will be forwarded to my New York City office. Sign your name as evidence of good faith. It will not be used in any way. (When I answer you in the column I use one initial.)

Second: Write legibly and with a pen—if your handwriting is not clear, get somebody to write for you; or use a typewriter. Do not write more than 200 words. Remember the number of letters I get!

Third: When you ask for material which we have offered, you must inclose a large sized, self-addressed, stamped envelope (s.a.s.e.) The address must include your full name, street and number, city or town, and State. The booklet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must include 10 cents in loose stamps. Do not send money—it is too easily lost in the mails. (Only one booklet can be sent with each request.)

Fourth: Do not ask for diagnosis or for individual treatment. Do not ask questions that are not of general interest and answerable in the column. You must see your personal physician for such information. Watch my daily articles for something similar to the questions you want discussed, and consider yourself answered when you see them, whether your initials are appended or not. I must answer questions collectively in order to save time and space.

Fifth: Allow at least three weeks to elapse before thinking your request for material has gone astray or is not answered because you have not followed the rules. Allow a much longer period of time for an answer to appear in the column, if it can appear.

Don't forget to inclose a fully self-addressed and stamped envelope with your request for any material which we have offered (and the 10 cents in stamps if you ask for the booklet on reducing and gaining.)

I feel like adding a last rule. It is this: Save some of your 200 words to continue telling me how much you enjoy the column and how much benefit you are deriving from it. Such a message is an inspiration to me and to the followers and makes our work happier and therefore more helpful.

YOUR BABY and MINE

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope, forwarded to this office, will bring a personal reply.

Mrs. L. N. writes: Will you tell me through the paper whether a little girl of 3½ years requires any sort of corset waist to support her back or hold in her "tummy"? I dress my healthy little girl with a light woolen combination, woolen dress and panties. This is all she wears as the panties are held up by an elastic and her half-length hose also with an elastic. So she has no real need of a corset waist for support. She has a rather more than protruding abdomen. If this condition stays with her she will grow self-conscious and many people tell me she should wear a corset waist. But I can not see where any benefit would be derived. However, if you think she needs one I shall get it for her."

Answer

It is more than possible that the "panties" with an elastic band cause the large abdomen to be accentuated while if the child wore a small muslin waist with the panties buttoned to it that the waist line would not be so prominent. As this is the classic way to dress small children and as I am not greatly in favor of elastic bands around the waist, anyway, it might be worth while trying the waist.

A Satisfied Baby

Mrs. A. B. B. writes: My boy is 10 weeks old and weighs eleven pounds. At first he gained from six to seven ounces a week but for the last three or four weeks he has gained less and less and this week gained but an ounce. He is fed regularly every four hours and sleeps well and seems contented. He sleeps from ten to six without feeding. I do not want to wean him this summer. How can I keep enough milk for him?

Answer

Your problem is still not vital so long as the baby sleeps very well and is contented and satisfied. The lack of gain may be merely a temporary one and next week will more than make up for this week's lack. I shall be delighted to send you the leaflet containing the ideal diet for the nursing mother, for a self-addressed and stamped envelope, please—and also suggest that you nurse the baby on both breasts if he seems dissatisfied at any meal.

The leaflet which Mrs. Eldred offers to the above reader will be mailed to any other mother upon receipt of a stamped self-addressed envelope and a request for the leaflet on "Prenatal Care and the Diet for the Nursing Mother."

PUREE A LA ST. GERMAIN

Cook one quart of shelled peas with a leek, a bunch of parsley, and a tablespoonful of butter in water to cover. Rub through a sieve, add a teaspoonful of sugar, salt, pepper and nutmeg to season, and two cupfuls of veal stock. Reheat, and thicken with the yolks of two eggs, beaten smooth in one cupful of cream.

FRIED CHICKEN

Cut a tender chicken in pieces; dip the pieces in water; sprinkle them with salt and pepper, and roll them in flour; saute them in a tablespoonful of lard or butter, browning both sides; then remove and add to the pan a tablespoonful of flour; cook it for a minute without browning, stirring all the time, and add a cupful of milk or cream; stir until it is a little thickened; strain; mix into it a tablespoonful of chopped parsley. Place the sauce on the serving dish and arrange the pieces of chicken on it.

CREAMED POTATOES

Cut cold boiled potatoes that are a little underdone into dice or into slices one-eighth of an inch thick. Put them into a saucepan with enough milk or cream to cover them and cook until the potatoes have absorbed nearly all the milk; then to every two cupfuls of potato add one tablespoonful of butter, one-half teaspoonful of salt, a dash of pepper, and, just before serving, a teaspoonful of parsley chopped very fine; or a white sauce may be made, using cream, if convenient, and the potatoes placed in it just long enough to heat them; or a cream sauce may be poured over hot boiled potatoes; then sprinkle with parsley.

TOMATO FARCI

Cut the tomatoes in halves; place them in a frying pan, the open side down in one-half inch deep hot fat. Move them about until they are cooked tender. Then lift them carefully without breaking, and place them side by side in a baking dish. Pour a little oil around them; sprinkle with chopped garlic, and parsley, salt and pepper and cayenne. Bake in hot oven fifteen to twenty minutes. Serve in same dish.

CHICKEN SALAD RAVIGOTE

Saute two-thirds of a cupful of English walnut meats, broken in bits, until brown, in butter, cool, and add two cupfuls of diced chicken, marinate in French dressing, and add one cupful of celery. Cover with mayonnaise ravigote and serve on lettuce.

HONGKONG CUP

Two cupfuls of cold tea, four cupfuls of water, juice of two lemons, four tablespoonfuls of chopped preserved ginger, two tablespoonfuls of ginger syrup, one-half cupful of sugar and one cupful of chopped cherries; pour into cold bottle.

VISITING EDITOR HONORED AT TEA

Joy Elmer Morgan Praises Los Angeles Teachers

Says Citizenship Standards in Their Keeping

Five Hundred Participate in Elks' Club Event

Whether Los Angeles shall become a city of distinguished citizens or merely a great city of several million persons rests with the teachers of the public schools, Joy Elmer Morgan, editor of the journal for the National Education Association, told 500 representatives of the school department yesterday afternoon at a tea given in his honor at the Elks' Club.

"The future of the nation lies in the hands of the teachers, and the inspiration you put into your work in arousing in the hearts of your students the civic spirit and the spirit of leadership will determine their future," the speaker said. "No group is more important in the national life than the teaching group, and the higher the standard of education the greater the sphere of influence."

Mr. Morgan deplored the fact that there still were a million children under instruction from teachers who had less than an eighth-grade education. He commended the Los Angeles school system and Mrs. Susan M. Dorsey, its superintendent, and declared that the organization is one of the most outstanding in the United States.

Miss Gladys Moorhead, president of the City Teachers' Club, presided, and Mrs. Susan M. Dorsey and Mrs. Carrie Bryant, one of the recently nominated candidates as a member of the Board of Education, spoke briefly. Others at the table were John B. Beman, Robert L. Burns, Frederick R. Feitshans and officers of educational organizations and leading educators from the public schools.

AVERAGE MAN LOOKS BELOW THE AVERAGE

Hundreds of sources have been searched by Harry L. Hollingsworth, a Columbia University psychologist, to enable him to draw a picture of what he calls the average man. A writer in the New York Times reports the findings. According to the composite picture of thousands of men studied, the average man lives to be fifty-three years of age, weighs 150 pounds and is sixty-seven inches tall. He leaves school at the end of the eighth grade, has a smattering of local geography and history and an elementary knowledge of physiology. His general knowledge of civics, politics and literature is lacking and he can speak only one language. His mental test shows a score equal to a normal 14-year-old boy.

The average man works with his hands and his occupation is not much superior to that of his father. He marries early and has from three to five children. The family is supported on an income that does not run much more than $1000 a year. Considerable nonsense and superstition is accepted by the average man, and although he does not take much part in religious effort, he has some decided ideas about morality. Conversation with the average man is limited largely to personalities and the weather. He has great respect for what he calls common sense and is inclined to believe that he possesses that quality in a high degree.

The average man falls a prey to quack character analysts, medicine salesmen with unsound investment schemes and persons who have something to sell on the payment plan. Beyond his own trade he is not very well informed. Among his beliefs are theories about planting crops at certain times of the moon and he is firmly convinced that lightning never strikes twice in the same place. He belongs to one of the leading political parties and is a nominal member of an orthodox church. This is a partial summing up of Hollingsworth's findings.

CLEVER OLD DUCK

The growing practice of bird banding is revealing surprising instances of the longevity of birds. The United States biological survey has recently received a return record of a pintail duck treated for duck sickness in Utah by Dr. Alexander Wetmore of the Smithsonian Institution in September, 1914. The duck was cured and released by Dr. Wetmore after having affixed to it biological survey band No. 819. In October, 1926, the bird was shot by H. W. Seybert in California, showing that the band had been carried for more than twelve years. Since the duck was a full-grown bird fully a year old when it was released, it must have been at least thirteen years old when shot. Scientists commenting on the incident in the ornithological journal Condor regard it as "a most remarkable record in view of the fact that each season it had run the gauntlet of hunters and also had escaped the poisonous alkali areas, where many thousands of ducks die annually from duck sickness and other natural enemies."—[Washington Post.

LIGHTS COMMEMMORATE BATTLE

The famous Minuteman statue on the green at Lexington, Mass., which commemmorates the encounter at the outbreak of the Revolutionary War between the British troops and the "embattled farmers" during which was fired the "shot that was heard around the world," was electrically floodlighted April 19 and 20 to celebrate the 150th anniversary of the Battle of Lexington.

This was done by the electric service company which serves Boston, Lexington and other communities in the vicinity and was so effective that the town authorities are considering the installation of a permanent electric floodlighting equipment for this historic statue.

The temporary equipment consisted of a battery of four 500-watt lamps, mounted twenty-seven feet from the ground on poles and ninety feet distant from the statue, and also a fifth 500-watt unit to light up the national colors displayed from a flag staff set up on this historic spot.

BETTER FARM BUILDING

The farmers of Kansas are building better farm structures as the result of a distribution of blue prints which are made by the State Agricultural Department. Since December 1, last, 1362 blue prints have been sent to applicants in different parts of the State. Each county agent in Kansas has a complete file of all the agricultural college's plans for farm buildings, which are available to any one on request.

The demand for blue prints is considered another phase of a growing tendency to organize and systematize the farm so that it may produce the maximum profit and comfort.

TEN THOUSAND THRILL AT RODEO

Two Cowboys Injured Throwing Steer

ALL that the great wide open spaces ever boasted of was concentrated in a neat and active package and presented to 25,000 spectators yesterday afternoon and evening when more than 300 cowboys, cowgirls and Indians opened the First Los Angeles National Rodeo at the Los Angeles Coliseum. From the grand parade that opened the rodeo until the last wild horse had been subdued yesterday yesterday's programs were packed full of action and thrills.

As one of the audience remarked: "If the old West is passing she is certainly going out strong!"

Adding to the pleasure of the spectacle, the events were notably free from the usual cloud of dust so often associated with like events, the Coliseum grounds being liberally coated with sand.

Those who still hold the belief that cows are led to the slaughter will do well to take a trip to the Coliseum and see just how difficult it is to tame a piece of live beef. Likewise, the popular expression about shaking a wicked hoof will have considerably more significance.

Attesting to the difficulty of properly corralling a good live steer, many of the cowboy contestants in the steer - stopping event, which requires that the cowboy jump from a horse's back to that of a running steer and then throw the animal to the earth, resulted in injuries in two cases, narrow escapes in other instances and many bad falls. Shorty Ricker won this event, throwing the bull, so to speak, in the remarkably short time of 20 4-5 seconds.

A good cowboy like Hugh Strickland can rope and tie a calf in 30 seconds, as Strickland demonstrated to win the calf-roping contest, and later he subdued a steer in 30 seconds to win that contest, too.

The wild-horse riding, of course, was one of the main features of the program. Horses bearing such descriptive names as Heslike-it, Satan, Chile Bean, Gray Demon, Juniper Jim and Invalid did their worst. Incidentally Invalid was the meanest one in the bunch heaving Blondy Stewart into the air and then stepping on him after the forced descent. Several of the animals had a corkscrew method of dislocating anything clinging to their backs that was generally productive of results.

The program was not limited, however, to the usual cowboy riding and roping. Keeping the audience in constant laughter, two cowboy clowns cavorated about. They were aided in their antics by several well-trained animals.

Aside from the two accidents on the night program, however, the rodeo was a complete success from the spectators' point of view.

A Roman horse race in which each contestant rides two horses—standing up with a foot on each horse—resulted in a tangle of horses and men on the west turn of the Coliseum track last night, and Arthur Shriber, 30 years of age, of Riverside, was pulled from the pile-up with two broken ribs and other bruises. Carl Arnold, another rider, was also slightly injured in the same accident.

Shortly after, while the cowboys were staging a pony express relay ride, Lloyd Craig of Stockton, Cal., was kicked and seriously injured while hurriedly trying to change mounts. Both Craig and Shriber were given first-aid treatment by Drs. Plimpton and Elliott at the Coliseum grounds and then hurried to the Receiving Hospital, where it was declared that Craig was injured internally.

Adding diversity to the more hectic events, were cowboys' relay races, a Roman standing race, an Indian dance by a Flathead tribe from Montana, fancy and trick riding and roping by cowboys and cowgirls, who hold national championships in the various events, and other events.

In addition to the interest stimulated by the various events, visitors to the rodeo were rewarded by the sight of a fine collection of stock, particularly the cowboys' horses, which not only were obviously in fine condition, but were well trained for their duties. The racing horses made remarkably good time around the arena, and even the calves and steers seemed disposed to sprint when the occasion demanded. Two performances will be given each day at the Coliseum until Sunday night.

TROJAN CLASS WILL AID NEW BUILDING

Trojan students of the class of 1927 have decided that their gift to their alma mater in June will be the corner-stone of the new students' union building. The scite, at Thirty-sixth street and University avenue, where the new students' building is to stand, has just been vacated by the Associated Students' Store. The senior road show, student dramatic performance, last night was the means selected by the class to finance the corner-stone gift for the new all-university activity building, which will be completed next year.

SERIOUS INJURY LAID TO HIT-AND-RUN AUTO

A man identified as Dave Kudnoff of 112 South Glees street, was found unconscious and probably dying last night at Sixth street and Boyle avenue, and is believed to have been the victim of a hit-and-run driver. Kudnoff was taken to Receiving Hospital, where Dr Sebastian found he has a basal skull fracture. Police were instructed to search for the supposed driver.

Negro Bandits Rob Autoists of Cash and Gems

Two negro bandits held up Mr. and Mrs. L. Goodman of 915 East Poppy street, Pasadena, last night on the Telegraph Road near Hines, and robbed them of diamonds valued at $900 and $80 in cash.

The robbers, according to Mr. Goodman's report to the police, had their car parked at the side of the road when the Goodman automobile came up. One of the bandits jumped out with a gun and commanded Mr. Goodman and his wife to get out. After stripping the couple of their valuables, the negroes escaped.

SAND BETTER THAN SOAP

It is a matter of great importance that the lenses of the signal lamps in the railroad yard should be kept perfectly clean at all times, but owing to the oil and grime this is a difficult thing to do. The use of soap and water is attended by many disadvantages and has not been found as efficient as might be desired. The use of a sand-blast for this purpose has been tried in the yards of the Chicago terminal with great success. The lenses are cleaned perfectly at an expenditure of much less time and labor.

Murphy & Sons of Burgoon, owners of the Hunker well, are drilling the new well.

MINNEAPOLIS

MINNEAPOLIS, May 21. (Exclusive) Prospects of an increase of 452,000 bushels in the 1927 winter wheat crop, and an increase of 689,000 bushels in rye over the 1926 production were announced by Paul H. Kirk, Minnesota agricultural statistician, following a survey of conditions throughout the State. The forecast for winter wheat is 9,702,000 bushels, against 9,270,000 bushels produced in 1926, while for rye the figures are 5,643,000 bushels against 4,954,000 bushels last year.

Mr. Broderick was 38 years of age.

ST. PAUL

ST. PAUL, May 20. (Exclusive)—Records have been established for automobile registration in Minnesota. Mike Holm, Secretary of State, reports that 591,367 automobiles have been licensed. Income to the State for highway purposes from the collections total $9,185,873.63, fully 10 per cent more than last year. In 1926, from May 13 to the end of the year, a total of 84,977 new cars were registered, bringing in $1,234,909. If the 10 per cent increase holds good for 1927, Mr. Holm pointed out, collections for the year will near the $11,000,000 mark.

Fire of an undetermined origin swept through the McCarthy Hotel at Detroit Lakes and spread to two adjoining buildings which were gutted, causing damage estimated at $100,000. The fire was discovered in the kitchen of a cafe in the hotel building and spread to the adjoining buildings of the Lyonsmith meat market and the Carman-Christianson drug store. The buildings are located in the business district.

Simon S. Strauss, pioneer merchant of Albert Lea and vice-president of the First National Bank, dropped dead at his palatial home. Announcement was made at Pontiac that Central Methodist Church has taken an option on the Hoffman property, one of the most beautiful spots in the city, across from the Pontiac High School. It is understood that a price of $200,000 is indicated in the transaction. # 'KING OF KINGS' GONG DISPLAYED

Now Shown at Manufacturers' Exhibit

Sally Rand and "Prop"

THE huge copper gong, built like a six-sided star, which figures largely in the temple wherein the high priest, Caiaphirs appears in "The King of Kings," formed a pedestal yesterday for Sally Rand, De Mille film star. When she heard that the big gong was installed as part of the De Mille display in the Southern California Manufacturer's Exhibit, 130 South Broadway, she tripped down to have a look. She was posed and pictured with the gong.

The gong is made of copper bronze, very heavy, and stands five feet high It is one of several notable features of the De Mille display, which will be augmented, now that the opening of the picture has taken place Several events in connection with the run of the picture are being arranged for the Manufacturers' Exhibit and will be given both at the De Mille booth and in the Patio garden.

APPLESAUCE CAKE SHOWN WYMAN CLASS

The making of pound cake requires a good strong right arm, Mrs. Mabelle E. Wyman told her Friday afternoon class in cookery, yesterday at the exhibit, 130 South Broadway, but applesauce cake, commended for its keeping qualities, may be made speedily, as the instructor and her assistant proceeded to demonstrate.

Other demonstrations yesterday afternoon were a highly decorative potato salad, Bavarian cream, a salmon and rice loaf, the recipe for which was created on the platform, and cheese biscuits. Mrs. Wyman also gave suggestions for a midnight supper, and answered questions concerning household problems and recipes.

Mme. Valentine, whose successful demonstrations of the making of paper flowers have been a decided feature of the manufacturers' exhibit, will give one of her interesting classes at the exhibit hall, 130 South Broadway, in the Southwest Building, this morning. Mme. Valentine makes these flowers from paper with her hands alone, using various colors as they are in nature, and her method is so simple that almost anyone can learn the process from her. On the opening day she was the center of attraction, and many requests for a subsequent appearance have been made She will be featured frequently from now on in this field.

Children are especially invited to the exhibit today and every effort will be made to entertain them with demonstrations suitable to their years. Exhibitors will unite to this end throughout the day.

BOOK SWALLOWED BY COD

Robert Burton, in his "Admirable Curiosities," relates the following remarkable circumstance relative to this re-publication.

"Upon Midsummer's-eve, 1626, a codfish was brought to the market in Cambridge, and there cut up for sale, and in the maw thereof was found a book in twelves, bound up in canvas containing several treatises of Mr. John Frith's. This fish was caught upon the coasts of Lin, called Lindress, by one William Skinner; the fish being cut open, the garbage was thrown by, which a woman looking upon espied the canvas, and, taking it out, found the booked wrapped up in it, which was much soiled, and covered over with a kind of slime and congealed matter; this was looked upon with great admiration, and by Benjamin Prime, the Bachelor's beadle, who was present at the opening of the fish, was carried to the vice-chancellor, who took special notice of it, examining the particulars before mentioned. The leaves of the book were carefully opened and cleansed; and the treatises contained in it, were, "A Preparation for Death;" the "Treasure of Knowledge;" a mirror, or looking-glass, to know themselves by, a brief instruction to teach one willing to die and not to fear death. They were all reprinted under the title of "Vox Piscis, or the Book Fish;" with a preface in which it is attributed to Frith, but Wood, in his Athenae Oxonienis, says that Richard Tracy was the author and that the preparation was first published at London in 1546."—[Market for Exchange.

THE FRENCH MATCH MONOPOLY

The French government has long held the manufacture of matches as monopoly, but there is a proposition now to dispose of it to a private corporation, which will turn over a certain proportion of the profits to the government. It is claimed that the monopoly has never been a very profitable one and that the matches were the poorest in the world. The suggestion is exciting a great deal of discussion and there is a violent opposition to the proposed change.

MISS "TIMES" GREETS "JUNIOR"

Their costumes were made of editions of the papers they represented.

MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS—

MISS HELEN TALKS
"I have a big job on my hands. The sales made in one annual sale 1927 other day and counted up just 177 pianos that were very much in the way." He said: "Helen, I'll just give you 3 times 7 days, 21 days in all to clean up the piano and radio stock in this big 10-story storage warehouse." Now, I'll tell you what that's some task you have mapped out for poor little me, just a little bit of a girl, to clean out a warehouse of in some old way, 177 pianos, to say nothing of over 1000 radios." "Well, said the boss, "I will make it easy for you by making a low price for the good people in Los Angeles and by cutting prices on the rare stock of pianos and radios we have, you will have a regular picnic moving the big stock of musical instruments. So here goes, folks. If you ever expect to buy a piano just drop down at once and make your selection. New and used models, hundreds of the world's best makes. Practice pianos as low as $10, $12 and $15. Oh, Boy! And such prices on player pianos, $45 and $65 and up on the players. And the rest, dainty baby grand pianos, little beauties that will capture the eye of any girl longing for a baby grand piano. Well, you ought to pay all cash, but just to move the big stock in its time, you can buy a piano for $10 down and $5 month, every deal guaranteed. Here's a swell tip for dealers. Come on, bring your trucks, drays and load up. I have sold hundreds of pianos out of this big 10-story storage warehouse, but the big carnival supreme in piano bargains is here, June brides, take notice. Start life right. Put some music in the home. Sure, we are a little out of the way—but—you are going to save hundreds of dollars if you will come to come down and see me. I've got a bunch of girls that know their stuff. No fancy fixings down this way, we will just dish out the bargains in the good old-fashioned way. Come on, we are off! Ask for Miss Helen. How to get there—take E. 1st car to Alpine and N. Broadway, walk one block east to the big 10-story storage warehouse, 500 N. Spring St. Scads of parking space for your Ford or Cadillac. No time limit for parking. Phone CH. 1441."
